Deconstructing History:

Deconstructing History Alun Munslow, 2006 Surveying the latest research this welcome second edition of Alun Munslow's successful Deconstructing History provides an excellent introduction to the debates and issues of postmodernist history. This new edition has been updated and revised and along with the original discussion material and topics now assesses the claims of history as a form of truthful explanation, discusses the limits of conventional historical thinking and practice and the responses of the new empiricists to the book's central arguments, examines the arrival of experimental history and its implications, clarifies the utility of addressing Michael Foucault and Hayden White and strengthens the analysis of Frank R. Ankersmit's recent work. Along with an updated glossary and a revised bibliography, this second edition will not only live up to its predecessor's reputation but will surpass it as the most essential student resource for studying history and its practice.

Deconstructing History Alun Munslow, 1997 In Deconstructing History Alan Munslow examines history in the postmodern age, providing an introduction to the topics and debates inherent in a postmodern approach to history. Detailing both empiricist and deconstruction issues and considering the arguments of both schools, Munslow debates the position that not only is history defined as the textual product of historians but also that narrative may provide the textual model for the past itself. An examination of the character of historical evidence and an exploration of the role of historians as well as a discussion of the failure of traditional historical models is included. Munslow maps the controversies involved in and assesses the merits of the deconstructionist position, arguing that instead of beginning with past events themselves, history begins with representations of the past.

The Field Douglas Booth, 2007-05-07 2006 North American Society for Sports History Book of the Year The literature on sport history is now well established, taking in a wide range of themes and covering every activity from aerobics to zorbing. However, in comparison to most mainstream histories, sport history has rarely been called upon to question its foundations and account for the basis of its historical knowledge. In this book, Booth offers a rigorous assessment of sport history as an academic discipline, exploring the ways in which professional historians can gather materials, construct and examine evidence, and present their arguments about the sporting past. Part 1 examines theories of knowledge, while Part 2 goes on to scrutinize the uses of historical knowledge in popular and academic studies of sport history. With clear structure, examples, summary tables, and a detailed glossary, The Field provides students, teachers, and researchers with an unparalleled resource to tackle issues fundamental to the future of their subject and sets the agenda for the debate to come.

What Happened to History? Willie Thompson, 2000-11-20 A study of US imperialism that argues America's leaders have chosen to go to war for influence and power ever since the declaration of independence.

Making Sport History Pascal Delheye, 2014-05-23 The field of sport history is a relatively new research domain situated at the intersection of a number of disciplines and sub-disciplines. This interdisciplinarity has created interesting avenues for growth and fresh thinking but also inherent problems of coherence and identity. Making Sport History examines the development of an academic community.

around sport history exploring the roots of the discipline its current boundaries borders and challenges and looking ahead at future prospects Written by a team of world leading sport historians with commentaries from scholars working outside of the sport historical mainstream the book considers key themes in the historiography of sport including The relationship between history sport studies and physical education Comparative analysis of the role of historians in the writing of sport history Modern and post modern approaches to sport history Race gender and the sport historical establishment The role of scholarly organisations conferences and journals in discipline building Presenting new perspectives on what constitutes sport history and its core methodologies the book helps explain why historians have become interested in sport why they ve chosen the topics they have and how their work has influenced the wider world of history and been influenced by it Making Sport History is essential reading for any advanced student scholar or researcher with an interest in sport history historiography or the history and philosophy of the social sciences

