Blood Bread And Poetry:

Blood, Bread, and Poetry: Selected Prose 1979-1985 Adrienne Rich, 1994-07-17 That Adrienne Rich is a not only a major American poet but an incisive compelling prose writer is made clear once again by this collection in which she continues to explore the social and political context of her life and art Examining the connections between history and the imagination ethics and action she explores the possible meanings of being white female lesbian Jewish and a United States citizen both at this particular time and through the lens of the past Blood, Bread, and Poetry, 1986 Reading from this Place: Social location and biblical interpretation in global perspective Fernando F. Segovia, Mary Ann Tolbert, Biblical studies are proving to be a test case of the large interpretive issues of how one's location social cultural ethnic and gender affects one's reading of the text and its import Segovia and Tolbert gather 19 leading biblical interpreters from around the globe to address the complex hermeneutical and religious questions attendant to this paradigm shift Mother Reader Moyra Davey, 2001-05-01 The intersection of motherhood and creative life is explored in these writings on mothering that turn the spotlight from the child to the mother herself Here in memoirs testimonials diaries essays and fiction mothers describe first hand the changes brought to their lives by pregnancy childbirth and mothering Many of the writers articulate difficult and socially unsanctioned maternal anger and ambivalence In Mother Reader motherhood is scrutinized for all its painful and illuminating subtleties and addressed with unconventional wisdom and candor What emerges is a sense of a community of writers speaking to and about each other out of a common experience and a compilation of extraordinary literature never before assembled in a single volume Feminism Beyond Modernism Elizabeth A. Flynn, 2002 Feminist Literacies, 1968-75 Kathryn Thoms Flannery, 2010-10-01 In the late 1960s and early 1970s ordinary women affiliated with the women's movement were responsible for a veritable explosion of periodicals poetry and manifestos as well as performances designed to support do it yourself education and consciousness raising Kathryn Thoms Flannery discusses this outpouring and the group education brainstorming and creative activism it fostered as the manifestation of a feminist literacy quite separate from women's studies programs at universities or the large scale political workings of second wave feminism Seeking to break down traditional barriers such as the dichotomies of writer reader or student teacher these new works also forged polemical alternatives to the forms of argumentation traditionally used to silence women creating a space for fresh voices Feminist Literacies explores these truly radical feminist literary practices and pedagogies that flourished during a brief era of volatility and hope What is it Then Between Us? Eric Murphy Selinger, 1998 What Is It Then between Us marks the appearance of a bright new star in the poetry criticism firmament Eric Murphy Selinger explores the complex history of American love poetry with panache acumen and scholarly precision His readings of love poems by writers as diverse as Anne Bradstreet Emily Dickinson William Carlos Williams and James Merrill are both nimble and persuasive Itself written con amore What Is It Then between Us is a pioneering study of the imaginative ways our poets have recorded the ordeals and pleasures of love in their verse Herbert Leibowitz Editor and Publisher Parnassus Poetry in Review Tracing the solitude of the American self the difference between idolatrous and companionate affection and the dream of an America of love Eric Murphy Selinger shows how such concerns can shape a poet's most intimate decisions about genre and form His lucid elegant prose illuminates not only well known love poets including Emily Dickinson and William Carlos Williams but also more unexpected figures notably Wallace Stevens and Mina Loy Like the poets he discusses Selinger refuses to view love reductively Rather he takes the impulse to debunk love as part of his subject whether it crops up in Puritan theology or contemporary literary theory As he details Whitman's courtship of his readers weighs the restorations of romance in H D and Ezra Pound and demonstrates the bonds between poets as disparate as Robert Creeley and Robert Lowell Selinger establishes love poetry as an essential American genre

The Power of Adrienne Rich Hilary Holladay, 2025-04-15 A New York Times Book Review Editors Choice A comprehensive biography of one of the most acclaimed poets of her generation and a face of American feminism New York Times A major American writer thinker and activist Adrienne Rich 1929-2012 transformed herself from a traditional Radcliffe educated lyric poet and married mother of three sons into a path breaking lesbian feminist author of forceful uncompromising prose as well as poetry In doing so she emerged as an architect and exemplar of the feminist movement breaking ranks to denounce the male dominated literary establishment and paving the way for women writers to take their places in the cultural mainstream Drawing on a wealth of unpublished materials including Rich's correspondence and in depth interviews with many people who knew her Hilary Holladay provides a vividly detailed full dimensional portrait of a woman whose work and life continue to challenge and inspire new generations

