Decentering the Center Uma Narayan, Sandra Harding, Sandra G. Harding, 2000-03-22 The essays in this volume bring to their focuses on philosophical issues the new angles of vision created by the multicultural global and postcolonial feminisms that have been developing around us These multicultural global and postcolonial feminist concerns transform mainstream notions of experience human rights the origins of philosophic issues philosophic uses of metaphors of the family white antiracism human progress scientific progress modernity the unity of scientific method the desirability of universal knowledge claims and other ideas central to philosophy Decentering Epistemologies and Challenging Privilege Sophie Bourgault, Maggie FitzGerald, Fiona Robinson, 2024-09-13 Care ethics first emerged as an attempt to decenter ethics feminist scholars like Carol Gilligan argued that women's moral experiences were not reflected in the dominant masculinist approaches to ethics which were centered on a rational disembodied atomistic moral subject Care ethics challenged this model by positing ethics as relational contextualized embodied and realized through practices rather than principles Over the past decades many care ethics scholars have sought to further this project by considering care politically and epistemologically in relation to various intersecting hierarchies of power and knowledge This book advances this project by discussing the ways care ethics contributes to the decentering of dominant epistemologies and to the challenging of privilege and by considering how to decenter care ethics itself via an encounter with non Western philosophical traditions and alternative epistemologies Written by scholars from different countries disciplines and intellectual traditions the volume offers original care ethics contributions on epistemic injustice privileged irresponsibility ecofeminism settler colonialism social movements such as BLM and various racialized and gendered inequities tied to care work Decentering America Jessica C. Encyclopedia of Case Study Research Albert J. Mills,Gabrielle Durepos,Elden Wiebe,2010 This is the authoritative reference work in the field An interdisciplinary set it investigates the extensive history design and methods of case study research Creating Better Futures James A. Ogilvy,2002-04-11 Presents a vision of how the world is changing and how it can be changed for the better Argues that self defined communities rather than individuals or governments have become the primary agents for social change Shows how to apply scenario planning to create better communities better health better education better lives The Shortest Shadow Alenka Zupancic,2003-09-26 Restoring Nietzsche to a Nietzschean context examining the definitive element that animates his work What is it that makes Nietzsche Nietzsche In The Shortest Shadow Alenka Zupan i counters the currently fashionable appropriation of Nietzsche as a philosopher who was ahead of his time but whose time has finally come the rather patronizing reduction of his often extraordinary statements to mere opinions that we can share Zupan i argues that the definitive Nietzschean quality is his very unfashionableness his being out of the mainstream of his or any time To restore Nietzsche to a context in which the thought lives on its own credit Zupan i examines two aspects of his philosophy First in Nietzsche as Metapsychologist she revisits the principal Nietzschean themes his declaration of the death of God which had a twofold meaning God is dead and Christianity survived the death of God the ascetic ideal and nihilism as ideas that are very much present in our hedonist postmodern condition Then in the second part of the book she considers Nietzsche s figure of the Noon and its consequences for his notion of the truth Nietzsche describes the Noon not as the moment when all shadows disappear but as the moment of the shortest shadow not the unity of all things embraced by the sun but the moment of splitting when one turns into two Zupan i argues that this notion of the Two as the minimal and irreducible difference within the same animates all of Nietzsche s work generating its permanent and inherent tension Defying the Darkness J. Robert A. Hunt, 2025-02-24 All Brain and No Soul Real Humanity in an AI Age explores the profound shifts in human identity and understanding in the context of historical scientific and technological revolutions particularly the rise of artificial intelligence Beginning with the author's personal reflections on chaos and order in a changing world it delves into humanity's displacement from the cosmic center through the Copernican Revolution the evolution of modern science and the redefining of intelligence and sentience The narrative examines humanity's role within an expanding indifferent universe and the implications of Darwin's theories on our relationship with nature and other species It interrogates how technological advancements like AI and brain computer interfaces reshape human self perception and blur boundaries between machines and humans The book highlights the dangers of abstracting humanity into algorithms and idealized digital personas Through a lens of history religion and philosophy the author raises questions about what it means to be human in a world increasingly mediated by screens algorithms and artificial intelligences urging readers to reflect on the balance between technological progress and retaining authentic human connections Christensen's Physics of Diagnostic Radiology Mr. Rohit Manglik, 2024-05-24 A foundational text on the physics behind radiological imaging including X ray CT MRI and nuclear imaging technologies The Broken Whole Thomas E. Gellman, 1997 Jerome I Gellman observes that the mystic experience of God's presence a sense of having direct contact with the divine often compels belief in God's existence. On the basis of widely accepted principles connecting appearance with reality, Gellman contends the claims people make of having experienced God show that belief in God is strongly rational meaning that such claims are sufficient in number and variety to support a line of reasoning making it rational to believe that God exists and irrational to deny God's existence. Gellman considers challenges to his thinking based on epistemological grounds and challenges growing out of the diversity of religious experiences across the range of world religions. He thoroughly evaluates reductionist explanations of apparent experiences of God and finds them incapable of invalidating his view. Finally, he directs his attention to the two most compelling arguments against the existence of God: the charge that the idea of a perfect being is logically incoherent and the threat to theism based on the existence of evil in both its logical and probabilistic forms. Until and unless stronger objections come along, he concludes, personal experiences of God constitute sufficient evidence of God's existence.

