Decline Of Iranshahr:

The Decline of Iranshahr Peter Christensen, 2016 The history of the Middle East is traditionally structured around the rise and fall of dynasties and states The widely perceived view is that after the glories of an earlier golden age the region went into a steady and prolonged decline populations decreased ancient cities decayed and nomadism spread at the expense of civilized culture In this pioneering text Peter Christensen challenges this story of decline Long out of print but now reissued with a new introduction by the author this important work is both a foundational text in the environmental history of the Middle East and a pioneering reassessment of traditional ideas about the historical processes of Iran and the Middle East region Bloomsbury Publishing The Decline of Iranshahr Peter Christensen, 1993 Timurids in Transition Maria Subtelny, 2007-08-30 How did the the descendants of Tamerlane collectively known as the Timurids make the transition from a nomadic empire to a sedentary polity based on the Perso Islamic model and what effect did the process of transition have on their Turko Mongolian customs and identity This volume seeks to answer these questions by utilizing the Weberian concepts of the routinization of charismatic authority and the patrimonial household state Focusing on the period of the last Timurid ruler Sul n usain Bayqara 1469 1506 the author examines the impact of the introduction of Persian modes of bureaucratic administration on the evolution of Timurid government and describes the development of the agrarian economy of the eastern Iranian province of Khorasan through the Islamic institution of the pious endowment Based on an exceptionally broad range of sources in Persian Arabic and Turkic languages the book provides a new paradigm for understanding the Timurids within the framework of post Mongol history and offers fresh insights into Turko Persian relations and the problem of acculturation in medieval Iran The Collapse of the Eastern Mediterranean Ronnie Ellenblum, 2012-08-02 As a Medieval Warm Period prevailed in Western Europe during the tenth and eleventh centuries the eastern Mediterranean region from the Nile to the Oxus was suffering from a series of climatic disasters which led to the decline of some of the most important civilizations and cultural centres of the time This provocative study argues that many well documented but apparently disparate events such as recurrent drought and famine in Egypt mass migrations in the steppes of central Asia and the decline in population in urban centres such as Baghdad and Constantinople are connected and should be understood within the broad context of climate change Drawing on a wealth of textual and archaeological evidence Ronnie Ellenblum explores the impact of climatic and ecological change across the eastern Mediterranean in this period to offer a new perspective on why this was a turning point in the history of the Islamic world A Companion to Global Environmental History J. R. McNeill, Erin Stewart Mauldin, 2025-02-06 A COMPANION TO GLOBAL ENVIRONMENTAL HISTORY Equips both specialists and newcomers with the historical intellectual and political context for engagement with the environment Providing multiple points of entry into a dynamic fast growing field A Companion to Global Environmental History explores the many contours of the relationship between human societies and the natural world on which they depend Bringing together essays by an international roster of both established experts and emerging scholars this volume covers a uniquely broad range of temporal geographic thematic and contextual approaches to the practice of global environmental history Thirty three detailed chapters describe how the relationship between society and nature has changed over time examine the various drivers of change and environmental transformations survey different types of environmental thought and action around the world and more Now in its second edition the Companion is fully revised to reflect major research developments and new trajectories within the field Updated chapters that present new evidence for longstanding debates and innovative applications of environmental history are accompanied by six entirely new chapters on India China Africa early modern cities global environmental governance and European environmentalism Offering fresh insights into environmental thought culture policy and politics A Companion to Global Environmental History Second Edition is an ideal textbook for undergraduate and graduate students and an invaluable reference for scholars researchers and environmental historians

Humans Versus Nature Daniel R. Headrick, 2020 Since the appearance of Homo sapiens on the planet hundreds of thousands of years ago human beings have sought to exploit their environments extracting as many resources as their technological ingenuity has allowed As technologies have advanced in recent centuries that impulse has remained largely unchecked exponentially accelerating the human impact on the environment Humans versus Nature tells a history of the global environment from the Stone Age to the present emphasizing the adversarial relationship between the human and natural worlds Nature is cast as an active protagonist rather than a mere backdrop or victim of human malfeasance Daniel R Headrick shows how environmental changes epidemics climate shocks and volcanic eruptions have molded human societies and cultures sometimes overwhelming them At the same time he traces the history of anthropogenic changes in the environment species extinctions global warming deforestation and resource depletion back to the age of hunters and gatherers and the first farmers and herders He shows how human interventions such as irrigation systems over fishing and the Industrial Revolution have in turn harmed the very societies that initiated them Throughout Headrick examines how human driven environmental changes are interwoven with larger global systems dramatically reshaping the complex relationship between people and the natural world In doing so he roots the current environmental crisis in the deep past the human past from prehistory to the present Land and Trade in Early Islam Hugh Kennedy, Fanny Bessard, 2025-01-20

