Deep Memory

Michael Bernard-Donals, Richard Glejzer

Deep Memory:

Deep Memory, Exuberant Hope Walter Brueggemann, The leading Old Testament theologian reflects on the meaning of the gospel in today's world These studies on a variety of biblical texts focus deftly on reading listening to and proclaiming the gospel in a broken fragmented and post Christendom world Brueggemann explores how these traditions have the potential to continually resonate in our contemporary communities and individual lives Witnessing the Disaster Michael

Bernard-Donals, Richard Glejzer, 2003-12-15 Witnessing the Disaster examines how histories films stories and novels memorials and museums and survivor testimonies involve problems of witnessing how do those who survived and those who lived long after the Holocaust make clear to us what happened How can we distinguish between more and less authentic accounts Are histories more adequate descriptors of the horror than narrative Does the susceptibility of survivor accounts to faulty memory and the vestiges of trauma make them any more or less useful as instruments of witness And how do we authenticate their accuracy without giving those who deny the Holocaust a small but dangerous foothold These essayists aim to move past the notion that the Holocaust as an event defies representation They look at specific cases of Holocaust representation and consider their effect their structure their authenticity and the kind of knowledge they produce Taken together they consider the tension between history and memory the vexed problem of eyewitness testimony and its status as evidence and the ethical imperatives of Holocaust representation Fantasies of Witnessing Gary Weissman, 2018-07-05

Fantasies of Witnessing explores how and why those deeply interested in the Holocaust yet with no direct familial connection to it endeavor to experience it vicariously through sites or texts designed to make it real for nonwitnesses Gary Weissman argues that far from overwhelming nonwitnesses with its magnitude of horror the Holocaust threatens to feel distant and unreal A prevailing rhetoric of secondary memory and trauma he contends and efforts to portray the Holocaust as an immediate and personal experience are responses to an encroaching sense of unreality In America we are haunted not by the traumatic impact of the Holocaust but by its absence When we take an interest in the Holocaust we are not overcoming a fearful aversion to its horror but endeavoring to actually feel the horror of what otherwise eludes us Weissman focuses on specific attempts to locate the Holocaust in the person of Elie Wiesel the most renowned survivor and his classic memoir Night in videotaped survivor stories and Lawrence L Langer's celebrated book Holocaust Testimonies and in the films Shoah and Schindler's List These representations he explains constitute a movement away from the view popularized by Wiesel that those who did not live through the Holocaust will never be able to grasp its horror and toward re-creating the Holocaust as an experience nonwitnesses may put themselves through It is only by acknowledging the desire that gives shape to such representations and by exploring their place in the ongoing contest over who really knows the Holocaust and feels its horror that we can arrive at a more candid assessment of our current and future relationships to the Holocaust he says Memory Anne Whitehead, 2008-09-04 The concept of memory has given rise to some of the most exciting new directions in contemporary theory In this much needed guide to a burgeoning field of a study Anne Whitehead presents a history of the concept of memory and its uses encompassing both memory as activity and the nature of memory examines debates around the term in their historical and cultural contexts introduces the reader to key thinkers in the field from ancient Greece to the present day traces the links between theorisations and literary representations of memory Offering a clear and succinct guide to one of the most important terms in contemporary theory this volume is essential reading for anyone entering the field of Memory Studies or seeking to understand current developments in Cultural and Literary Studies

