Deconstruct Images Turkish Woman:

Deconstructing images of "the Turkish woman" Zehra F. Kabasakal Arat, 1998 Women and Turkish Cinema Eylem Atakav, 2013 Since 2000 there has been a considerable effort in Turkish cinema to come to terms with the military's intervention in politics and subsequent national trauma. It has resulted in an outpouring of cinematic texts. This book focuses on women and Turkish cinema in the context of gender politics, cultural identity and representation. The central proposition of this book is that enforced depoliticisation introduced after the coup is responsible for uniting feminism and film in 1980s Turkey. The feminist movement was able to flourish precisely because it was not perceived as political or politically significant. In a parallel move in the films of the 1980s there was an increased tendency to focus on the individual woman's issues and lives in order to avoid the overtly political. Women and Turkish Cinema provides a comprehensive view of cinema's approach to women in a country which straddles European and Middle Eastern cultural conceptions, identities and religious values and will be an invaluable resource for students and scholars of Film Studies, Gender Studies and Middle East Studies amongst others.

Women in Dialogue Dilek Direnç, Günseli Sönmez İşçi, 2009-03-26 Women in Dialogue M. Uses of Culture results from an international symposium held at Ege University, Izmir, Turkey in 2006 which brought together scholars from over ten countries and from multiple academic backgrounds who share professional interest in women's studies and to no less degree in current women's realities. The book presents a collection of essays united by a common focus on the position of women as objects of cultural production in different geographic, national and political contexts as well as the character and typology of women's contribution to cultural activity across the ethnic or religious divide marking the face of contemporary world. The volume comprises two sections: the first titled Women in Dialogue contains contributions which analyze literary representations of women from a variety of perspectives and from diverse spatial and temporal locations. The second part titled M. Uses of Culture includes personalized observations by several women writers of both poetry and fiction, their commentaries on their own work as artists and their deeply experienced musings on the position of women as artists in the world of today. The essays that this volume brings together are varied in subject matter yet they are connected by the common theme epitomized in the metaphor of dialogue as a platform for active, productive communication leading on the pages of the book if not elsewhere to learning and mutual understanding.

Aspasia Francisca de Haan, Maria Bucur, Krassimira Daskalova, 2007-09 Aspasia is an international peer-reviewed yearbook that brings out the best scholarship in the field of interdisciplinary women's and gender history focused on and produced in Central Eastern and Southeastern Europe. In this region the field of women's and gender history has developed unevenly and has remained only marginally represented in the international canon.

Women in Management Worldwide Ronald J. Burke, Astrid M. Richardsen, 2016-08-12 Organizations today are facing unprecedented challenges including an ageing workforce, potential talent shortages, an increasingly competitive international environment and the need to utilize the talents of the best qualified.

people regardless of gender More women than men in many cases are graduating from universities and gaining the requisite experience to qualify for advancement to higher levels of management In this expanded and revised third edition Professors Burke and Richardsen together with a list of international contributors address women s progression in the workforce and into the upper echelons of management They cover a range of professions and a geographically dispersed territory thereby advancing the understanding of women in management within a traditional context and making a substantial contribution to the literature for both an academic and practitioner audience The broader regional perspective offers a comprehensive overview of the challenges and opportunities facing women in the workplace and promotes the ongoing analysis of the interface between women s career aspirations and societal and organizational norms assumptions and values Following the same format as the previous edition the country by country analysis allows for the data between countries and regions to be compared for the differences to be addressed and a more holistic picture of the situation in a given country to be assessed Women in Management Worldwide will appeal to researchers policy makers in a range of countries interested in workforce issues talent management and gender equality as well as consultants working with international organizations on HRM and organizational effectiveness challenges Affective Activisms and the Right to Have Rights in Turkey Eirini

