Deep Economy Caring For Ecology Humanity And Religion:

Deep Economy Hans-Dirk van Hoogstraten, 2001 Both true and false notions of connection exist in society and in the human imagination In this work economic and ecological claims of supposed connectedness are compared on a profound level Starting with an historical analysis of the ethical and economic thought of Aristotle and Adam Smith the two main representatives of the first and second waves of Enlightenment this discussion clarifies the value of the term deep economy Concern about current ecological problems often confronts us with the history theories and experiences of natural and spiritual connectedness This book adds an indispensable factor It urges us to take into serious account the actual state of economic affairs Discussion of the clash between ecology and economy has long been avoided due to the paralysis it threatens Dr Van Hoogstraten however searched for a paramount view and found it in religion In his in depth discussion of the character of both ecology and economy the hidden religious pretensions of both fields are uncovered A merely moral approach to the economy s devastating effects is deemed ineffective the author offers readers a perspective beyond good and evil The adoption of this Nietzschean approach he calls facing the fate Exposing unexplored forgotten treasures in Jewish wisdom Deep Economy lays out a possible way to proceed towards a new connectedness He confronts us with the necessity of rethinking conceptions of life and death sex and birth wealth and work He convincingly questions and explores hidden places both in society as a whole and in human imagination where basic decisions concerning living together are made Unlike established economic thought Deep Economy leads us through global economy s aspects of exclusion and enrichment of curse and blessing to the author s unique world view presented in this book Call it a provoking textbook for class discussion a talking piece for politicians and political scientists a philosophical work for economists an interpretative study for theologians and philosophers to work with or call it Deep Economy Deep Economy Hans-Dirk Van

Hoogstraten, 2000-10-01 Deep Economy Hans D. van Googstraten, 1997-01-01 Christianity and Ecological Theology E. M. Conradie, 2006-10-01 There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so These include a number of recent edited volumes each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature also in South Africa Deep Economy Hans D. van Googstraten, 1997-01-01 Biodiversity Conservation Ethics in Major Religions H. S. A. Yahya, 2010-10 Covering three broader issues biodiversity conservation religious doctrine and environment the book Biodiversity Conservation Ethics in Major Religions is the result of a unique approach It attempts to initiate scientific discourse through the fabric of religions Spread across 15 chapters the book covers the essence of 10 religions on biodiversity encompassing a wide range of issues related to conservation The book promises to be a useful resource for biodiversity students researchers and protected area managers and also for religious scholars who are invited to look at the broader themes of religions beyond theology Nature, Choice and Social Power Erica Schoenberger, 2014-08-21 We are at an environmental impasse Many blame our personal choices about the things we consume and the way we live This is only part of the problem Different forms of social power political economic and ideological structure the choices we have available This book analyses how we make social and environmental history and why we end up where we do Using case studies from different environmental domains earth and water air and fire Nature Choice and Social Power examines the form that social power takes and how it can harm the environment and hinder our efforts to act in our own best interests The case studies challenge conventional wisdoms about why gold is valuable why the internal combustion engine triumphed and when and why suburbs sprawled The book shows how the power of individuals the power of classes the power of the market and the power of the state at different times and in different ways were critical to setting us on a path to environmental degradation It also challenges conventional wisdoms about what we need to do now Rather than reducing consumption and shrinking from outcomes we don't want it proposes growing towards outcomes we do want We invested massive resources in creating our problems it will take equally large investments to fix them Written in a clear and engaging style the book is underpinned with a political economy framework and addresses how we should understand our responsibility to the environment and to each other as individuals within a large and impersonal system New Financial Ethics Aloy Soppe, 2016-12-08 Following the internationalisation globalisation and deregulation of the financial market over the last few decades the financial sector has evolved from a servicing industry into an initiating and leading sector in the international industrialised economy The power of the financial sector including Credit Rating Agencies determines the creditworthiness of companies and countries Today's financial sector dominates instead of serving the real economy which puts substantial pressure on all the agencies involved not least the banks to make the profits that will drive economic growth As a result of this pressure moral conduct in the financial sector has been put under severe strain This book examines the experience of the recent financial crisis and argues that a firmer ethical grounding for the financial sector is required to prevent the crisis being repeated The book offers a model for making judgements on financial markets institutions and products The model is built on seven major criteria which are examined in depth Justice Nature Sustainability Legality Risk and Return the Stakeholder model and Monism This multidisciplinary approach integrates philosophy economics and law to arrive at a new normative approach to financial ethics This book is a must read for finance students at academic levels but also for professionals in the financial sector who can be helped by implementing the model of NFE in solving financial dilemmas God and the Natural World Ted Peters, Marie Turner, 2020-05-01 This collection of essays is a fitting tribute to Denis Edwards who was one of Australia's leading theologians In exploring the most challenging questions of our time these essays canvas some of the great themes of Christian theology that were the focus of Edwards research Denis Edwards was a theologian of dialogue dialogue with our rich theological tradition dialogue with science dialogue with contemporary theologians The contributors to this volume enter into a dialogue with substantial parts of the theological output of Denis Edwards In the process they capture something of his humanity his love of creation and his concern for our common home The book demonstrates the commitment Denis Edwards had to a theology that is truly ecumenical and always learning from the insights of others The editors and authors have done a great service in helping many others to deepen reflection on Denis Edwards contribution to our understanding of God and the natural world