Narrating our Healing Chris N van der Merwe,2009-03-26 In the 1990 s South Africa surprised the world with a peaceful negotiated transition from armed conflict to an inclusive democracy This was followed by the ground breaking Truth and Reconciliation Commission established to confront and work through a troubled past The search for truth and reconciliation in South Africa however is far from completed the country is in many ways still burdened by unresolved individual and collective traumas In this book two academics from the University of Cape Town one a psychologist and the other a literary scholar explore the importance of narrative as a way of working through trauma Although written from within a South African context the work has a much wider relevance It offers illuminating perspectives on the process of narrating our healing the sharing of personal narratives the appropriation of literary narratives and above all the re creating of life narratives shattered by trauma It is a book about the search for meaning when all meaning seems to have been lost it deals with the overwhelming nature of traumatic suffering yet offers some hope of healing The book is remarkably overarching tailored to the needs of scientists and practitioners in the fields of psychology social work education and literature It offers a strong message to all individuals and nations who live in an atmosphere of blame shame and hopelessness Yuval Wolf Professor of Psychology and Dean of Social Sciences Bar Ilan University Narrating Our Healing is a good book in the widest sense of that adjective it is well constructed meticulously researched and likely to deepen understanding of the difficult but profoundly important subject of trauma and how to address it It is something like a handbook for living with suffering both one's own and that of others To have constructed a text that can serve such a purpose is a profoundly admirable achievement Annie Gagliano LitNet It is a timeless and exciting study that should be essential reading for anyone grappling with our present our past and our future Andr  P Brink South African and international author This is one of the best books I have ever read on healing deep wounds Vamik D Volkan M D Professor Emeritus of Psychiatry at the University of Virginia We need to know the truth about what happened in South Africa during the Apartheid years Van der Merwe and Gobodo Madikizela have given us the tools to face that challenge Rolf Wulfswinkel Professor of Modern History New York University The Witness as Object Steffi de Jong, 2018-01-31 Today more than ever before the historical witness is now a museum object in the form of video interviews with individuals remembering events of historical importance Such video testimonies now not only are part of the collections and research activities of museums but become deeply intertwined with narrative and exhibit design With a focus on Holocaust museums this study scrutinizes for the first time this new global process of musealisation of testimony exploring the processes prerequisites and consequences of the transformation of video testimonies into exhibits At Memory's Edge James Edward Young, 2000-01-01 How should Germany commemorate the mass murder of Jews once committed in its name In 1997 James E Young was invited to join a German commission appointed to find an appropriate design for a national memorial in Berlin to the European Jews killed in World War II As the only foreigner and only Jew on the panel Young gained a unique perspective on Germany's fraught efforts to memorialize the Holocaust In this book he tells for the first time the inside story of Germany's national Holocaust memorial and his own role in it In exploring Germany's memorial crisis Young also asks the more general question of how a generation of contemporary artists can remember an event like the Holocaust which it never knew directly Young examines the works of a number of vanguard artists in America and Europe including Art Spiegelman Shimon Attie David Levinthal and Rachel Whiteread all born after the Holocaust but indelibly shaped by its memory as passed down through memoirs film photographs and museums In the context of the moral and aesthetic questions raised by these avant garde projects Young offers fascinating insights into the controversy surrounding Berlin's newly opened Jewish museum designed by Daniel Libeskind as well as Germany's soon to be built national Holocaust memorial designed by Peter Eisenman Illustrated with striking images in color and black and white At Memory's Edge is the first book in any language to chronicle these projects and to show how we remember the Holocaust in the after images of its history On the Side of the Angels Marie L. Baird, 2002 Contends that after the Holocaust spirituality requires that self transcendence be defined primarily as ethical responsibility Ch 4 pp 89-118 Ethical Responsibility and Holocaust Rescuers concludes that even though theories of rescue do not clearly establish an overt religious motivation many rescuers were influenced to act by a religious motivation based on ethical responsibility

Memorializing the Past Heidi Grunebaum, 2011 Everyday Life in South Africa after the Truth and Reconciliation

Commission This work is a meditation on the shaping of time and its impact on living with and understanding atrocity in South Africa in the wake of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission TRC It is an examination of the ways that the institutionalization of memory has managed perceptions of time and transition of events and happenings of sense and emotion of violence and recovery of the past and the new Through this process a public language of memory has been carved into collective modes of meaning It is a language that seems deprived of the hopes dreams and possibilities for the promise of a just and redemptive future it once nurtured Truth commissions are profoundly implicated in the social politics of memorialization Memory as a conceptual historical and experiential discourse about the past relates to the ways in which cruelty is integrated into societal understandings which include cognitive and philosophic frameworks and constructions of social meaning The politics of historical truth of memory and of justice play out in unintended ways There is not only the ongoing struggle for survivors of state terror but also the ways that the everyday shapings of silences the emptiness of reconciliation and the fracturing of hope remain embedded in political life The Cycle of the Year as a Path of Initiation Sergei O. Prokofieff, 2014-03-12 In ancient times humanity possessed an innate knowledge of the spiritual foundations of existence Such knowledge could be acquired through inwardly accompanying the cycle of the year and its connected great seasonal festivals But this instinctive knowledge had to be lost in order for human beings to discover individual freedom In our time as Sergei O Prokofieff demonstrates in this comprehensive work this knowledge must be found anew through the free light filled consciousness of the fully developed human personality Tracing the spiritual path of the yearly cycle Prokofieff penetrates to the deeper esoteric realities of the seven Christian festivals of Michaelmas Christmas Epiphany Easter Ascension Whitsun and St John s Tide Basing his research on the work of the twentieth century initiate Rudolf Steiner he reveals how these festivals are spiritual facts that exist independently of religious traditions and cultural customs Working with the festivals in an esoteric sense can provide a true path of initiation ultimately enabling an experience of the Being of the Earth Christ The journey of study through this book can thus lead the reader to an experience of the modern Christian Rosicrucian path along which it is possible to take the first steps towards life in partnership with the course of cosmic existence Women in European Holocaust Films Ingrid Lewis, 2018-01-19 This book considers how women s experiences have been treated in films dealing with Nazi persecution Focusing on fiction films made in Europe between 1945 and the present this study explores dominant discourses on and cinematic representation of women as perpetrators victims and resisters Ingrid Lewis contends that European Holocaust Cinema underwent a rich and complex trajectory of change with regard to the representation of women This change both reflects and responds to key socio cultural developments in the intervening decades as well as to new directions in cinema historical research and politics of remembrance The book will appeal to international scholars students and educators within the fields of Holocaust Studies Film Studies European Cinema and Women s Studies
