Schraer-Joiner,2014 Written by an expert in the field who is both a teacher and a teacher educator this book is an in depth and practical resource for educators and parents who wish to introduce music to children with hearing loss Author Lyn Schraer Joiner makes a compelling case for offering music education to children with hearing loss before presenting a series of important and up to date teaching strategies meant to inform their educational experience including preparations for the classroom communication strategies for parents and teaching staff and tips on more specific or technical matters such as conducting musical audiograms These resources provide a solid background for hands on instructional materials such as music lessons supplemental activities educational resources discussion points and journal samples for the classroom and home Schraer Joiner goes to great lengths to offer detailed purposeful suggestions for specific classroom settings such as general music choral ensemble and instrumental ensemble as well as a set of recommended listening lessons that take this potential variety of settings into account Furthermore Schraer Joiner provides suggestions for incorporating music into everyday activities and also presents an overview of recent research which reinforces the benefits of music upon social and emotional development as well as speech and language development Each chapter concludes with a section entitled For Your Consideration which features review questions ideas and instructional activities that teachers and parents can accomplish with deaf and hard of hearing children The book s Kids Only online component provides deaf and hard of hearing children with descriptions of the many opportunities available to them in the arts inspirational case studies and stories as well as important ideas and topics for deaf and hard of hearing children to consider discussing with the teachers family members and healthcare professionals that they work with The message of this book is a powerful one particularly in this day and age As hearing aid and cochlear implant technologies improve and become increasingly widespread all teachers especially music teachers should expect to see more deaf and hard of hearing children in their classrooms Awareness and preparation are not only vital in aiding these children in the classroom but are in fact required of teachers by federal law This book is a comprehensive resource for teachers and parents who wish to gain a better understanding of the emerging field of music education for students with hearing loss

The Routledge Guide to Teaching Ethics in Translation and Interpreting Education Rebecca Tipton, 2024-03-05 Routledge Guides to Teaching Translation and Interpreting is a series of practical guides to key areas of translation and interpreting for instructors, lecturers, and course designers. This book provides university-level educators in translation and interpreting with a practical set of resources to support a pedagogically engaged approach to ethics. Encompassing critical engagement and reflection, the resources have been designed to be easily developed and adapted to specific teaching contexts. The book promotes an integrated approach to ethics teaching. Its core goals are to improve the quality of student learning about ethics, develop confidence in ethical decision making, and enhance a commitment to ethics beyond the programme of study. The approach includes emphasis on problems of practice or ethical dilemmas using real-world examples but simultaneously encompasses a more wide-ranging set of ethical questions for both educators and their students. Including chapters on the ethical implications of using technology and the ethics involved in assessment and feedback, equal weight is given to both translation and interpreting. Providing a key point of reference for information on different theories of ethics, insight into pedagogical practices around the globe, and practical guidance on resource development for classroom use and extension activities for independent learning, this is an essential text for all instructors and lecturers teaching ethics in translation and interpreting studies.
