Decline And Fall Of The American Automobile Industry:

The Decline and Fall of the American Automobile Industry Brock Yates,1983 Analyzes the reasons for the failures of the American auto industry to compete with foreign imports and to make use of modern technology and styling Bad Old Days Alan J. Levine,2017-07-28 For many especially those on the political left the 1950s are the bad old days The widely accepted list of what was allegedly wrong with that decade includes the Cold War McCarthyism racial segregation self satisfied prosperity and empty materialism The failings are coupled with ignoring poverty and other social problems complacency conformity the suppression of women and puritanical attitudes toward sex In all the conventional wisdom sees the decade as bland and boring with commonly accepted people paralyzed with fear of war Communism or McCarthyism or all three Alan J Levine shows that the commonly accepted picture of the 1950s is flawed It distorts a critical period of American history That distortion seems to be dictated by an ideological agenda including an emotional obsession with a sentimentalized version of the 1960s that in turn requires maintaining a particular misleading view of the post World War II era that preceded it Levine argues that a critical view of the 1950s is embedded in an unwillingness to realistically evaluate the evolution of American society since the 1960s Many and not only liberals and those further to the left desperately desire to avoid seeing or admitting just how badly many things have gone in the United States since the 1960s Bad Old Days shows that the conventional view of the 1950s stands in opposition to the reality of the decade Far from being the dismal prelude to a glorious period of progress the postwar period of the late 1940s and 1950s was an era of unprecedented progress and prosperity This era was then derailed by catastrophic political and economic misjudgments and a drastic shift in the national ethos that contributed nothing or less than nothing to a better world U.S. Auto Trade Problems United States. Congress. House. Committee on Energy and Commerce. Subcommittee on Commerce, Transportation, and Tourism,1983 The Fall of an American Rome Quentin R. Skrabec Jr.,2014-03-01 This is the story of the de industrialization of America written by a Business professor with a background in steel company management who grew up in the city of Pittsburgh and loved its manufacturing environment The book is based on the facts and aims to avoid any partisan political viewpoint which is not as difficult as it may seem since both U S political parties support free trade economics The story does not single out the union the workers management politicians or American voters and consumers since there is plenty of blame to share Even the economic policy of the country since 1945 which clearly must carry a large portion of the blame was accepted for all the right reasons Free trade was to promote world peace and democracy No one foresaw the ancillary effects of the 1970s on the United States Yet this approach has brought destruction upon our cities workers managers and country The author s perspective is one of a love for American manufacturing and those once robust cities such as Detroit Toledo Pittsburgh Akron and so many others that drove forward the American economy The Japanese Automobile Industry Michael A. The Second Wave Philip Scranton, 2001 Though it had helped define the New South era the first wave of regional industrialization had clearly lost momentum even before the Great Depression These nine original case studies look at how World War II and its aftermath transformed the economy culture and politics of the South From perspectives grounded in geography law history sociology and economics several contributors look at southern industrial sectors old and new aircraft and defense cotton textiles timber and pulp carpeting oil refining and petrochemicals and automobiles One essay challenges the perception that southern industrial growth was spurred by a disproportionate share of federal investment during and after the war In covering the variety of technological managerial and spatial transitions brought about by the South's second wave of industrialization the case studies also identify a set of themes crucial to understanding regional dynamics investment and development workforce training planning cost containment and environmental concerns equal employment opportunities rural to urban shifts and the decay of local economies entrepreneurship and coordination of supply service and manufacturing processes From boardroom to factory floor the variety of perspectives in The Second Wave will significantly widen our understanding of the dramatic reshaping of the region in the decades after 1940

professionalism that would eventually produce world class Canadian events and racers that course would also ultimately change the purpose of the sport from personal recreation to mass entertainment As technological innovations drove up the costs of competing at the top ranks racers were forced to rely on sponsors who commercialized and ultimately gained control of the sport The end result Charters argues was the marginalization of the amateur competitor and of the CASC itself Based on extensive research into the CASC s records and dozens of interviews with former competitors and officials The Chequered Past opens a window into the rich but virtually unknown history of the auto sport and claims for it a place in Canadian sports history Internal Combustion Edwin Black,2008-04-30 An explosive eye opening expose of the corporate forces that have for more than a century sabotaged the creation of alternative energies and vehicles in order to keep us dependent on oil There is enough truth in this book to revolutionize our way of life Winner of four awards for editorial excellence American Society of Journalists and Authors Best Book Thomas Edison Award Green Globes and an AJPA Rockower Award
