Stolfi,2014-11-20 How close did Germany come to winning World War II Did Hitler throw away victory in Europe after his troops had crushed the Soviet field armies defending Moscow by August 1941 R H S Stolfi offers a dramatic new picture of Hitler s conduct in World War II and a fundamental reinterpretation of the course of the war Adolf Hitler generally is thought to have been driven by a blitzkrieg mentality in the years 1939 to 1941 In fact Stolfi argues he had no such outlook on the war From the day Britain and France declared war Hitler reacted with a profoundly conservative cast of mind and pursued a circumscribed strategy pushing out siege lines set around Germany by the Allies Interpreting Hitler as a siege F hrer explain his apparent aberrations in connection with Dunkirk his fixation on the seizure of Leningrad and his fateful decision in the summer of 1941 to deflect Army Group Center into the Ukraine when both Moscow and victory in World War II were within its reach Unaware of Hitler s siege orientation the German Army planned blitz campaigns Through daring operational concepts and bold tactics the army won victories over several Allied powers in World War II and these led to the great campaign against the Soviet Union in summer of 1941 Stolfi postulates that in August 1941 German Army Group Center had the strength both to destroy the Red field armies defending the Soviet capital and to advance to Moscow and beyond The defeat of the Soviet Union would have assured victory in World War II Nevertheless Hitler ordered the army group south to secure the resources of the Ukraine against a potential siege And a virtually assured German victory slipped away This radical reinterpretation of Hitler and the capabilities of the German Army leads to a reevaluation of World War II in which the lesson to be learned is not how the Allies won the war but how close the Germans came to a quick and decisive victory long before the United States was drawn into the battle      Professional Journal of the United States Army ,1976      The Threat on the Horizon Loch K.

Johnson,2011-02-09 The Aspin Brown Commission of 1995 1996 led by former U S Defense Secretaries Les Aspin and Harold Brown was a landmark inquiry into the activities of America s secret agencies The purpose of the commission was to help the Central Intelligence Agency and other organizations in the U S intelligence community adapt to the quite different world that had emerged after the end of the Cold War in 1991 In The Threat on the Horizon eminent national security scholar Loch K Johnson who served as Aspin s assistant offers a comprehensive insider s account of this inquiry Based on a close sifting of government documents and media reports interviews with participants and above all his own eyewitness impressions Johnson's thorough history offers a unique window onto why the terrorist attacks of 2001 caught the United States by surprise and why the intelligence community failed again in 2002 when it predicted that Iraq possessed weapons of mass destruction It will be the first published account by an insider of a presidential commission on intelligence a companion volume to Johnson's acclaimed study of the Church Committee investigation into intelligence in 1975 A Season of Inquiry This examination of the Aspin Brown Commission is an invaluable source for anyone interested in the how the intelligence agencies of the world's most powerful nation struggled to confront new global threats that followed the collapse of the Soviet empire and why Washington D C was unprepared for the calamities that would soon arise
