Blue Justice:

Blue Justice Svein Jentoft, Ratana Chuenpagdee, Alicia Bugeja Said, Moenieba Isaacs, 2022-03-07 For small scale fisheries around the world the Blue Growth and Blue Economy initiatives may provide sustainable development but only insofar as they align with the global consensus enshrined in the Voluntary Guidelines for Securing Sustainable Small Scale Fisheries in the context of Food Security and Poverty Eradication If states do nothing to fulfill the promises they made when they endorsed these guidelines in 2014 the Blue Economy will come at a loss for small scale fisheries and further their marginalization in the ocean economy Under the umbrella of Blue Justice this book demonstrates that these risks are real and must be considered as states implement their sustainable ocean development plans These are human rights issues which are embedded into governance principles and institutions and which make a difference for small scale fisheries people in their daily lives In stressing the importance of policies and institutions that build on the experiences of small scale fisheries people in the contexts in which they operate this book draws on case studies of small scale fisheries from countries on all continents to clarify what Blue Justice entails for small scale fisheries and make suggestions for real change Through the Blue Justice paradigm this book flags the relevance of recognizing the potential impact that different factors including the Blue Economy approach could bring to fishing communities their livelihoods cultural traditions and other potential multidimensional conflicts Vulnerability in fishing communities can increase and inequalities can be reinforced at different levels if individuals and community capabilities are not strengthened A first of its kind not to be missed this book is informative purposeful and pertinent in an era of change Silvia Salas CINVESTAV Marine Resources Department Mrida Mexico The studies reveal that Blue Justice is a governability issue which requires establishing right institutions that are transdisciplinary integrated participatory and holistic It is implicit from these writings that the SSF Guidelines and Blue Growth initiatives do not form two different discourses and that the implementation of the former would resolve many of the justice issues caused by the latter in favor of small scale fisheries and their communities Oscar Amarasinghe Professor Chancellor Ocean University of Sri Lanka and President Sri Lanka Forum for Small Scale Fisheries SLFSSF The Wicca Handbook Eileen Holland, 2025-09-12 The Wicca Handbook is both a tutorial for new witches and an exceptionally well organized reference book for experienced practitioners It guides us through the first steps in becoming a witch and explores many Wiccan traditions initiations and magical practices The Wiccan year the eight Sabbats along with many of its rituals and ceremonies are examined Holland also provides the background of every facet of witchcraft such as spells for every occasion psychic protection numerology basic astrology and the lore of stones metals candles animals and much more High Priestess Eileen Holland's helpful guide is rooted in practicality and intended as a working handbook not a simple beginner's guide The information is rich clear directions are given and its range of content is extensive Spells circles crystals and color magic herbs health and healing are all covered with abundant direction on how to do it when to do it and suggestions for seeking guidance from the deities Those who have been on their path for a few years will find this a great reference book to refer to time and again

Implementation of the Small-Scale Fisheries Guidelines Julia Nakamura, Ratana Chuenpagdee, Svein Jentoft, 2024-05-13 This book provides a transdisciplinary assessment of multiple countries legal and policy frameworks vis vis the Voluntary Guidelines for Securing Sustainable Small Scale Fisheries in the Context of Food Security and Poverty Eradication adopted in 2014 by the Committee on Fisheries of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations Based on an appraisal framework used to facilitate the unpacking of those frameworks this book collects country experiences and regional perspectives on a range of cross cutting issues underpinning the protection of the rights and the promotion of justice for small scale fishers and their communities This book aims to be the first collection to present a systematic and in depth assessment of existing national legal and policy frameworks vis vis the SSF Guidelines This assessment is done through the transdisciplinary and collaborative work of researchers governments and civil society organizations for the analysis of the cross thematic questions which the contributors of this book aim to address Firstly what are the relevant laws and policies that matter for securing rights of small scale fishers and their communities How are small scale fisheries defined by national laws and policies How are small scale fisheries treated i e specifically or generally in these instruments Are there specific provisions and references to small scale fisheries or any of its associated terminologies e g artisanal subsistence traditional indigenous Secondly how the relevant instruments address the 8 small scale fisheries key issues outlined in that rapid appraisal study What are the strengths and gaps in these instruments Do they address issues that are not covered by the SSF Guidelines Do they contribute to clarifying other legal issues that are relevant for sustainable small scale fisheries Finally since the book also aims to explore the accessibility of these legal and policy instruments for those to which they matter the most the small scale fishers the following questions were also considered What challenges do they face in knowing and understanding the relevant laws and policies in place Which tools measures and processes are available in the countries to ensure small scale fishers can claim for their rights To what extent judicial courts have recognized and or granted rights to small scale fishers Chapters 11 19 and 20 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer.com