Avramopoulou, 2025-02-26 This book presents a novel approach to the study of contemporary social movements and activism Based on extensive ethnographic research of the life and politics of feminist LGBTQI and women s religious groups in Istanbul from 2007 to 2015 it explores the affects meanings and interpretations these groups express in their activism in particular their strategic use of human rights language to claim institutional and social legitimacy and their reinterpretation of gender queer theory across politics of difference to make sense of global dynamics that affect their everyday lives Chapters interweave personal accounts and life histories of individual activists with specific historical events to demonstrate the activists dissidence regarding the conditions that have defined their differently marginalised positions in Turkey and the significance of the formation of unexpected alliances The ambivalent yet inescapable bargaining tool of rights is analysed as a demand over affective democratic visions citizenship and a life worth living and thus the right to have rights as it is argued pushes us to reflect on how power works when the political and affective surplus value invested in the need to rethink of rights even beyond human rights themselves lies both in the search for ways of institutionalising and implementing rightful demands as well as in outlining more affective visions of political resistance By arguing that activism is a performative and affective language that is defined by intersectional hopes desires and dreams as much as it engages with legal battles that define who or what might appear as being broken under specific historical and social settings Affective Activisms employs gender and sexuality as analytical tools to make sense of local and transnational politics of resistance in the face of the re emergence of authoritarian regimes sexual harassment gender violence homo trans phobia and Islamophobia in Turkey and worldwide It will be of interest to students and scholars across the fields of women s gender and sexuality studies queer

Money Makes Us Relatives Jenny B. White, 2004-08-02 In the rural immigrant community of Istanbul poor women spend up to fifty hours a week producing goods for export yet deny that they actually work Money Makes Us Relatives asks why Turkish society devalues women s work concealing its existence while creating a vast pool of cheap labor for the world market Drawing on two years of ethnographic fieldwork among family producers and pieceworkers and using fascinating case studies throughout Jenny B White shows how women s paid work is viewed in terms of kinship relations of reciprocity and obligation an extension of domestic work for the family which is culturally valued but poorly compensated Whilst offering the benefits of social identity and long term security women s work also reflects global capitalism s ability to capture local cultural norms and to use these to lower production costs and create exploitative conditions This fully revised second edition includes a new introduction and conclusion updated references comparative material on women s labor elsewhere in the world and brand new material on Islam globalization gender and Turkish family life It is an important contribution to debates about women s participation in late global capitalism

The Gülen Hizmet Movement Tamer Balci, Christopher L. Miller, 2013-01-03 This volume covers the origins historical development and ideas of one of the largest and most influential Islamic movements in the world the G len Hizmet Movement GHM Founded during the Cold War under the inspiration of M Fethullah G len the GHM expanded to over 130 countries by the first decade of the twenty first century The movement s circumspect activism sheltered it from illiberal secular practices in Turkey and has guided it through the anxious post Cold War process of globalization This edited volume covers various characteristics of the movement from G len s unconventional oratory to his educational philosophy In addition the book covers G len s ideas on Islam and democracy and the GHM s indirect political engagement compared to the direct engagement of the Muslim Brotherhood Other chapters in the book cover the role of women in the movement the GHM s creation of an alternative public sphere for pious Muslims and the tension this creation instills in light of Secularism Theory which is analyzed comparatively with American religious pluralism The last two chapters question the effectiveness of interfaith dialogue activities promoted by the movement s adherents A concluding section seeks to synthesize this interdisciplinary scholarship in order to assess the GHM s overall gestalt as a social movement

The Political Economy of Patriarchy in the Global South Ece Kocabağ, 2022-07-11 Recent decades have witnessed both a renewed energy in feminist activism and widespread attacks taking back hard won rights Despite powerful feminist movements the Covid 19 pandemic has significantly undermined the progress women have struggled for decades to achieve how can this be What explains this paradox of a strong feminist movement coexisting with stubborn patriarchal arrangements How can we stop the next global catastrophe initiating a similar backlash This book suggests that the limitations of social theory prevent feminist strategies from initiating transformative changes and achieving permanent gains It investigates the impact of theoretical shortcomings upon feminist strategies by engaging with two clusters of work ungendered accounts of capitalist development and theories on gendered oppression and inequality Decentring feminist theorising grounded in histories and developments of the global North the book provides an original theory of the patriarchal system by analysing changes within its forms and degrees as well as investigating the relationship between the gender class and race ethnicity based inequalities Turkey offers a case that challenges assumptions and calls for rethinking major feminist categories and theories thereby shedding light on the dynamics of social change in the global South The timely intervention of this book is therefore crucial for feminist strategies going forward The book emerges at the intersections between Gender International Development Political Economy and Sociology and its main readership will be found in but not limited to these disciplinary fields The material covered in this book will be of great interest to students and researchers in these areas as well as policy makers and feminist activists Since publication it has been nominated for the prestigious 2023 British Sociological Association's Philip Adams Memorial Prize The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license
