Blue Calhoun A Novel:

Blue Calhoun Reynolds Price, 1992 Since the publication of his famous first novel A Long and Happy Life Price has been accorded the praise and admiration reserved for America's most distinguished writers. Now he has written the most searching, most passionate novel of his rich and varied career. Blue Calhoun the narrator looks back over his past from the mid 1950s to the present.

The Christ-Haunted Landscape Susan Ketchin, 2009-11-12 Here are Susan Ketchin's discerning interviews with twelve southerners living and writing in the South and along with a piece of fiction by each are her penetrating commentaries about the impact of southern religious experience on their work. A little more than a generation ago Flannery O'Connor made a startling observation about herself and her fellow southerners. By and large she said people in the South still conceive of humanity in theological terms. While the South is hardly Christ-centered it is most certainly Christ-haunted. The southerner who isn't convinced of it is very much afraid that he may have been formed in the image and likeness of God. Guided by O'Connor's perceptive commentary about southerners in general, Susan Ketchin has created a deeply revealing collection that mirrors the pervasive role of religion in the literature by the recent generation of notable southern writers. Ketchin confirms that old-time religion remains a potent force in the literature of the contemporary South.

Magill's Literary Annual 1993 Frank Northen Magill, 1993 Reviews of significant fiction and nonfiction published in 1992. Provides coverage for works that are likely to be of particular interest to the general reader that reflect the publishing trends of a given year and that will stand up to the test of time.

Understanding Reynolds Price James A. Schiff, 1996 This critical analysis of Price's writings traces the development of an esteemed American writer from the 1962 publication A Long and Happy Life. Demonstrating how literary trends have often run counter to Price's career, Schiff argues that Price has remained committed to a personal vision.

BITCH CREEK: A NOVEL William G. Tapply, 2005-11-01 It's wonderful to see Tapply get out of the city and into an altogether different kind of time that suits his unhurried storytelling perfectly. Kirkus Reviews Outstanding electrifying ingenious one of the most convincingly heroic and likeable of contemporary sleuths. Publishers Weekly Tapply is a worthy successor to Hammet and both MacDonalds. Ross and John Chicago Tribune William G. Tapply has created a fresh new world in Bitch Creek, a steamy perfectly crafted mystery introducing Stoney Calhoun, an unlikely hero. Stoney is a man without a past. A tragic event has obliterated his memory and he has been given as so many might like to receive a chance to reinvent himself. That's not an easy task when a man doesn't know anything about himself except that he is smart and utterly self-reliant. Stoney is driven by a current from within. He has settled in Maine and has become a fishing guide and he's busy reeducating himself. He's also in love and he is slowly coming to terms with the sometimes ghostly glimpses of his past. Life is sweet until someone close to him is murdered and Stoney suspects that he himself was the intended target. In a riveting process of investigation and self-discovery, Stoney delves deep into the mysteries of the murder and begins unwittingly to uncover vital truths about himself. In Bitch Creek, Tapply has created a unique and intensely likeable protagonist He has fashioned an ingenious plot that exquisitely unfolds along with simultaneous layers of personality and intrigue With stunning surprises and dead on dialogue Bitch Creek will be hailed along with Stoney Calhoun as Tapply s latest brilliant creation Encyclopedia of the American Novel Abby H. Rapport, 1991 The Obits: The New York Times

Annual 2012 William McDonald, 2011-11-11 The obits It's the first section many of us turn to when we open the paper not to see who died but rather to find out about who lived to discover the interesting lives of people who've made a mark. A new annual that collects nearly 300 of the best of The New York Times obituaries from the previous year. The Obits Annual 2012 is a compelling addictive as salted peanuts who's who of some of the most fascinating people of the twentieth century. Written by top journalists each entry is a jewel a miniature nuanced biography filled with the facts we love to read with the surprise and serendipity of life. There's David L. Wolper the producer of Roots and the story of how he got his start purchasing film footage from Sputnik. The jazz singer Abbey Lincoln and her change from glamorous performer she owned a dress of Marilyn Monroe's to civil rights activist she burned the Monroe dress. Owsley Stanley the quirky perfecter of LSD who blamed a heart attack on the fact that his mother made him eat broccoli as a child. Patricia Neal known by most as a movie star but her real life filled with tragedy adversity and incredible professional ups and downs is almost a surreal play of triumph and tragedy. Arranged chronologically like the obits themselves it's a deliciously random walk through the recent past meeting the philosophers newsmen spies publishers moguls soul singers baseball managers Nobel Prize winners models and others who've shaped the world.

Justice in Young Adult Speculative Fiction Marek C. Oziewicz, 2015-04-17 This book is the first to offer a justice focused cognitive reading of modern YA speculative fiction in its narrative and filmic forms. It links the expansion of YA speculative fiction in the 20th century with the emergence of human and civil rights movements with the communitarian revolution in conceptualizations of justice and with spectacular advances in cognitive sciences as applied to the examination of narrative fiction. Oziewicz argues that complex ideas such as justice are processed by the human mind as cognitive scripts that scripts when narrated take the form of multiply indexable stories and that YA speculative fiction is currently the largest conceptual testing ground in the forging of justice consciousness for the 21st century world. Drawing on recent research in the cognitive and evolutionary sciences Oziewicz explains how poetic retributive restorative environmental social and global types of justice have been represented in narrative fiction from 19th century folk and fairy tales through 21st century fantasy dystopia and science fiction. Suggesting that the appeal of these and other nonmimetic genres is largely predicated on the dream of justice Oziewicz theorizes new justice scripts as conceptual tools essential to help humanity survive the qualitative leap toward an environmentally conscious culturally diversified global world. This book is an important contribution to studies of children's and YA speculative fiction adding a new perspective to discussions about the educational as well as social potential of nonmimetic genres. It demonstrates that the justice imperative is very much alive in YA speculative fiction creating new visions of justice relevant to contemporary challenges.