International Law for Small-Scale Fisheries Julia N. Nakamura, 2025-03-27 This book provides an original and groundbreaking account of the applicability and key contributions of international law to small scale fisheries a fisheries subsector that has been historically overlooked by governments and international legal scholarship Small scale fisheries constitute most of the world s capture fisheries workforce they sustain the livelihoods of fishers and their communities while building and transmitting traditional knowledge and culture Significant attention has been given to small scale fisheries by the international community over the past decade building the momentum for dedicated research on such a topic Nevertheless the literature examining small scale fisheries from an international legal perspective remains scarce This book fills this gap by systemically examining different international legal regimes to unravel the normative foundations for securing the meaningful participation of small scale fisheries peoples in international fisheries management It connects the ecosystem approach a key principle of international fisheries law and the human rights regime to elucidate the benefits that participatory international fisheries management brings to enhance both the ecological and social aspects of fisheries sustainability It also examines the extent to which fisheries governance is democratic and provides an enabling framework for the integration of fishers knowledge into international fisheries management It is thereby oriented toward more justice and fair outcomes for small scale fisheries This book will be a valuable resource for academics and researchers with an interest in the governance of fisheries in international law the law of the sea environmental law and human rights law as well as to practitioners and policymakers working on the development and implementation of laws and policies governing fisheries and natural resources Global Challenges in Maritime Security Lisa Otto, Anja

Menzel, 2024-10-22 Achieving sustainability is perhaps the single most important task for our generation In the face of a looming climate disaster calls for the sustainable use of the world's resources are getting louder As the sea covers more than 70 per cent of the earth's surface this holds even more true for the use of ocean resources Despite its vastness the sea has often been a securitised and politicised space where the concepts of sustainability and security meet at sea in the form of a myriad of important contemporary issues In this volume we set out the intersection between sustainability and security alongside the security development nexus and examine these issues under four dimensions of security economic security ecological security human security and traditional security Within sections dedicated to each of these we explore both theory and practice by offering cases alongside a conceptual discussion and in so doing cover topics ranging from the Blue Economy and the net zero agenda to natural disasters and climate change from food security and the future of Small Island Developing States to the geopolitics of the Arctic This book takes a bird's eye view connecting the dots between these issues of security and sustainability and ending with scenarios for the future with policy making in mind This volume presents a timely and compelling argument that policymakers and scholars need to come to terms with the intersection of sustainability and security at sea The editors detail a clear and insightful conceptual approach for grasping the simultaneity and interplay of security and sustainability concerns that will give inspiration to further research in the field Chapter contributors convincingly illustrate aspects of this approach across regions scales and sites of political engagement from port cities to the UN A must read for students researchers and practitioners of ocean politics Elana Wilson Rowe Research Professor at the Norwegian Institute of International Affairs NUPI Too often issues of security and sustainability at sea have been studied in narrow terms This volume makes a critical contribution the literature by unpacking the interconnections and interdependence between these two vitally important issues Robert McCabe Assistant Professor and Director of the MA Maritime Security Programme at Coventry University In this timely publication an international set of contributors portray a rich array of views on the oceans security and sustainability for the reader Of particular value is how the security sustainability nexus runs through the chapters to emphasise the ever growing importance and relevance of this interplay

African ocean stewardship: Navigating ocean conservation and sustainable marine and coastal resource management in africa Jaco Barendse, Ifesinachi Okafor-Yarwood, Serge Raemaekers, Judy Mann-Lang, Pierre Failler, 2023-08-01

Single Season Sitcoms of the 1990s Bob Leszczak, 2018-09-14

During the Must See TV 1990s Americans enjoyed such immensely popular sitcoms as Friends Seinfeld Home Improvement and The Drew Carey Show Shows that did not make the ratings cut numbered in the hundreds the emergence of new networks and cable channels airing original programming resulted in a vast increase in short lived sitcoms over the previous decade Some of these flops were actually quite good and deserved a better fate The author revisits them along with the dramedies of the day with detailed entries providing production and broadcast information along with critical analyses and recollections by cast and crew members A subsection highlights sitcoms that returned for an abbreviated second season Dozens of cast and crew photographs are included

