Mapping European Empire Russell Foster, 2015-06-26 Empire and maps are mutually reliant phenomena and traceable to the dawn of civilisation Furthermore maps retain a supremely authoritative status as unquestioned reflections of reality In today s image saturated world their influence is more powerful now than at any other time in history This book argues that in the 21st century we are seeing an imperial renaissance in the European Union EU a political organisation which defies categorisation but whose power and influence grows by the year It examines the past present and future of the EU to demonstrate that empire is not a category of state but rather a collective imagination which reshapes history and appropriates an artificial past to validate the policies of the present and the ambitions of the future In doing so this book illuminates the imperial discourse that permeates the mass maps of the modern EU This text will be of key interest to students and scholars of political science EU Studies Human Geography European political history cartography and visual methodologies and international relations Advances in Library Administration and Organization Delmus E.

Williams, Janine Golden, 2014-02-21 Volume 32 of Advances in Library Administration and Organization brings together a collection of studies which highlight up and coming issues that today's library managers and researchers face

Wiegand,Donald G. Jr. Davis,2015-01-28 First Published in 1994 This book focuses on the historical development of the library as an institution Its contents assume no single theoretical foundation or philosophical perspective but instead reflect the richly diverse opinions of its many contributors This text is intended to serve as a reference tool for undergraduate and graduate students interested in library history for library school educators whose teaching requires knowledge of the historical development of library institutions services and user groups and for practicing library professionals The New Nature of Maps J. B. Harley,2002-10-03 In these essays the author draws on ideas in art history literature philosophy and the study of visual culture to subvert the traditional positivist model of cartography and replace it with one grounded in an iconological and semiotic theory of the nature of maps Frames that Speak: Cartouches on Early Modern Maps Chet Van Duzer,2023-05-25 Listen to the New Books Network Podcast This lavishly illustrated book is the first systematic exploration of cartographic cartouches the decorated frames that surround the title or other text or imagery on historic maps It addresses the history of their development the sources cartographers used in creating them and the political economic historical and philosophical messages their symbols convey Cartouches are the most visually appealing parts of maps and also spaces where the cartographer uses decoration to express his or her interests so they are key to interpreting maps The book discusses thirty three cartouches in detail which range from 1569 to 1821 and were chosen for the richness of their imagery The book will open your eyes to a new way of looking at maps Building ,1927