Land and Trade in Early Islam discusses the latest developments in the field of early Islamic economic and social history and explores the notion of polycentrism and the dialectic between global and local between 700 and 1050 CE. The volume explores the political mechanisms and the role of Islamic states in regulating and developing demand in the economy. The chapters question the binary of core periphery and demonstrate how the growing scholarship on the liminal regions of the Caliphate has transformed our understanding of the early Islamic world by offering a more nuanced picture of its regional urban and socio-economic dynamics. Changes in the peripheries of the early medieval Caliphate have traditionally been conceived as resulting from initiatives by the core. An increased focus on the comparatively under-explored regions in central Asia, north Africa, south-east Asia and the Caucasus has thrown this into question. Land and Trade in Early Islam draws on this growing body of scholarship to question the notion of peripherality, explore lines of economic influence and interdependence and to better understand the regional economic, social and political dynamics of this period. Rivers of the Sultan Faisal Husain, 2021
In the early sixteenth century a series of military campaigns between the Mediterranean Sea and Persian Gulf brought the entirety of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers under Ottoman control. This book offers a history of this rare political unification of the longest rivers in West Asia and its impact on the Ottoman state, provincial society and the environment.

Politics, Patronage and the Transmission of Knowledge in 13th - 15th Century Tabriz Judith Pfeiffer, 2013-11-07
In Politics, Patronage and the Transmission of Knowledge in 13th-15th Century Tabriz, an international group of specialists from different disciplines investigate the role of Tabriz as one of the foremost centres of learning, cultural productivity and politics in post-Mongol Iran and the Middle East. While standard accounts of Islamic history have long presented the 13th to 15th centuries as the bottom of the decline paradigm of old, the present volume demonstrates the vibrancy and originality of the intellectual and cultural production of this period by focusing on Tabriz among other capitals of the region. The volume particularly explores the transmission of knowledge and institutional and cultural patronage in the post-Mongol period. Contributors include Reuven Amitai, Nourane Ben Azzouna, Sheila Blair, Devin DeWeese, Joachim Gierlich, Birgitt Hoffmann, Domenico Ingenito, Robert Morrison, Ertuğrul Keten, Judith Pfeiffer, Johannes Preiser-Kapeller, F. Jamil Ragep and Patrick Wing.

Rabbinic Law in Its Roman and Near Eastern Context Catherine Hezser, 2003
This volume is the outcome of an international conference held at Trinity College Dublin on Mar 11-12, 2002. P v The Dawn of Agriculture and the Earliest States in Genesis 1-11 Natan Levy, 2023-11-29
This book invites a close textual encounter with the first 11 chapters of Genesis as an intimate drama of marginalised peoples wrestling with the rise of the world's first grain states in the Mesopotamian alluvium. The initial 11 chapters of Genesis are often considered discordant and fragmentary despite being a story of beginnings within the context of the Bible. Readers discover how these formative chapters cohere as a cross-generational account of peoples grappling with the hegemonic spread of domesticated grain production and the concomitant rise of the pristine states of Mesopotamia The book reveals how key episodes from the Genesis narrative reflect major societal revolutions of the Neolithic period in Mesopotamia through a three fold hermeneutical method literary analysis of the Bible and contemporary cuneiform texts modern scholarship from archaeological anthropological ecological and historical sources and relevant exegesis from the Second Temple and rabbinical era These three strands entwine to recount a generally sequential story of the earliest archaic states as narrated by non elites at the margins of these emerging state spaces The Dawn of Agriculture and the Earliest States in Genesis 1 11 provides a fascinating reading of the first 11 chapters of Genesis appealing to students and scholars of the Hebrew Bible and the Near East as well as those working on ecological injustice from a religious vantage point

Views from the Edge Neguin Yavari, Lawrence G. Potter, Jean-Marc Ran Oppenheim, 2004-11-24 These essays were written by colleagues and former students of Richard Bulliet the preeminent Middle East scholar whose most important contribution remains his extraordinary imagination in the service of history The hallmark of the book then is innovative scholarship in all periods of Islamic history Its authors share a commitment to asking original historiographical questions with an overall orientation toward issues in social history

The Legend of Mar Qardagh Joel Walker, 2006-04-24 This pioneering study uses an early seventh century Christian martyr legend to elucidate the culture and society of late antique Iraq Translated from Syriac into English here for the first time the legend of Mar Qardagh introduces a hero of epic proportions whose characteristics confound simple classification During the several stages of his career Mar Qardagh hunts like a Persian King argues like a Greek philosopher and renounces his Zoroastrian family to live with monks high in the mountains of Iraqi Kurdistan Drawing on both literary and artistic sources Joel Walker explores the convergence of these diverse themes in the Christian culture of the Sasanian Empire 224 642 Taking the Qardagh legend as its foundation his study guides readers through the rich and complex world of late antique Iraq

Adopting the Melody of Phrase: An Mental Symphony within Decline Of Iranshahr