Deconstruction and Critical Theory Peter V. Zima,2002-06-01 This book surveys the main schools and theorists of deconstruction establishing their philosophical roots and tracing their intellectual development It analyses their contribution to the understanding of literature and ideology comparing their critical value and exploring the critical reaction to deconstruction and its limitations The text is designed for students who wish to understand how and why deconstruction has become the dominant tool of the humanities Deconstruction and Critical Theory marks a new stage in the reception history of Derrida s work and in the wider philosophical debate around deconstruction Zima s study makes a strikingly original contribution to our better understanding of deconstruction and its various philosophic sources Christopher Norris University of Wales at Cardiff Deconstruction And Critical Theory surveys the main schools and theorists of deconstruction establishes their philosophical roots traces their intellectual development analyses their contribution to the understanding of literature and ideology compares their critical value explores the critical reaction to deconstruction and its limitations This is the ideal text for students who wish to understand how and why deconstruction has become the dominant tool of the Humanities Derrida and the Future of the Liberal Arts Mary Caputi,Vincent J. Del Casino, Jr.,2013-06-06 Derrida and the Future of the Liberal Arts highlights the Derridean assertion that the university must exist without condition as a bastion of intellectual freedom and oppositional activity whose job it is to question mainstream society Derrida argued that only if the life of the mind is kept free from excessive corporate influence and political control can we be certain that the basic tenets of democracy are being respected within the very societies that claim to defend democratic principles This collection contains eleven essays drawn from international scholars working in both the humanities and social sciences and makes a well grounded and comprehensive case for the importance of Derridean thought within the liberal arts today Written by specialists in the fields of philosophy literature history sociology geography political science animal studies and gender studies each essay traces deconstruction s contribution to their discipline explaining how it helps keep alive the unconditional contrapuntal mission of the university The book offers a forceful and persuasive corrective to the current assault on the liberal arts     The Historian 2007 (1&2) ,     Deconstructing Barth Isolde Andrews,1996     Transactions of the Asiatic Society of Japan Asiatic Society of Japan,2015 List of transactions v 1 41 in v 41     Cultural Creativity in the Early English Renaissance E. Salter,2006-04-12 This book is about the ways that ordinary people in town and country creatively define themselves their families and their social networks It explores inheritance strategies personal possessions attitudes to commemoration after death the daily fashioning of identity and the interactions between imagination and daily life     The houses of history Anna Green,Kathleen Troup,2016-08-15 The houses of history is a clear jargon free introduction to the major theoretical approaches employed by historians This innovative critical reader provides accessible introductions to fourteen schools of thought from the empiricist to the postcolonial including chapters on Marxist history Freud and psychohistory the Annales historical sociology narrative gender public history and the history of the emotions Each chapter begins with a succinct description of the ideas integral to a particular theory The authors then explore the insights and controversies arising from the application of this model drawing upon debates and examples from around the world Each chapter concludes with a representative example from a historian writing within this conceptual framework This newly revised edition of the highly successful textbook is the ideal basis for an introductory course in history and theory for students of history at all levels     Re-Writing International Relations Zeynep Gülsah Çapan,2016-09-14 The book presents a possible way of reading and re writing the Eurocentrism of International Relations The method proposed to re write histories of the manifestations and criticisms of Eurocentrism is through connected histories The first section of the book focuses on manifestations of Eurocentrism in and through disciplinary formations and geopolitical contexts This section explores the field of IR as a problematic unit that already assumes a coloniality of power It questions the existence of fields of study and the borders between them by examining the permeability between history and IR and highlighting how Eurocentric assumptions about world politics are reproduced in the different fields The second section of the book focuses on criticisms of Eurocentrism in and through disciplines and geopolitical contexts This setion explores the different ways in which theoretical strategies criticizing Eurocentrism were formulated in conversation with each other across disciplines and geopolitical contexts     Deconstructing History Alun

Directions in Sport History Duncan Stone, John Hughson, Rob Ellis, 2017-10-02 Emerging from the history from below movement sport history was marginalised for decades by those working within more traditional historical fields and institutions Although a degree of ignorance still exists sport history has now acquired a level of credibility through the dedicated work of professional historians And yet as this authority has been established changes to UK higher education funding the removal of direct state funding the Research Excellence Framework and tuition fees and academic publishing open access have the potential to damage or even end sports research This book examines sport history from a variety of perspectives Do mainstream historians need to engage or play with sports historians Has the postmodernist cultural turn in sports history been helpful to the sub discipline How can the teaching of sports studies be more innovative and inspiring How can oral history and sport history be utilised in the study of other branches of historical interest Although changes are required in dealing with the current political reality of UK higher education sport history still has a great deal to offer students future employers and the public alike This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of the History of Sport

The Philosophy of History William Sweet, 2004 The philosophy of history is an area of interest not only to philosophers but to historians and to social scientists It has been of central importance in continental European philosophy since the late 18th century and for the past half century has had a significant place in Anglo American philosophy Interest in the philosophy of history continues to grow This volume offers both an introduction to contemporary discussion in the philosophy of history and a reassessment of some of the major movements in the philosophy of history since the beginning of the 20th century Including the work of leading international scholars in the field the book presents a wide range of perspectives from different schools in philosophy and in political and social theory history and the history of ideas Traditional questions raised in the philosophy of history are explored with fresh insight the nature of history historical understanding historical objectivity the nature of the past the psychological factors in historical explanation the human significance of history alongside issues which are less frequently examined including the role of science and mathematics in history history as a social science and history as an art form As history itself remains disputed ground it is important to consider what clues history can provide for our response to issues of contemporary concern such as political realignments and economic globalisation this volume offers important insights from leading scholars in the philosophy of history

Deconstructing History, 1997 New Perspectives and Research on Malaysian History Boon Kheng Cheah, 2007 This book deals with the current research interests methods thinking and trend in Malaysian historical writing The individual essays focus not only on new historical sources and methodologies but also on debates between different schools of Malaysian historians on conceptual issues and on ways to reconstruct the Malaysian past For a long time the primary object of Malaysian historical studies has been the nation state but some of the historians in this volume now argue that local history social history economic history and the role of women minorities and marginalized groups like trishaw riders are equally important concerns within Malaysia's socially diverse and multi ethnic society The essays also discuss challenges Malaysian historians face from new movements like post modernism in representing historical truth and objectivity The Journal of Caribbean History, 1998 Dating Acts in Its Jewish and Greco-Roman Contexts Karl Leslie Armstrong, 2022-09-22 Karl Armstrong addresses the long established scholarly debate surrounding the precise dating of Acts arguing that a historiographical approach offers a stronger framework for evaluating primary and secondary sources
