Deep Hearts Core Is A Suitcase:

International Who's Who in Poetry 2005 Europa Publications, 2004-08-02 The 13th edition of the International Who's Who in Poetry is a unique and comprehensive guide to the leading lights and freshest talent in poetry today. Containing biographies of more than 4,000 contemporary poets world wide, this essential reference work provides truly international coverage. In addition to the well known poets, talented up and coming writers are also profiled. Contents: Each entry provides full career history and publication details. An international appendices section lists prizes and past prize winners, organizations, magazines and publishers. A summary of poetic forms and rhyme schemes. The career profile section is supplemented by lists of Poets Laureate, Oxford University professors of poetry, poet winners of the Nobel Prize for Literature, winners of the Pulitzer Prize for American Poetry and of the King's/Queen's Gold medal and other poetry prizes. Ley Lines H. L. Hix, 2014-10-22 Ley lines mark alignments of sacred sites such as ridgetops and ancient megaliths and create pathways between them. This book too marks alignments and creates pathways but its sacred sites are not monuments, they're artworks and poems. Its various forms of exchange between writers and artists offer unique access to contemporary art, poetry and the creative process. In this unique anthology, working poets respond to questions about their recent books, painters and other artists offer statements about their work and writers respond to artworks. These offerings and exchanges are juxtaposed so as to speak to one another in a capacious, resonant dialogue. The result is a broad minded and inclusive poetics, a vision of creative work as a constituent of personal and civic life. Anyone who nurtures the creative impulse will enjoy Ley Lines and return to it again and again. Writing students, art students and any reader engaged in artistic practice will find in Ley Lines not a how to manual or step by step instruction but an inexhaustible vein of instructive reflection on imaginative work and the creative life. Current Lisa Fishman, 2011-01-27 Lisa Fishman's Current follows The Happiness Experiment (Ahsahta, 2007) further into an experience of time as theater, weather, myth, insect, body, plantlife, transcription, synchrony and figment. Her poems are pressed into argument and song by means of attention to the moment and to cross currents of making of music over time. Current enacts a poetics of the uncanny in very close touch with the actual, creating a field of vibrations in which the possibilities and limitations of vision and art collide and change. Rain Through High Windows Edward H. Hoepfner, 2000 These poems slow the planet so gradually that all adapt to its halt; one forgets that time should be passing, accepts the poet's static, divine and lets hours line up like saints. Each poem loses us further in Hoepfner's wilderness; his natural world is held lightly on the tongue until it dissolves; his patience allows us to listen as the full moon in soft Italian whispers off the balcony, parsing bluish dust. This is a book that finds peace not in consequence but in the innocence of result, the slip into what comes after. Less of Her Paula McLain, 1999 Poetry In Paula McLain's book LESS OF HER the soul steps forward and sings a torch song. The song is both fevered and measured, bearing the double burden of an almost unforgivable past and the possibility of mercy in the future. And the voice is naked, urgent, unflinching, a girl's voice in the mouth of a woman or a woman's voice in the mouth of a girl This is a first book to listen to again and again Bruce Smith

Time as Distance Mark Halperin, 2001 Poetry In his latest collection TIME AS DISTANCE Halperin explores some of his and our various lives traveling along a time line from Yakima Washington and Tallinn Pennsylvania back to Tallinn Estonia deep into his own Russian Jewish ancestry Along that time line he and we all live still always for Halperin time strands and estranges us it streamlines and brings us together These are poems that travel immense distances very quietly without gimmicks but with saving heart and irresistible grace Nancy Eimers Hilarity Patty Seyburn, 2009 Winner of the 2008

Green Rose Prize in Poetry Inside the Yellow Dress Mary Ann Samyn, 2001 Poetry The dress of INSIDE THE YELLOW DRESS is both the clothing of childhood of girlhood in particular and the garment of language we all put on This is a book about expectations about not having any and about how the language gives us more than we deserve anyway Her mouth is moving toward everything Everything is just about right to describe the scope of this voice this amazing book by one of our truly significant poets Bin Ramke Perfect Disappearance Martha Rhodes, 2000 In these haunting and haunted poems suddenly the world is rendered unstable We encounter a sense of jeopardy Rhodes enters new realms of the darkly erotic with the liberated sensibility of a survivor Pennsylvania Collection Agency Michael Burkard, 2001 Poetry The lost book

