Debussy Oscar Thompson, 1965      Debussy Man and Artist. Bib O. THOMPSON, 1940      Debussy. Man and Artist. Etc. [With Plates, Including Portraits and Facsimiles.]. Oscar Lee THOMPSON, 1937      Debussy, Man and Artist. Illustrated. [With a Newspaper Cutting Inserted.]. Oscar Thompson, 1967      Debussy and His World Jane F. Fulcher, 2001 Claude Debussy's Paris was factionalised politicised and litigious This text aims to capture the complexity of the composer's restless personal and artistic identity within the context of fin de siècle Paris      Debussy Simon Trezise, 1994 La mer stands at the centre of Debussy's achievement described by the composer as a seascape without figures it is arguably the greatest and most original French symphony In this study La mer is considered in the context of Debussy's personal and musical development and in the French musical renaissance in general looking back to César Franck and forward to the orchestral Images and Jeux The author uses new biographical information and a wide range of sources to reveal the period of La mer's composition as one of intense emotional turbulence Detailed discussion of performance styles draws on current recordings and two analytical chapters trace the growth of ideas through the work Studies of rhythm motif and tonality show how Debussy generates narratives across the three movements which give La mer a structural integrity unparalleled in French music at the turn of the century      Debussy and the Theatre Robert Orledge, 1982-12-16 Debussy and the Theatre means in effect Debussy and Pelléas et Mélisande the opera both established Debussy's mature style and changed the course of operatic history      Debussy and the Fragment Linda Cummins, 2006 Rather than solid frames some less than perfect aesthetic objects have permeable membranes which allow them to diffuse effortlessly into the everyday world In the parallel universes of music and literature Linda Cummins extols the poetry of such imperfection She places Debussy's work within a tradition thriving on anti-Aristotelian principles motley collections crumbling ruins real or fake monstrous hybrids patchwork and palimpsest hasty sketches ellipses truncated beginnings and endings meandering arabesques irrelevant digressions autoquotations Sensitive to the intermittences of memory and experience and with a keen ear for ironic intrusion Cummins draws the reader into the Western cultural past in search of the surprisingly ubiquitous aesthetic of the unfinished negatively silhouetted against expectations of rational coherence Theories popularized by Schlegel and embraced by the French Symbolists are only the first waypoint on an elaborately illustrated tour reaching back to Petrarch Cummins meticulously applies the derived results to Debussy's scores and finds convincing correlations in this chiasmic crossover      Claude Debussy and the Poets Arthur Wenk, 1976-01-01 Paul Dukas wrote about Debussy that the strongest influence he experienced was that of the poets not that of the musicians This book undertakes to demonstrate that thesis by studying Debussy's settings of songs by Banville Verlaine Baudelaire Mallarmé and Debussy himself A particular insight may be gained in the comparison of six poems by Verlaine set to music by both Fauré and Debussy The book includes a poetic musical analysis of Debussy's Prelude to the Afternoon of a Faun based on the poem by Mallarmé      "Claude Debussy as I Knew Him" and

Other Writings of Arthur Hartmann Arthur Hartmann, 2003 Arthur Hartmann 1881-1956 a celebrated violinist who performed over a thousand recitals throughout Europe and the United States met Claude Debussy in 1908 after he had transcribed Il pleure dans mon cœur for violin and piano Their relationship developed into friendship and in February 1914 Debussy accompanied Hartmann in a performance of three of Hartmann's transcriptions of Debussy's works The two friends saw each other for the last time on the composer's birthday 22 August 1914 shortly before Hartmann and his family fled Europe to escape the Great War With the publication of Hartmann's memoir Claude Debussy as I Knew Him along with the twenty-two known letters from Claude Debussy and the thirty-nine letters from Emma Debussy to Hartmann and his wife the richness and importance of their relationship can be appreciated for the first time The memoir covers the years 1908-1918 Debussy's letters to Hartmann span the years 1908-1916 and Emma M<sup>me</sup> Debussy's letters span the years 1910-1932 Also included are the facsimile of Debussy's Minstrels manuscript transcription for violin and piano three previously unpublished letters from Debussy to Pierre Louÿs and correspondence between Hartmann and Béla Bartók Nina Grieg Alexandre Guilmant Charles Martin Loeffler Marian MacDowell Hans Richter and Anton Webern along with Hartmann's memoirs on Loeffler Ysaÿe Joachim and Grieg Samuel Hsu is a pianist and Professor of Music at Philadelphia Biblical University He completed his Ph.D. in Historical Musicology at the University of California at Santa Barbara in 1972 with a dissertation on Debussy Sidney Grolnic has been a librarian in the Music Department of the Free Library of Philadelphia for over twenty years and serves as curator of the library's Hartmann Collection Mark Peters has recently received his Ph.D. in Historical Musicology at the University of Pittsburgh his dissertation was on J.S. The Life of Debussy Roger Nichols, 1998-04-28 That great blue Sphinx Debussy called the sea Debussy himself was something of a Sphinx in the early 1890s he was thinking of founding a society for musical esotericism and although on the surface most of his music is instantly engaging and accessible at a deeper level run currents that are dangerous unpredictable destructive In this new biography Roger Nichols considers the life and music of this seminal figure charting the currents and the whirlpools in which other humans were sometimes unlucky enough to get caught Debussy's status is such that no modern composer has been able to ignore him asking as he does any number of riddles to which late twentieth century music is still searching answers
