Christmas Judith Flanders, 2018-11-01 Christmas has been all things to all people a religious festival a family celebration a time of eating and drinking Yet the origins of the customs which characterize the festive season are wreathed in myth When did turkeys become the plat du jour Is the commercialization of Christmas a recent phenomenon or has the emphasis always been on spending Just who is or was Santa Claus And for how long have we been exchanging presents of underwear and socks Food drink and nostalgia for Christmases past seem to be almost as old as the holiday itself far more central to the story of Christmas than religious worship Thirty years after the first recorded Christmas in the fourth century the Archbishop of Constantinople was already warning that too many people were spending the day not in worship but dancing and eating to excess By 1616 the playwright Ben Jonson was nostalgically recalling the Christmases of yesteryear confident that they had been better then In Christmas A History acclaimed social historian and bestselling author Judith Flanders casts a sharp and revealing eye on the myths legends and history of the season from the origins of the holiday in the Roman empire to the emergence of Christmas trees in central Europe to what might just possibly be the first appearance of Santa Claus in Switzerland to draw a picture of the season as it has never been seen before
