BLUE RIBBON OF THE AIR VILLARD HENRY SERRAN, 1987-12-17      The 1910 Los Angeles International Air Meet Kenneth E. Pauley, 2009 America's first international air meet was held January 10 20 1910 in Los Angeles on a mesa called Dominguez Hill situated 13.5 miles south of the plaza at the pueblo of Los Angeles Enthusiasm for aviation grew after the first international air meet in 1909 in Rheims France where American aviator Glenn H Curtiss won three prestigious speed prizes and 36 000 francs An even more spectacular air meet which would also invigorate the local economy was promoted for Los Angeles Businessman Dick Ferris the Los Angeles Merchants and Manufacturers Association and the Los Angeles Examiner collaborated to make it possible Most Americans had never seen the newfangled machines that soared in the skies Initially skeptical they soon were awed So began America's love affair with aviation The air meet influenced aviation in Southern California and transportation worldwide into the 21st century

The Birth of Military Aviation Hugh Driver, 1997 A survey of the development of British military aviation from 1903 to 1914 revealing the consequences of its annexation by the state as a branch of armaments as an underlying cause of aircraft inadequacies on the outbreak of war A mine of information drawing on an impressive range of archives It will become an important point of reference

ENGLISH HISTORICAL REVIEW This book aims to demonstrate how the crisis evident in British military aviation in the early years of the First World War was inherent in the entire development of aviation in the years preceding the conflict After outlining the work of the early pioneers and the growth of an aviation industry as a branch of armaments Dr Driver considers the objectives of the War Office in increasingly seeking to divert design development to their research establishment at Farnborough He shows how the resultant virtual state monopoly in design and procurement had disastrous consequences for aircraft innovation and development suffocating both competition and initiative and leading to the maintenance of inadequate aircraft by the Royal Flying Corps following the outbreak of war The continuing dispute and its culmination in the Fokker Scourge controversy of 1915 1916 graphically characterise the strained development of military industrial relations in this area Dr HUGH DRIVER gained an MA in War Studies from King s College London and a D Phil in modern history at Oriel College Oxford

The Men Who Gave Us Wings Peter Reese, 2014-04-02 Why did the British then the leading nation in science and technology fall far behind in the race to develop the aeroplane before the First World War Despite their initial advantage they were overtaken by the Wright brothers in America by the French and the Germans Peter Reese in this highly readable and highly illustrated account delves into the fascinating early history of aviation as he describes what happened and why He recalls the brilliant theoretical work of Sir George Cayley the inventions of other pioneers of the nineteenth century and the daring exploits of the next generation of airmen among them Samuel Cody A V Roe Bertram Dickson Charles Rolls and Tommy Sopwith His narrative is illustrated with a wonderful selection of over 120 archive drawings and photographs which record the men and the primitive flying machines of a century ago As featured on BBC Radio Surrey and in Essence Magazine

Mad for Speed Elsa A. Nystrom, 2013-06-13 This book covers

Joan Newton Cuneo's life and her roles from 1905 to 1915 as the premier female racer in the United States and spokeswoman for women drivers and good roads. Beginning with her family history and marriage to Andrew Cuneo it traces her life in New York society, the birth of her children and Joan's growing interest in automobile touring and racing and partnership with Louis Disbrow her racing mechanic. The book covers Joan's experiences in three Glidden Tours including her notes on the 1907 tour, her first races and her rivals. It also looks at the growth and change of automobile culture and the battles for control of racing among the American Automobile Association, the Automobile Club of America and the American Automobile Manufacturers Association which ended in banishing women racers shortly after Joan's greatest racing victories at New Orleans in 1909. The book then follows Joan's attempts to continue racing, the end of her marriage, her move to the Upper Peninsula and her remarriage and death. The book also includes a chapter on her female rivals in racing and touring.

Gray, whose marriage resulted in an extraordinary husband and wife exhibition team; and Howard Max Rinehart, aerial mercenary, international racing competitor, Wright test pilot, South American explorer and co-owner of one of America's premier charter services.      U.S. Air Services, 1926      Aerospace, 1989      Guide to Photographic Collections at the Smithsonian Institution: National Air and Space Museum Smithsonian Institution, Diane Vogt-O'Connor, 1989