A God Who Cares? Ernst Conradie, 2025-02-26 This monograph may be read as a constructive supplement to Volume 4 of the series entitled An Earthed Faith Telling the Story amid the Anthropocene Volume 4 of this series is on the Christian doctrine of providence and is entitled Making Room for the Story to Continue In addition to an extended introduction on the state of the debate in the field this monograph includes three constructive essays on the doctrine of providence employing the traditional Reformed distinction between conservatio gubernatio and concursum as aspects of God's providence as well as a concluding essay provocatively entitled Who Cares a Damn The argument of this contribution may be captured in the following way 1 That God's providence is best understood in terms of the deeply held Christian conviction that God cares for every creature and not in terms of Greek assumptions around a pervading rational world order 2 That conservatio and gubernatio have found rough secular equivalents in global debates on sustainability mitigation and adaptation in the context of climate change 3 That conservatio and gubernatio are typically in tension with each other when it comes to the question whether God maintains order in nature and society or whether God transforms unjust orders the call for ecojustice 4 That concursum is not only an implication of conservatio and gubernatio but also captures the heart of the problem posed by the advent of the Anthropocene namely that some humans have become a geological force of nature while God's agency has become sidelined or usurped by the Promethean quest to become divine In each of these essays a highly constructive contribution is offered that advances the debate in eco theology by placing providence in the context of the shift from the Holocene to the Anthropocene The method adopted is a constructive argument based on a critical review of the available literature This monograph is scholarly and is addressed to other scholars in the fields of eco theology systematic theology and Reformed theology

Public Theology and Institutional Economics Toine van den Hoogen, 2019-10-09 This book shows why in our modern society many important questions in our public debates urge for attention to be given to questions about economy and why religious thinking gives unexpectedly relevant perspectives on these Neither economy nor religion is a private matter Our daily life and personal decisions about lifestyle are marked by our public choices and attitudes As we are actually part of complex and disturbing processes in an information society our daily lives are changing in rapid ways Beginning with a discussion of what public theology is actually about the text moves on to discuss three dimensions of these processes namely our capitalist market economy our urge for a common ground in the conflicts of that economy and our responsibility for a sustainable lifestyle in that economy Religious thinking especially that of Gregory of Nazianzus 329-390 confronts questions about spiritual awareness in these domains

Property for People, Not for Profit Ulrich Duchrow,Franz J. Hinkelammert,2013-07-04 The issue of private property and the rights it confers remain almost undiscussed in critiques of globalization and free market economics Yet property lies at the heart of an economic system geared to profit maximization The authors describe the historically specific and self consciously explicit manner in which it emerged They trace this history from earliest historical times and show how in the hands of Thomas Hobbes and John Locke in particular the notion of private property took on its absolutist nature and most extreme form a form which neoliberal economics is now imposing on humanity worldwide through the pressures of globalization They argue that avoiding the destruction of people s ways of living and of Nature requires reshaping our notions of private property They look at practical ways for social and ecumenical movements to press for alternatives

Cougar Maurice Hornocker, Sharon Negri, 2009-12-15 The cougar is one of the most beautiful enigmatic and majestic animals in the Americas Eliciting reverence for its grace and independent nature it also triggers fear when it comes into contact with people pets and livestock or competes for hunters game Mystery myth and misunderstanding surround this remarkable creature The cougar's range once extended from northern Canada to the tip of South America and from the Pacific to the Atlantic making it the most widespread animal in the western hemisphere But overhunting and loss of habitat vastly reduced cougar numbers by the early twentieth century across much of its historical range and today the cougar faces numerous threats as burgeoning human development encroaches on its remaining habitat When Maurice Hornocker began the first long term study of cougars in the Idaho wilderness in 1964 little was known about this large cat Its secretive nature and rarity in the landscape made it difficult to study But his groundbreaking research yielded major insights and was the prelude to further research on this controversial species The capstone to Hornocker's long career studying big cats Cougar is a powerful and practical resource for scientists conservationists and anyone with an interest in large carnivores He and conservationist Sharon Negri bring together the diverse perspectives of twenty two distinguished scientists to provide the fullest account of the cougar's ecology behavior and genetics its role as a top predator and its conservation needs This compilation of recent findings stunning photographs and firsthand accounts of field research unravels the mysteries of this magnificent animal and emphasizes its importance in healthy ecosystem processes and in our lives Forthcoming Books
