The League of Nations and the Debate on Disarmament (1918-1919) Sami Sarè, 2013 This essay regards the early stages of the debate on Disarmament at the end of World War I when the international community intended to limit countries armaments and expenses according to a widespread sentiment in public opinion after a huge moral and physical devastation In 1918 some draft projects of the League of Nations Covenant were elaborated by the Great Powers and the original texts demonstrate the initial absence of the matter but as the brainstorming continued the articles regarding the way to disarm appeared even more pregnant The question at stake concerned the reduction of armaments to the lowest point consistent with national defence and the fulfilment of international obligations the abolition of the mandatory conscription the prohibition to earn private profits from the manufacture of arms the control of arms trafficking and the full and frank publicity of military programs In 1919 during the Paris Peace Conference motivated me worked to create an organization forerunner of the United Nations with the aim of avoiding future wars In the final version of the Covenant some articles to realize Disarmament were present and a specific Commission to carry on the related duties was established the correspondence between the protagonists shows the difficulties in approaching the issue Language and Politics Noam Chomsky, 2004 An indispensable guide through the work of the world's most influential living intellectual Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, 1959-05-31 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin's iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world Eisenhower, Science Advice, and the Nuclear Test-Ban Debate, 1945-1963 Benjamin P. Greene, 2007 Based on extensive research in government archives and private papers this book analyzes the secret debate within the Eisenhower administration over the pursuit of a nuclear test ban agreement In contrast to much recent scholarship this study concludes that Eisenhower strongly desired to reach an accord with the Soviet Union and the United Kingdom to cease nuclear weapons testing For Eisenhower a test ban would ease Cold War tensions slow the nuclear arms race and build confidence toward disarmament however he faced continual resistance from his early scientific advisers most notably Lewis L Strauss and Edward Teller Extensive research into previously unavailable government archival sources and collections of private manuscripts reveals the manipulative acts of test ban opponents and other factors that inhibited Eisenhower's actions throughout his presidency Meticulously analyzed these sources underscore Eisenhower's dependence on the counsel of his science advisors such as Strauss James R Killian and George B Kistiakowsky to determine the course he pursued in regard to several components of his national security strategy In addition to its comprehensive analysis of the test ban debate this book makes important contributions to the scholarly literature assessing
