culprit and cast a harsh light on campus political correctness      The Shaker ,1871      Pepper Pike Les Roberts,2005 The stately homes of Pepper Pike house some of Cleveland s biggest movers and shakers And one of them an advertising exec named Richard Amber is missing Private eye Milan Jacovich follows a trail that leads from posh private gun clubs to sleek corporate offices and into the terror of murder Reissue      The Dutch Les Roberts,2006 12 in a series of 13 Cleveland based mysteries by Les Roberts First time in trade paperback Entire series now back in print in a uniform edition with new covers In this book a distraught father hires Milan Jacovich to investigate the apparent suicide of his daughter What Milan uncovers isn t pretty and involves a sinister web of lies and sordid behavior      Contesting Stereotypes and Creating Identities Andrew J. Fuligni,2007-05-31 Since the end of legal segregation in schools most research on educational inequality has focused on economic and other structural obstacles to the academic achievement of disadvantaged groups But in Contesting Stereotypes and Creating Identities a distinguished group of psychologists and social scientists argue that stereotypes about the academic potential of some minority groups remain a significant barrier to their achievement This groundbreaking volume examines how low institutional and cultural expectations of minorities hinder their academic success how these stereotypes are perpetuated and the ways that minority students attempt to empower themselves by redefining their identities The contributors to Contesting Stereotypes and Creating Identities explore issues of ethnic identity and educational inequality from a broad range of disciplinary perspectives drawing on historical analyses social psychological experiments interviews and observation Meagan Patterson and Rebecca Bigler show that when teachers label or segregate students according to social categories even in subtle ways students are more likely to rank and stereotype one another so educators must pay attention to the implicit or unintentional ways that they emphasize group differences Many of the contributors contest John Ogbu s theory that African Americans have developed an oppositional culture that devalues academic effort as a form of acting white Daphna Oyserman and Daniel Brickman in their study of black and Latino youth find evidence that strong identification with their ethnic group is actually associated with higher academic motivation among minority youth Yet as Julie Garcia and Jennifer Crocker find in a study of African American female college students the desire to disprove negative stereotypes about race and gender can lead to anxiety low self esteem and excessive self defeating levels of effort which impede learning and academic success The authors call for educational institutions to diffuse these threats to minority students identities by emphasizing that intelligence is a malleable rather than a fixed trait Contesting Stereotypes and Creating Identities reveals the many hidden ways that educational opportunities are denied to some social groups At the same time this probing and wide ranging anthology provides a fresh perspective on the creative ways that these groups challenge stereotypes and attempt to participate fully in the educational system      The Duke of Cleveland Les Roberts,2005 Hired by a young heiress to find her middle aged lover a potter who owes her money Milan Jacovich is thrust among the artists who frequent the Coventry section of Cleveland Heights Milan learns the man is a con man and a deal maker who has
