Deerhurst Above And Below Ground:

The Significance of Doorway Positions in English Medieval Parochial Churches and Chapels Geoffrey

Sedlezky,2023-08-24 This book analyses the positions of external church doorways in England to investigate the significance that positioning had for the function and design of these buildings The author proposes a link between the design and function of parochial churches and chapels with the number and attributes of their doorways Sustaining Belief Francesca Tinti,2017-03-02 This book reconstructs the late Anglo Saxon history of the church of Worcester covering the period between Bishops Waerferth and Wulfstan II Starting with an examination of the episcopal succession and the relations between bishops and cathedral community the volume moves on to consider the development of the church of Worcester s landed estate its extent and its organization These are analysed in connection with the very significant measures taken in the eleventh century to preserve and sometimes manipulate the memory of past land transactions Of paramount importance among such measures was the production of two cartularies Liber Wigorniensis and Hemming s cartulary respectively compiled at the beginning and at the very end of the eleventh century Last but not least the volume considers ecclesiastical organization and pastoral care in the diocese of Worcester by looking at the relations between the cathedral church and the other churches in the diocese Special attention is given to the payment of church dues and to such aspects of pastoral care as preaching penance and visitation of the sick Thanks to the combined analysis of these areas the book offers a detailed picture of the main occupations and preoccupations of the late Anglo Saxon church of Worcester in its interaction with society at large from its tenants to its faithful from the clergy in its diocese to its opponents in land disputes Gloucestershire David Verey,Alan Brooks,2002-01-01 Gloucestershire 2 The Vale and the Forest of Dean and its companion Gloucestershire I The Cotswolds provide a lively and uniquely comprehensive guide to the architecture of Gloucestershire Alan Brooks s extensively revised and expanded editions of David Verey s original volumes bring together the latest research on a county unusually rich in attractive and interesting buildings The area covered lies on both sides of the River Severn rising from flat alluvial lands to the lower slopes of the Cotswold Escarpment on the east and the rough wooded hills of the Forest of Dean on the Welsh border with its distinctive industrial inheritance Architecture is generally more varied and unpredictable than in the Cotswolds stone timber brick and stucco all have local strongholds The Vale is most famous for its two great churches Gloucester Cathedral and Tewkesbury Abbey both Norman buildings with brilliantly inventive late medieval modifications The other major settlement is the spa town of Cheltenham with its fine parades of Regency terraces Country houses include Thornbury Castle greatest of Early Tudor private houses timber framed manors such as Preston Court and the extravagantly Neo Gothic Toddington churches range from the enigmatic Anglo Saxon pair at Deerhurst to Randall Wells s Arts and Crafts experiment at Kempley Amongst the memorable post war landmarks are the suspension bridges and nuclear power stations on the banks of the Severn and Aztec West one of the best British business parks on the northern fringes of Bristol Visitors

Frederick Watkins Vicar 1832 1871 made a particular study of the church fabric and identified both surviving and demolished Anglo Saxon structures Restoration under his direction reversed most of the medieval changes he recognised within the standing fabric leaving the church with much the same appearance as it has today The Brixworth Archaeological Research Committee founded in 1972 embarked on an in depth archaeological and historical study of All Saints Limited excavation revealed evidence for the former extent of the cemetery and examined remains of the early structures to the north of the church including one whose foundations cut a ditch containing 8th century material The later 8th century date for the foundation of the church was confirmed by radiocarbon dates from charcoal extracted from construction mortar in the church fabric A complete stone by stone survey of the standing fabric accompanied by petrological identifications has led to a refined appraisal of the construction sequence and the identification of exotic stone types and Roman bricks reused from earlier buildings up to 40 km distant The archaeological geological and laboratory findings presented here have been amplified by contextual studies placing the church against its archaeological architectural liturgical and historical background with detailed comparisons with standing and excavated buildings of similar age in north Europe and Italy

Techniques of Archaeological Excavation Philip Barker, 1993 Immediately hailed as the standard work and one of the most widely used archaeological field manuals Philip Barker's survey of current excavation techniques now in its third edition remains an indispensable guide for archaeologists Bowhill Stuart R Blaylock, 2013-04-15 Bowhill is an important late medieval house near Exeter This monograph demonstrates how examination of its historical development and the material of its construction were used to deepen understanding about it and to inform a repair programme
