The Photosystems J. Barber, 2015-12-04 There is very little in this eleventh volume of Topics in Photosynthesis which could have been written when the first volume was published fifteen years ago Advances over the last decade have been spectacular most particularly in our understanding of the photosystems that is the subject of this volume After a comparative introduction of bacterial and plant photosystems the book begins with a consideration of what is theoretically possible in energy conversion This is followed by light harvesting in photosystems II followed by its molecular biology protein engineering thermoluminescence photoinhibition the effect of herbicides and heat shock and most important function of all and one about which so little is yet understood at the molecular level the process by which it evolves oxygen The last three chapters deal with the equivalent processes of photosystem I The whole volume tells the story of a natural system of incredible ingenuity and complexity but which as the chapters unfold is seen to be within our grasp and eventual ability to comprehend

The Third Reich on Screen, 1929-2015 Bob Herzberg, 2016-11-19 For more than 80 years images of the Third Reich have appeared in newsreels documentaries and fictional stories from comedies and musicals to war horror and science fiction films Many of these representations say as much about the filmmakers as they do about Nazism itself Hollywood often used the brutal Nazi as an all purpose villain in escapist adventures set during and after the war but just as often used him to attack the evil he symbolized Drawing on studio files correspondence of the Production Code office and the writings of noted historians and critics this book describes the making of many such films produced in Hollywood Nazi Germany the Soviet Union and Eastern Bloc nations Biographies of several military and political figures who served as the basis for Nazi characters compare the cinematic and real life versions Finding a Way Home Owen E. Brady, Derek C. Maus, 2010-02-17 Essays by Owen E Brady Kelly C Connelly Juan F Elices Keith Hughes Derek C Maus Jerrilyn McGregory Laura Quinn Francesca Canad Sautman Daniel Stein Lisa B Thompson Terrence Tucker and Albert U Turner Jr In Finding a Way Home thirteen essays by scholars from four countries trace Walter Mosley s distinctive approach to representing African American responses to the feeling of homelessness in an inhospitable America Mosley b 1952 writes frequently of characters trying to construct an idea of home and wrest a sense of dignity belonging and hope from cultural and communal resources These essays examine Mosley s queries about the meaning of home in various social and historical contexts Essayists consider the concept whether it be material social cultural or virtual in all three of Mosley s detective crime fiction series Easy Rawlins Socrates Fortlow and Fearless Jones his three books of speculative fiction two of his literary novels RL s Dream The Man in My Basement and in his recent social and political nonfiction Essays here explore Mosley s modes of expression his testing of the limitations of genre his political engagement in prose his utopian dystopian analyses and his uses of parody and vernacular culture Finding a Way Home provides rich discussions explaining the development of Mosley's work

New Boundaries in Political Science Fiction Donald M. Hassler, Clyde Wilcox, 2008 This book offers an interpretation of the evolution of a growing genre in literary film and television As a follow up to their 1997 collection Political Science Fiction Hassler and Wilcox have assembled twenty four noted international scholars representing diverse fields of inquiry to assess the influential voices and trends from the past decade in New Boundaries in Political Science Fiction The terrors and technologies that permeate our daily lives have changed radically in the past decade further highlighting the underlying speculations on our contested future that remain the core of this genre In surveying the vast expanse of politically charged science fiction of recent years the editors posit that the defining dilemma for these tales rests in whether identity and meaning germinate from progressive linear changes or progress or from a continuous return to primitive realities of war death and the competition for survival The discussion of political implications ranges among writers from H G Wells Robert A Heinlein Ursula Le Guin and Isaac Asimov to more radical recent voices such as Iain M Banks William Gibson Joanna Russ Philip K Dick and China Mieville While emphasizing the literature the collection also addresses political science fiction found on film and television from the original Star Trek through the newest incarnation of Battlestar Galactica

Optogenetic Tools in the Molecular Spotlight Tilo

Mathes, John T. M. Kennis, 2016-08-09 The rise of optogenetics as a standard technique to non invasively probe and monitor biological function created an immense interest in the molecular function of photosensory proteins These photoreceptors are usually protein pigment complexes that translate light into biological information and have become essential tools in cell biology and neurobiology as their function is genetically encoded and can be conveniently delivered into a given cell Like for fluorescent proteins that quickly became invaluable as genetically encodable reporters in microscopy and imaging variants of photosensory proteins with customized sensitivity and functionality are nowadays in high demand In this ebook we feature reviews and original research on molecular approaches from synthetic biology and molecular spectroscopy to computational molecular modelling that all aspire to elucidate the molecular prerequisites for the photosensory function of the given proteins The principle property of changing activity of biological function simply by application of light is not only very attractive for cell biology it also offers unique opportunities for molecular studies as excitation can be controlled with high time precision Especially in spectroscopy the usually fully reversible photoactivation of photosensory proteins allows researchers to perform time resolved studies with up to femtosecond resolution In addition functional variants can be investigated and quickly screened in common biochemical experiments The insights that are obtained by the here presented various yet complementary methods will ultimately allow us write the script for a molecular movie from excitation of the protein by a photon to activation of its biological function Such deep understanding does not only provide unique insights into the dynamics of protein function it will also ultimately enable us to rationally design novel optogenetic tools to be used in cell biology and therapy