Are You My Mother? Alison Bechdel, 2012-05-01 The New York Times bestselling graphic memoir about Alison Bechdel author of Fun Home becoming the artist her mother wanted to be Alison Bechdel's Fun Home was a pop culture and literary phenomenon Now a second thrilling tale of filial sleuthery this time about her mother voracious reader music lover passionate amateur actor Also a woman unhappily married to a closeted gay man whose artistic aspirations simmered under the surface of Bechdel's childhood and who stopped touching or kissing her daughter good night forever when she was seven Poignantly hilariously Bechdel embarks on a quest for answers concerning the mother daughter gulf It's a richly layered search that leads readers from the fascinating life and work of the iconic twentieth century psychoanalyst Donald Winnicott to one explosively illuminating Dr Seuss illustration to Bechdel's own serially monogamous adult love life And finally back to Mother to a truce fragile and real time that will move and astonish all adult children of gifted mothers A New York Times USA Today Time Slate and Barnes sort of like a comic book by Virginia Woolf You won't believe it until you read it and you must Gloria Steinem

Rewriting Shakespeare, Rewriting Ourselves Peter Erickson, 1994-02 Participants in the current debate about the literary canon generally separate the established literary order of which Shakespeare is the most visible icon from the emergent minority literatures In this challenging study Peter Erickson insists on bringing the two realms together He asks what impact does a revision of the literary canon have on Shakespeare's status Part One of his book is about Shakespeare on women In analyses of several Shakespearean works Erickson discusses Shakespeare's ambivalence about women as a reflection of male anxiety about the cultural authority of Queen Elizabeth Part Two is about contemporary women on Shakespeare Erickson discusses Adrienne Rich's revision of the very concept of canon and discusses how several African American women writers in particular Maya Angelou and Gloria Naylor have reflected on the ambivalent status of Shakespeare in their worlds Erickson here offers a model for multicultural literary criticism and a new conceptual framework with which to discuss issues of identity politics Rewriting Shakespeare Rewriting Ourselves makes an important contribution to the national debate about educational policy in the humanities Caught Between Cultures , 2021-07-26 The essays in this collection on Canada the USA Australia and the UK question and discuss the issues of cross cultural identities and the crossing of boundaries both geographical and conceptual All of the authors have experienced cross culturalism directly and are conscious that positions of double vision which allow the to participate positively in two or more cultures are privileges that only a few can celebrate Most women find themselves caught between cultures They become involved in a day to day struggle in an attempt to negotiate identities which can affirm the self and at the same time strengthen the ties which unites the self with others Theoretical issues on cross culturalism therefore can either liberate or constrict the The essays here illustrate how women's writing negotiates this dualism through a colourful and complex weaving of words thoughts and experiences both pleasurable and painful into texts quilts rainbows The metaphors abound The connecting thread through their writing and indeed in these essays is the concept of belonging a theoretical emotional composite of being and longing Home too assumes a variety of meanings it is no longer a static geographical place but many places It is also a place elsewhere in the imagination a mythic place of desire linked to origin Policies of multiculturalism can throw up more problems than they solve In Canada the difficulties surrounding the cross cultural debate have given rise to a state of messy imbroglia Notions of authenticity move dangerously close to essentialist identities Double vision is characteristic of peoples who have been uprooted and displaced such as Australian Aboriginal writers of mixed race abducted during childhood Passing for black or white is full of complications as in the case of Pauline Johnson who passed as an authentic Indian People with hyphenated citizenship such as Japanese Canadian can be either free of national ties or trapped in subordination to the dominant culture in these visible minorities it is the status of being female or coloured female that is so often ultimately rendered invisible Examination of Canadian anthologies on cross cultural writing by women reveals a crossing of boundaries of gender and genre race and ethnicity and in some cases national boundaries in an attempt to connect with a diasporic consciousness Cross cultural women writers in the USA may stress experience and unique collective history while others prefer to focus on aesthetic links and literary connections which ultimately silence difference Journeying from the personal space of the into the collective space of the we is exemplified in a reading of texts by June Jordan and Minnie Bruce Pratt For these writers identity is in process It is a painful negotiation but one which can transform knowledge into action Reading from This Place, Volume 1 Fernando F. Segovia, Mary Ann Tolbert, How does one's life situation shape one's reading of the Bible In this landmark volume Segovia Tolbert and their 15 other contributors measure the impact of social location on the theory and practice of biblical interpretation Reading From This Place helps readers come to terms with the interpretive revolution sweeping through biblical studies Arts of the Possible Adrienne Rich, 2015-03-27 Adrienne Rich's new prose collection could have been titled The Essential Rich Women's Review of Books These essays trace a distinguished writer's engagement with her time her arguments with herself and others I am a poet who knows the social power of poetry a United States citizen who knows herself irrevocably tangled in her society's hopes arrogance and despair Adrienne Rich writes The essays in Arts of the Possible search for possibilities beyond a compromised degraded system seeking to imagine something else They call on the fluidity of the imagination from poetic vision to social justice from the badlands of political demoralization to an art