Alternative Temporalities Teresa Valentini, Angela Weiser, John Zilcosky, 2024-11-30 Alternative temporalities have often emerged as a reaction to the normativizing force of time demonstrating that time can be used as an instrument of power and oppression but also as a means to resist this very oppression Alternative Temporalities draws on analyses of modern literature to examine this often neglected role of time By exploring forms of temporal resistance in artistic representation such as short stories and novels that challenge the imposition of colonial gender or capitalist temporal orders the book reveals how storytelling can be an essential tool in questioning and pushing back against coercive temporal structures The book analyses literary representations of time that challenge dominant temporalities and intersect different disciplines such as gender and sexuality studies trauma and Indigenous studies race and identity and religion It features narrative analyses proposing alternative embodied experiences of time focusing on topics including the temporality of the AIDS affected body the experience of time in prison and slowness in opposition to modern acceleration Ultimately Alternative Temporalities aims to create new theories as well as practices that may foster more diverse and inclusive ways of perceiving and embodying time

Derek Jarman Rowland Wymer, 2019-01-04 This book gives detailed and original critical readings of all eleven of Derek Jarman's feature length films arguing that he occupies a major and influential place in European and world cinema rather than merely being a cult figure It places particular emphasis on the importance of Renaissance art and literature for Jarman and emphasises his interest in Jungian psychology Wymer shows how Jarman used his films to take his audience with him on an inner journey in search of the self whilst remaining fully aware of the dangers of such a journey Making substantial use of Jarman's unpublished papers as well as all his published works Wymer argues that the films are orientated towards a much wider audience than is often supposed They are addressed to anyone of whatever gender or sexuality who is prepared to go on a journey in search of him or her self and to become Jarman's accomplice in the dream world of the soul

Vision and Blindness in Film Dago Schelin, 2019-02-13 In order to understand vision we have to look into concepts of blindness both diegetically in typical film characters and in the representation of sight or lack thereof A critical historical investigation into theories of vision shows that the way we understand visuality today scientifically and culturally is very different from pre modern notions and practices In this book Dago Schelin questions categories such as active and passive vision tactile visuality as well as blind vision and discusses them alongside a variety of movies that deal with vision and blindness Is there a connection between the filmmaker's gaze and an older pre Keplerian ontology of vision What is the role of sound in vision Are our eyes mere camcorders or might they be projectors These and other questions comprise the fascinating journey on which this study to respond to a key question of modernist art What is painting By analyzing an array of modernist paintings Guerin demonstrates that grey has a unique history and a legitimate identity as a color She traces its use by painters as far back as medieval and Renaissance art through Romanticism to nineteenth and twentieth century modernism to show how grey is the perfect color to address the questions asked by painting within art history and to articulate the relationship between painting and the historical world of industrial modernity A work of exceptional erudition breadth and clarity presenting an impressive range of canonical paintings across centuries as examples The Truth Is Always Grey is a treatise on color that allows us to see something entirely new in familiar paintings and encourages our appreciation for the innovation and dynamism of the color grey
