Governing Africa's Forests in a Globalized World Laura A. German, Anne-Marie Tiani, Alain Karsenty, 2009-12 Many countries around the world are engaged in decentralization processes and most African countries face serious problems with forest governance from benefits sharing to illegality and sustainable forest management This book summarizes experiences to date on the extent and nature of decentralization and its outcomes most of which suggest an underperformance of governance reforms and explores the viability of different governance instruments in the context of weak governance and expanding commercial pressures over forests Findings are grouped into two thematic areas decentralization livelihoods and sustainable forest management and international trade finance and forest sector governance reforms The authors examine diverse forces shaping the forest sector including the theory and practice of decentralization usurpation of authority corruption and illegality inequitable patterns of benefits capture and expansion of international trade in timber and carbon credits and discuss related outcomes on livelihoods forest condition and equity The book builds on earlier volumes exploring different dimensions of decentralization and perspectives from other world regions and distills dimensions of forest governance that are both unique to Africa and representative of broader global patterns Authors ground their analysis in relevant theory while attempting to distill implications of their findings for policy and practice The Ethics of the Family Linda Oravec,Adam

Potthast,Stephen Scales,2010-03-08 Our families are our first and most important ethical training grounds But what is the family And what are our ethical commitments to our family members and to the broader moral community After a brief introductory chapter on basic ethical concepts and theories the essays in this volume provide readers with ethical analyses of issues ranging from same sex marriage to a controversial proposal to license parents The chapters cover love sex marriage parents and children the relationship between the family and the larger moral community and the influence of emerging technologies on the ethical issues inherent in family life The volume is intended to open up this exciting territory in applied ethics to those interested in philosophy family studies social work and to anyone who wants a deeper understanding of the ethical forces at work in this most basic social institution Blood, Ink, and Culture Roger Bartra,2002-07-12 In this collection Bartra offers commentary on connections between popular culture national ideology and the state assessing sociocultural events and processes in Mexico and analyzing Mexico s cultural and political relationship to the U S