Japanese Art - Transcultural Perspectives

Melanie Trede, Christine Guth, Mio Wakita, 2024-12-02. The transcultural approach to Japanese art history embraced by the contributors to this volume centers on the dynamic aesthetic, artistic, and conceptual negotiations across cultural, temporal, and spatial boundaries. It not only acknowledges material objects, people, and technologies as agents but also intangible practices such as knowledge and concepts as vital agencies of interaction in transcultural processes. With its premise on connectivity, trans-territoriality, networks, and their transformative potential, this research destabilizes categorical configurations such as center vs. periphery and high vs. low, calling into question the classical canon of Japanese art history.

The Translator-Centered Multidisciplinary Construction Lin Zhu, 2012. This book embraces the epistemological and methodological issues of theoretical construction in the field of Translation Studies from a historical and global perspective. The theoretical stances are explained in detail through a systemic inquiry into the constructive aspects of theoretical innovation of the American translation theorist Douglas Robinson. In order to renew and promote theoretical thinking in the field of Translation Studies, this book aims to reflect on existing theoretical problems in translation, trace the translation theorist's innovative and constructive ways of thinking about translation theory, and explore productive philosophical and theoretical resources of translation studies. This book will not only be helpful to a further and full understanding of Robinson's thoughts on translation but also offers a rethinking of how to advance Translation Studies epistemologically and methodologically.

Toward a Theology of Struggle Eleazar S. Fernandez, 2009-02-01. The Theology of Struggle is a genuinely popular Filipino theology rooted in the history and culture of a people who have endured colonial oppression at the hands of Spain, North America, and Japan, as well as neo-colonialism and home-grown dictatorship. Because Christianity has played a role in assisting the history of oppression in the Philippines, a theology of struggle must include a struggle in theology to wrest Christian symbols from the hands of the oppressors and return them to the poor. This theology, which is otherwise expressed in articles, poems, art, and action, receives its first systematic treatment in Toward a Theology of Struggle.

In Part One Fernandez establishes the historical and cultural context out of which the Theology of Struggle has emerged Part Two represents Fernandez's own constructive work in which he shows how a theology of struggle must address the quest for identity and peoplehood In Part Three Fernandez explores the question of theological method outlining the areas of convergence and distinction between the Theology of struggle and other Third World theologies as well as setting forth the distinctive challenge that this theology of the Philippines poses to the authority and dominance of Western theology as a whole

Coming Together Ryan Powell, 2019-07-15 In Coming Together Ryan Powell captures the social and political vitality of the first wave of movies made by for and about male desiring men in the United States between World War II and the 1980s From the underground films of Kenneth Anger and the Gay Girls Riding Club to the gay liberation era hardcore films and domestic dramas of Joe Gage and James Bidgood Powell illuminates how central filmmaking and exhibition were to gay socializing and worldmaking Unearthing scores of films and a trove of film related ephemera Coming Together persuasively unsettles popular histories that center Stonewall as a ground zero for gay liberation and visibility Powell asks how this generation of movie making which defiantly challenged legal and cultural norms around sexuality and gender provided and may still provide meaningful models for living
