The Blinded Soldiers and Sailors Gift Book (Classic Reprint) George Goodchild Gilbert Kei Chesterton, 2016-06-15 Excerpt from The Blinded Soldiers and Sailors Gift Book In compiling the present work no regular plan has been observed It is merely intended as a Gift Book which in addition to fulfilling its object in this respect aims at helping those brave fellows who have suffered one of the worst misfortunes that can befall a human being Among all the tragical figures of the war none are more deserving of our sympathy and help than those whose injuries received in defence of the Empire are of the nature of permanent blindness It is impossible to imagine so dire a calamity Blindness cannot be experienced by the mere closing of one's eyes that is merely a superficial imitation free of the crushing sense of isolation which the consciousness of permanent darkness imparts Sightless persons seldom speak of their sensations and we are consequently ignorant of what it at first entails It is the dreadful unpreparedness which terrifies the awfulness of a sudden plunge into a world hitherto unimagined Such a blow is all the more terrible when its victims are as is the case with most of our present victims full of the vigour of youth overrunning with the vitality of glorious health To such the terrors of modern warfare with its dangers and horrors are as nothing compared with this overwhelming calamity The misery of it one can only gauge by observation About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Fatal Charge at Gallipoli John Hamilton,2015-04-30 Armed only with rifles bayonets and raw courage the men of the 3rd Light Horse Brigade left the shelter of their rocky trenches to storm The Nek a narrow stretch of ridge held by the Ottoman Turks The first wave of attackers were cut down almost as soon as they stood up Those that followed knew they were going to die Yet they too charged without question stumbling over the bodies of their fallen comrades before they also fell The commander of the 10th Light Horse Regiment attempted to have the third wave cancelled claiming that the whole thing was nothing but bloody murder but he could not convince the Brigade Major Using the letters and diaries of those who fought and died in this famously futile action award winning journalist and best selling author John Hamilton takes the reader on a journey from the rush to recruit in August 1914 when war was declared through the training camps to the unforgiving terrain of Gallipoli and the unbending Turkish defenders and finally to that fateful morning and that fatal charge Part of a trilogy by John Hamilton this title was first published in 2004 by Pan Macmillan Australia only being sold in the Australian and New Zealand markets under the title Goodbye Cobber God Bless You The Fatal Charge of the Light Horse Gallipoli August 7th 1915 Veterans with a Vision Serge Marc Durflinger,2010-03-22 History has told us something about our

Collection at the University of South Carolina An Illustrated Catalogue provides a reference tool for the study of one of the great watershed moments in history on both sides of the Atlantic serving historians researchers and collectors Where Are Our Boys? Martin Woods,2016-08-01 In 1914 the newspaper map or newsmap began to supply readers with the geographical backdrop to the Great War an important tool in explaining the progress of the war to the public at home Day by day for every campaign and battle readers across the nation were deluged with maps both in the pages of newspapers and pasted up in town and city streets allowing them to follow Australian and Allied exploits Drawn from scant news cables out of date cartography and the writer s imagination a semi fictional war story emerged of ANZAC successes and sometimes disasters

Our boys were in Egypt Palestine Gallipoli Belgium Germany and France in towns and villages most Australians had never heard of Soon these places were being discussed with growing expertise over maps in homes pubs churches and clubs Those following the war at home were never allowed too close as censorship rules dictated when maps could be published Yet Where Are Our Boys is not simply about propaganda Maps in newspapers tracked the war s many campaigns and the exploits of our boys but most importantly allowed those at home to feel close to their brothers husbands fathers uncles neighbours and cousins Maps naturally became central to commemorating events people and places The war produced more maps than any time before in history giving us along the way some of the most beautiful and sometimes misleading maps ever published Where Are Our Boys tells the story of how the war was fought and won from the opening salvos in 1914 to Gallipoli and victory on the Western Front In the end though these maps were needed most to help understand the conflict and to comprehend the great human costs
