Alfred H. Baucom

Blue Of Noon:

Blue of Noon Georges Bataille, 2015-05-07 Set against the backdrop of Europe's slide into Fascism Blue of Noon is a blackly compelling account of depravity and violence As its narrator lurches despairingly from city to city in a surreal sexual and mental nightmare of squalor sadism and drunken encounters his internal collapse mirrors the fighting and marching on the streets outside Exploring the dark forces beneath the surface of civilization this is a novel torn between identifying with history's victims and being seduced by the monstrous glamour of its terrible victors and is one of the twentieth century's great nihilist works The Blue Noon Robert Ryan, 2004 The Blue Noon is a thrilling novel of honour and betrayal based on the intriguing story of one of the most resourceful and charismatic figures of World War Two Georges Bataille Michel Surya, 2002 Translated by Krzysztof Filjalkowski and Michael Richardson Winner of the 1987 Prix Goncourt for Biography Georges Bataille 1897-1962 philosopher writer and founder of the influential literary review Critique had an enormous impact on the thinking of Foucault Derrida and Baudrillard and his ideas have been the subjects of recent debates in a wide range of disciplines In this acclaimed intellectual biography Michel Surya enters into a complicity with Bataille's oeuvre to provide a detailed exposition of its themes as they developed against the backdrop of his life The essence of Bataille's life and work were defined by transience and effacement reflecting a will both to contest the impermanence of things and to confront death His troubled childhood his relationships with surrealism and his paradoxical position at the heart of twentieth century French thought are enriched here with testimonies from Bataille's closest acquaintances making this a vivid and detailed study Revealing the contexts in which he worked and the ways in which his work and ideas took shape Surya sheds essential light on a figure Foucault described as one of the most important writers of the century Ecce Monstrum Jeremy Biles, 2007 In the 1930s Georges Bataille proclaimed a ferociously religious sensibility characterized by simultaneous ecstasy and horror Ecce Monstrum investigates this religious sensibility by examining Bataille's insistent linking of monstrosity and the sacred Bataille enacts a monstrous mode of reading and writing in his approaches to other thinkers and artists a mode at once agonistic and intimate Ecce Monstrum examines this mode through investigations of Bataille's sacrificial interpretations of Kojève's Hegel and Friedrich Nietzsche his contentious relationship with Simone Weil and its implications for his mystical and writing practices his fraught affiliation with surrealist André Breton and his attempt to displace surrealism with hyperChristianity and his peculiar relations to artist Hans Bellmer whose work evokes Bataille's religious sensibility

Lord Byron's Cain Truman Guy Steffan, 2014-11-17 Cain has been ranked as one of the two best dramatic poems written in England in the nineteenth century Because of its religious heterodoxy which veiled a political iconoclasm and also because of Byron's notoriety Cain stirred up a storm among Tories and clergymen from Kentish town to Pisa From 1821 to 1830 more was printed about its eighteen hundred alarming lines than about the twenty thousand of Don Juan One solemn Frenchman even translated the work in order to supply his countrymen with a text that he could then rewrite and confute After the initial controversy readers began to regard Cain not merely as revolutionary propaganda but as a fictional portrait of common youthful experience a sequence of aspiration discontent uncertainty confusion misunderstood isolation fear frustration anger and finally a rash inevitable but futile revolt that led to a future of hopeless regret Truman Guy Steffan here presents a text arrived at by collation of the first and several later editions with the original manuscript presently in the Stark Collection of the Miriam Lutch Stark Library at the Harry Ransom Center the University of Texas at Austin The first eight essays which comprise Part I cover a number of literary topics Byron's defense of his purposes in Cain and the relevance of his dramatic theory to the poem the characterization that is an ideological confrontation a revelation of personal conflict as well as a rendering of individuals who have an existence independent of the author the principles that controlled Byron's absorption and expansion of biblical materials the integration of the imagery with the dramatic substance the incongruities of the language the metrical heterodoxy and a description of the manuscript and of Byron's insertions Part II contains the text of Cain accompanied by notes on the variants the manuscript cancellations and additions certain linguistic details and the scansion of some unusual verses Then follow annotations on allusions sources and analogues and on a few passages of the play that have elicited unusual conflict over interpretation Part III provides a history of Cain criticism from the opinions of Byron's social and literary circle and of the major periodicals and pamphlets to the more complicated contribution of the twentieth century This important work stands not only as a valuable addition to Byron scholarship but also as an illuminating record of the changing critical and cultural attitudes from the early nineteenth century to the 1960s Steffan has done a remarkable job in bringing together and synthesizing an enormous body of material Colour Edith Anderson Feisner, 2006 Beginning with an account of colour fundamentals and a history of colour theory the author explores the four dimensions of colour and their application to compositions in various media This book serves as a useful resource for painters photographers interior designers and craftspeople