Governing for transformation towards sustainable small-scale fisheries Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, Berkes, F. (ed.), Franz, N. (ed.), 2025-02-21 This volume provides a human centered perspective building on the expanding horizon from biological and economic management to interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary aquatic resources governance It was prepared in celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Voluntary Guidelines for Securing Sustainable Small Scale Fisheries in the Context of Food Security and Poverty Eradication SSF Guidelines It also provides an update of Berkes book Coasts for People Interdisciplinary Approaches to Coastal and Marine Resource Management Routledge 2015 The original chapters of the book served as the first draft of seven of the chapters all of them rewritten with multiple authors total of 20 co authors and with an explicit focus on small scale fisheries through the lens of the SSF Guidelines Over the years aquatic resources governance has evolved For example the term resource which carried a sense of free goods and commodification of nature shifted in meaning to include biodiversity and ecosystem services The term management changed to include participation complexity and uncertainty The volume focuses on several subject areas as the key elements of an interdisciplinary science of aquatic governance These include holism and ecosystems view Chapter 2 coupled humans and environment systems Chapter 3 fishers knowledge Chapter 4 commons dilemmas Chapter 5 co management Chapter 6 livelihoods and sustainability Chapter 7 fishery systems resilience Chapter 8 and ecosystem and human rights based management Chapter 9 These interdisciplinary social science oriented approaches have shaped recent thinking about small scale fisheries helping empower fishers and fishworkers towards a more inclusive equitable sustainable and resilient subsector They also help meet Sustainable Development Goals particularly SDG1 No Poverty and SDG2 Zero Hunger consistent with the emphasis of SSF Guidelines on poverty eradication and food security The intended audience for the volume is broad based and includes fisheries and aquatic management practitioners and policymakers scientists and educators It is an invitation to a new generation of resource managers to be aware of how approaches and concepts have evolved over time to embrace the challenge of interdisciplinarity and complexity to advance the transformation towards sustainable small scale fisheries      The Unruly Ocean Erika Techera,Joy McCann,2024-11-13 This book introduces non specialist readers to the history of how human societies have sought to control use and exploit our oceans seas and shorelines over time in different geographical and cultural contexts The Unruly Ocean examines the development of the modern international legal regime the law of the sea maritime law marine environmental and pollution law fisheries regulation and underwater cultural heritage law and considers how effective these laws have been in addressing the many challenges facing marine and coastal environments ranging from piracy and war to oil spills and the extraction of marine resources It concludes by discussing the socio ecological crises facing the world s oceans seas and shorelines and explores current ideas for reimagining a legal regime that restores the health of our oceanic realm and offers a more holistic transboundary rights based approach to ocean governance This book will be of value to law and non law undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as research scholars and other educated audiences interested in a legal history of the world s oceans seas and shorelines      Financial Inclusion and Digital Transformation Regulatory Practices in Selected SADC Countries Howard Chitimira,Tapiwa Victor Warikandwa,2023-03-28 This book investigates the regulation and promotion of financial inclusion and provides a comparative analysis of the regulation promotion and enforcement of the relevant laws in the SADC in particular South Africa Namibia Botswana and Zimbabwe as well as the challenges of financial inclusion In turn it evaluates financial inclusion in the context of specific challenges faced by unbanked and underbanked customers who are easy targets for cyber criminals because they tend to have lower levels of digital literacy The book presents novel discussions that identify the challenges and flaws associated with the enforcement of financial inclusion laws and related measures intended to promote financial inclusion in the SADC region This is primarily done in order to reveal the current strengths and weaknesses of financial inclusion laws in relation to certain aspects of the companies securities and financial markets in the region For example there is no common financial inclusion instrument law that is effectively and uniformly applied throughout the SADC This has impeded the enforcement authorities efforts to effectively combat financial exclusion across the region The book is likely the most comprehensive study to date on the regulation and promotion of financial inclusion in the SADC region and fills a major gap in SADC and African legal jurisprudence As such it offers a valuable asset for policymakers attorneys bankers securities share holders and other market participants who deal with financial inclusion as well as undergraduate and graduate students interested in the topic      Reaping What She Sows Nancy Matsumoto,2025-10-28 A James Beard Award winner celebrates the women heroes who are fighting against the Big Food system and asks the question How should we eat When the Covid 19 pandemic ripped through global food supply chains it threatened the livelihoods of farmers created shortages in supermarkets and revealed a startling truth to consumers

the food system is broken and large corporations did the breaking An idea began to take hold what if we could return to a time when our needs were met by the farmers in our own communities rather than a commodity Big Food system that favors profit above all else With in depth on the ground reporting Nancy Matsumoto introduces readers to the women changemakers who are building out local and regional supply chains to combat the destructive effects of Big Food from the founder of a women led rice cooperative who is fighting Black land loss to the Indigenous women who own and operate the first kelp hatchery on the American east coast and more Reaping What She Sows offers a blueprint for what eating enjoyably sustainably and ethically looks like today Essential for those who are concerned about climate change their own health and the lack of choice and transparency in the global food supply chain

International Collaboration in Ocean Science and Governance Carolijn van Noort,2025-04-10 This book introduces a novel model to explain how the co design and co delivery of ocean science knowledge and solutions is influenced by ocean stakeholders with asymmetric power and resources policy incentives and ocean conflict ocean narratives different knowledge systems security concerns principles formal and informal rules and communication competences Using the International Collaboration in Ocean Science model as a basis the book advances with three lines of inquiry ontological security of ocean science participants the Ocean Decade and human well being and strategic narratives about international collaboration in ocean science Through these Carolijn van Noort shows the enabling and constraining conditions of co creating ocean knowledge and solutions Theoretically novel the book provides a compelling framework for scholars to study ocean science collaboration
