Portici Kathleen A. Parker,Jacqueline L. Hernigle,1990 Manassas National Battlefield Park s General Management Plan 1983 named the Wheeler Tract as the site for the relocation of the picnic area and its attendant facilities The area chosen for this relocation had been previously identified as the site of the late eighteenth to early nineteenth century complex known as Portici An archeological study of the proposed relocation area was required pursuant to planning and development

Nineteenth century Portici evolved from a small tenant occupied farmstead established during the eighteenth century This tenant farm grew into a middling tobacco plantation called Pohoke Later the eighteenth century dwelling was abandoned when Portici mansion house was constructed in circa 1820 Portici plantation became a flourishing middling multiple grain based plantation by the eve of the American Civil War Archeological and archival work was conducted to document and assess the eligibility of Pohoke Portici and the Lewis house for nomination to the National Register of Historic Places Collectively these three sites with all their ancillary sites on the Wheeler tract graphically depict the evolution of local lifeways and patterns of development in a frontier Piedmont plantation Abstract page vii Catalogue of the Specimens of Old English and Other Pottery, in the Collection of Arthur Herbert Church Arthur Herbert Church,1870 The Pilgrim Art Robert Finlay,2010-02-17 Illuminating one thousand years of history The Pilgrim Art explores the remarkable cultural influence of Chinese porcelain around the globe Cobalt ore was shipped from Persia to China in the fourteenth century where it was used to decorate porcelain for Muslims in Southeast Asia India Persia and Iraq Spanish galleons delivered porcelain to Peru and Mexico while aristocrats in Europe ordered tableware from Canton The book tells the fascinating story of how porcelain became a vehicle for the transmission and assimilation of artistic symbols themes and designs across vast distances from Japan and Java to Egypt and England It not only illustrates how porcelain influenced local artistic traditions but also shows how it became deeply intertwined with religion economics politics and social identity Bringing together many strands of history in an engaging narrative studded with fascinating vignettes this is a history of cross cultural exchange focused on an exceptional commodity that illuminates the emergence of what is arguably the first genuinely global culture

Victoria and Albert Museum,1859 Inventory of the Objects Forming the Collections of the Museum of Ornamental Arts ... By J. C. Robinson Victoria and Albert Museum,1856 Global Objects Edward S. Cooke,2022-09-13 A bold reorientation of art history that bridges the divide between fine art and material culture through an examination of objects and their uses Art history is often viewed through cultural or national lenses that define some works as fine art while relegating others to the category of craft Global Objects points the way to an interconnected history of art examining a broad array of functional aesthetic objects that transcend geographic and temporal boundaries and challenging preconceived ideas about what is and is not art Avoiding traditional binaries such as East versus West and fine art versus decorative art Edward Cooke looks at the production consumption and circulation of objects made from clay fiber wood and nonferrous base metals Carefully considering the materials and process of making and connecting process to product and people he demonstrates how objects act on those who look at use and acquire them He reveals how objects retain aspects of their local fabrication while absorbing additional meanings in subtle and unexpected ways as they move through space and time In emphasizing multiple centers of art production amid constantly changing contexts Cooke moves beyond regional histories driven by geography nation state time period or medium Beautifully illustrated Global Objects traces the social lives of objects from creation to purchase and from use to experienced meaning charting exciting new directions in art history A Guide to the Knowledge of Pottery, Porcelain, and Other Objects of Vertu Henry George Bohn,1871 Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress.