that might wound that may open scars when engaged in its work but will finally suture and not tear apart This volume collects Rich's essays from the last decade of the twentieth century including four earlier essays as well as several conversations that go further than the usual interview Also included is her essay explaining her reasons for declining the National Medal for the Arts The work is inspired and inspiring Alicia Ostriker So clear and clean and thorough I learn from her again and again Grace Paley Fashioning the Female Subject Sabine Sielke, 1997 Exploring the interrelatedness of the poetry of three American women writers From Motherhood to Mothering Andrea O'Reilly, 2012-02-01 In the years since the publication of Adrienne Rich's Of Woman Born the topic of motherhood has emerged as a central issue in feminist scholarship Arguably still the best feminist book on mothering and motherhood Of Woman Born is not only a wide ranging far reaching meditation on the meaning and experience of motherhood that draws from the disciplines of anthropology feminist theory psychology and literature but it also narrates Rich's personal reflections on her experiences of mothering Andrea O'Reilly gathers feminist scholars from diverse disciplines such as literature women s studies law sociology anthropology creative writing and critical theory and examines how Of Woman Born has informed and influenced the way feminist scholarship thinks and talks about motherhood The contributors explore the many ways in which Rich provides the analytical tools to study and report upon the meaning and experience of motherhood Open Admissions Danica Savonick, 2024-07-05 In Open Admissions Danica Savonick traces the largely untold story of the teaching experience of Toni Cade Bambara June Jordan Audre Lorde and Adrienne Rich at the City University of New York cuny in the late 1960s and early 1970s This period during which cuny guaranteed tuition free admission to every city high school graduate was one of the most controversial in US educational history Analyzing their archival teaching materials syllabi lesson plans and assignments alongside their published work Savonick reveals how these renowned writers were also transformative educators who developed creative methods of teaching their students to navigate and change the world In fact many of their methods such as student led courses collaborative public projects and the publication of student writing anticipated the kinds of student centered and antiracist pedagogies that have become popular in recent years In addition to recovering the pedagogical legacy of these writers Savonick shows how teaching in cuny's free and open classrooms fundamentally altered their writing and with it the course of American literature and feminist criticism Why Write Poetry? Jeannine Johnson, 2007 Poets have long been defending poetry in prose and essays by Sidney Shelley and others are a familiar and important part of the Anglo American literary tradition This book identifies and examines a related genre the verse defense of poetry which shares the same impulse that has led to the composition of prose essays namely the desire to protect poetry from its detractors and to promote its value as a vital human endeavor In the last century or so this impulse to engage questions of poetry's value in poems has become increasingly widespread and it has dominated the careers of at least five poets H D Wallace Stevens W H Auden Adrienne Rich and Geoffrey Hill Though these poets espouse very different aesthetic principles they like many of their contemporaries have repeatedly turned to apology in their verse At first glance this seems an odd gesture given that the readers and writers of poetry are those who least need convincing of poetry's worthiness But questioning poetry in verse is a form of lyric introspection that is productive and well suited for a modern poet characterized as one of indifference defense helps these authors make a claim for poetry's cultural relevance as well as for its private profit Jeannine Johnson is a Preceptor in Expository Writing at Harvard University Women, America, and Movement Susan L. Roberson, 1998 Since the colonial days American women have traveled migrated and relocated always faced with the challenge of reconstructing their homes for themselves and their families Women America and Movement offers a journey through largely unexplored territory the experiences of migrating American women These narratives both real and imagined represent a range of personal and critical perspectives some of the women describe their travels as expansive and freeing while others relate the dreadful costs and sacrifices of relocating Despite the range of essays featured in this study the writings all coalesce around the issues of politics poetry and self identity described by Adrienne Rich as the elements of the politics of location treated here as the politics of relocation The narratives featured in this book explore the impact of race class and sexual economics on migratory women their self identity and their roles in family and social life These issues demonstrate that in addition to geographic place ideology is itself a space to be traversed By examining the writings of such women as Louise Erdrich Zora Neale Hurston and Gertrude Stein the essayists included in this volume offer a variety of experiences The book confronts such issues as racist politicking against Native Americans African Americans and Asian immigrants sexist attitudes that limit women to the roles of wife mother and sexual object and exploitation of migrants from Appalachia and of women newly arrived in America These essays also delve into the writings themselves by looking at what happens to narrative structure as authors or their characters cross geographic boundaries The reader sees how women writers negotiate relocation in their texts and how the written word becomes a place where one finds oneself
