Decentralizing Energy Decisions The Rebirth Of Community Power:

Decentralizing Energy Decisions Ellis Cose, 2019-04-09 Decision making about energy has come to epitomize a larger struggle taking place in U S society a struggle for control over individual destiny economic resources and the shaping of society itself A host of ideologies has been spawned new federalism and new populism among them Many activist groups argue that making decisions about resources can be a first step in helping people gain control of their lives Focusing on the issues surrounding the control of energy and discussing the limitations and advantages of dealing with the energy problem at the local level the author examines the proposition that granting control over decision making to cities states or regions rather than to the federal government can positively affect public confidence as well as result in more efficient energy planning Mr Cose discusses the various interpretations of decentralization the relationship between decentralization and small scale technologies the overlapping and opposing interests of governments consumers and corporations and the extent to which local governments and political structures are prepared to deal with an issue that is traditionally outside of their sphere The author supports his analysis by looking at specific municipal governments and their attempts successes and failures to respond to the energy crisis He also analyzes the particular problems of community projects Throughout the book he comments on the effect that Reagan administration policies have had on decision making about energy at all levels of government nationwide Energy Abstracts for Policy Analysis ,1984-07 Transforming Power Aynsley Kellow,1996 Originally published in 1996 this book is an exploration and analysis of the electricity industry in the context of uncertainty following the energy crisis of the 1970s and concern over the greenhouse effect Few industries demand a similar level of foresight and planning or such vast amounts of capital The book examines five well known Australian Canadian and New Zealand cases and closely analyses the ways in which various agencies have sought ends to serve the means at their disposal Electricity has long been regarded as a natural monopoly but questions of privatisation regulation and government control are increasingly prevalent The book explores these issues and also notes the experiences of other countries in its analysis of institutional reform Aynsley Kellow argues for different approaches to electricity planning which offer much by way of economic savings and minimisation of environmental problems Energy, Sustainability and the Environment Fereidoon Sioshansi, 2011-06-02 The complexity of carbon reduction and economic sustainability is significantly complicated by competing aspects of socioeconomic practices as well as legislative regulatory and scientific requirements and protocols An easy to read and understand guide Sioshansi along with an international group of contributors moves through the maze of carbon reduction methods and technologies providing steps and insights to meet carbon reduction requirements and maintaining the health and welfare of the firm The book s three part treatment is based on a clear and rigorous exposition of a wide range of options to reduce the carbon footprint Part 1 of the book Challenge of Sustainability examines the fundamental drivers of energy demand economic growth the need for basic energy services and the interdependence of economic political environmental social equity legacy and policy issues Part 2 of the book Technological Solutions examines how energy can be used to support basic energy service needs of homes commercial and industrial facilities and for other applications Part 3 of the book case studies covers a number of innovative projects initiatives concepts or self imposed targets in different parts of the world with the aim of significantly reducing energy use and carbon footprint of a company a community a city or an entire country There was a widespread recognition among environmental engineers and energy economist of the importance of carbon reduction while sustaining the firm s economic growth The only book to bring together both subjects into one easy to understand reference Carbon Reduction and Economic Sustainability not only clearly explains which option has the lowest energy carbon footprint but also which option would better suit the business in question This includes carbon reduction for residential transport industrial and public sectors The only book to clearly explain the economic and environmental engineering aspects of carbon reduction Case studies taken from a number of international projects Carbon reduction options for all sectors of society The role of the planning system in carbon reduction Energy Abstracts for Policy Analysis ,1984 Public Administration Series--Bibliography ,1987 Public Employees and Collective Bargaining Tim J. Watts,1987 Shaped by the State Brent Cebul,Lily Geismer,Mason B. Williams,2019-02-21 American political history has been built around narratives of crisis in which what counts are the moments when seemingly stable political orders collapse and new ones rise from the ashes But while crisis centered frameworks can make sense of certain dimensions of political culture partisan change and governance they also often steal attention from the production of categories like race gender and citizenship status that transcend the usual break points in American history Brent Cebul Lily Geismer and Mason B Williams have brought together first rate scholars from a wide range of subfields who are making structures of state power not moments of crisis or partisan realignment integral to their analyses All of the contributors see political history as defined less by elite subjects than by tensions between state and economy state and society and state and subject tensions that reveal continuities as much as disjunctures This broader definition incorporates investigations of the crosscurrents of power race and identity the recent turns toward the history of capitalism and transnational history and an evolving understanding of American political development that cuts across eras of seeming liberal conservative or neoliberal ascendance The result is a rich revelation of what political history is today Citizen Participation Mary A. Vance,1985 Coal Myths And Environmental Realities Alvin L. Alm,2019-03-01 This book deals with two inconsistent myths that persistently surround industrial use of coal The first myth is that the Clean Air Act precluded the use of coal the second that industrial use of coal will expand rapidly as a result of purely economic choices Through analyzing fuel use decisions actually made by industry Mr Alm concludes that environmental quality standards have played a minor role in industrial choice of fuel Historically natural gas and oil have been both less costly and more convenient fuels for industry to use Coal gained a substantial economic advantage over oil after the oil price increases of the last decade yet it continues to maintain a lower market share than economics alone would suggest Mr Alm demonstrates that coal s share of the fuel market will continue to remain low because of the way U S businesses view fuel use choices For most U S firms energy costs are a relatively small portion of total costs and a minor factor in a firm s ability to compete Faced with alternative capital projects to expand production facilities or to make mandatory investments companies do not generally give high priority to coal conversion projects Moreover most U S firms have little experience with burning coal and that lack of expertise creates additional psychological and institutional barriers to coal s use Finally there is a tendency to prefer high payoff short term investments over projects that promise cost savings many years in the future These are all strong reasons for coal s lackluster performance in the industrial market much more potent forces than environmental regulations      Citizen Participation in Environmental Affairs, 1970-1986 Frederick Frankena, Joann Koelln Frankena, 1988      *Energy in Our Back Yard?