PENNSYLVANIA COLLECTION AGENCY the ninth book from Michael Burkard is comprised of poems written in 1986 but withheld from publication until now This volume utilizes the unifying structure of a single year in the poet's life as an organizing principle Burkard has been quietly accumulating one of the most fascinating verse biographies we have and in this book we visit old territories in unexpectedly candid poems about alcoholism beauty and the poet's childhood Burkard further emblazons the arc of theme and language that is beginning to coalesce into one of the most distinguishable formal and emotional landscapes in contemporary poetry David Dodd Lee Tocqueville Khaled Mattawa, 2010 Poetry In his masterful fourth collection Khaled Mattawa is concerned above all with the ramifications of a new global culture that most American poets have thus far ignored and neglected partly out of incomprehension partly out of fear By setting himself against such timidity Mattawa offers his most sustained and experimental reckoning with matters of cultural and social witness TOCQUEVILLE is part personal lyric part jeremiad part shooting script and part troubled homage to the great wry chronicler of American society evoked in the book's title It is a book of relentless invention that is also relentlessly urgent and that is a very rare thing indeed Khaled Mattawa is quite simply one of the finest fiercest and most original poets of his generation David Wojahn Undid in the Land of Undone Lee Upton, 2007 Poetry In Upton's fifth book of poetry she returns to tableaux in history both mythical and actual She pictures Emily Dickinson with blossoms in her hands Dido standing before the burning pyre at Carthage even lines from Shakespeare become fodder for a rich imagining of scene The poems move between ancient settings and modern metaphorical language high seriousness and humor Camille Yvette Welsch

New Numbers Josie Kearns, 2000 These poems step forth with their eyes closed trust that some soil will support their weight Josie Kearns begins where language leaves off this is not whimsical reinventions but a strong case for extension that flowers from need The poet finds both ease and struggle in the infinite her lines push through their landscapes as if the air will both carry and resist them This understanding of the nature of things makes Kearns poetry so gently balanced so willing to let life maneuver itself through the clutter Her poems have a clairvoyant quality she is one of the messengers between worlds the medium for what until now was nameless

Tall If Mark Irwin, 2008 Poetry TALL IF is Mark Irwin's sixth collection of poetry Mark Irwin's poetry and essays have appeared widely in many literary magazines including The American Poetry Review The Atlantic Georgia Review The Kenyon Review Paris Review Poetry The Nation New England Review and the New Republic The author of five previous collections of poetry The Halo of Desire 1987 Against the Meanwhile Wesleyan University Press 1989 Quick Now Always BOA 1996 White City BOA 2000 and Bright Hunger BOA 2004 he has also translated two volumes of poetry one from the French and one from the Romanian

Talking Diamonds Linda Nemec Foster, 2009 Poetry A humanist at heart Linda Nemec Foster has demanded from her poetry an artfulness that engages ordinary life With each new book her work has continued to mature deepen console surprise and TALKING DIAMONDS is as wise as it is lovely Stuart Dybek

Monument in a Summer Hat James Armstrong, 1999 Poetry In James Armstrong's pellucid poetry the drifting of autumn leaves shares space with the baroque architecture of nineteenth century England A woman peruses a book of pharmaceuticals in a coffee shop looking for hints of happiness And a naked woman wearing hip boots stares out of the 1940s in a photograph hung in a Michigan bar Twilight is always moving the shadows of our urban lives out toward the country our inherited past where a deer or a heron waits like an angel glimpsed through the fog Armstrong's poems elucidate the mystery and beauty of borders temporal and historical as well as geographical while his pastoral sensibility floods our senses with images of the natural world seemingly stopping time edifying us and helping us for a few moments anyway to transcend our enervated contemporary lives Reading this book is like diving into a deep lake It cleanses the soul

When the Moon Knows You're Wandering Ruth Ellen Kocher, 2002 Winner of the 2001 Green Rose Prize In When the Moon Knows You're Wandering Ruth Ellen Kocher is remarkably attuned to the overture of the object the intimate disclosures of rain bougainvillea sweet carrot I think anyone opening this book will discover the singular way inanimate things come to love us by giving us back some of ourselves Allison Funk

Guess Can Gallop Heidi Lynn Staples, 2004 Poetry Clinamen Sinner man Cinnamon In her relentless pursuit of swerving meaning Heidi Lynn Staples reinvents poetry word for word GUESS CAN GALLOP is a delight for ear and eye Charles Bernstein Please read this fine orator whose poems include the world's battiest job application a melodious ghazal pastiches on a nursery rhyme and on Plath and a sonnet novel Caroline Knox

Causeway Elaine Sexton, 2008 Poetry Lodged in various locales whether urban or rural earthbound or on the open sea answering a landscape a family memory or the vagaries of love the poems of CAUSEWAY are always informed by an honest buoyancy of spirit that can mix the scent of lilacs with smokers coughs as imagination testifies to the hard won realization that Even in these toxic times we live we thrive Eamon Grennan Again and again the poet attempts to reconcile herself to the everyday obscene always searching for home in a thrift shop find something a mother not yours or mine left behind CAUSEWAY celebrates the probability of such human connection in poems taut and insistent and resonant with desire When Sexton writes speaking for us all T he ones who love me love me god knows why we know she s not quite joking Michael Wate The Translator's Diary Jon Pineda,2008 Poetry Winner of the 2007 Green Rose Prize In THE TRANSLATOR S DIARY where truth never survives its translation Jon Pineda composes a haunting elegy His keen attention journeys through absence and presence fragmentation and loss in memorable riveting language Arthur Sze THE TRANSLATOR S DIARY reminds us that one of poetry s necessary functions is translation of literal experience and abstract emotion the personal and shared With beautiful formal precision Pineda moves skillfully from couplets to sonnets to lyric sequence carefully pressing syllables against the dark in this timeless poignant volume Claudia Emerson
