Deep South A Social Anthropological Study Of Caste Class:

Deep South Allison Davis, Burleigh Bradford Gardner, Mary R. Gardner, 2009 First published in 1941 Deep South is the cooperative effort of a team of social anthropologists to document the economic racial and cultural character of the Jim Crow South through a study of a representative rural Mississippi community Researchers Allison Davis Burleigh B Gardner and Mary R Gardner lived among the people of Natchez Mississippi as they investigated how class and caste informed daily life in a typical southern community This Southern Classics edition of their study offers contemporary students of history a provocative collection of primary material gathered by conscientious and well trained participant observers who found then as now intertwined social and economic inequalities at the root of racial tensions Expanding on earlier studies of community stratification by social class researchers in the Deep South Project introduced the additional concept of caste which parsed a community through rigid social ranks assigned at birth and unalterable through life a concept readily identifiable in the racial divisions of the Jim Crow South As African American researchers Davis and his wife Elizabeth along with his assistant St Clair Drake were able to gain unrivaled access to the black community in rural Mississippi unavailable to their white counterparts Through their interviews and experiences the authors vividly capture the nuances in caste enforcing systems of tenant landlord relations local government and law enforcement But the chief achievement of Deep South is its rich analysis of how the southern economic system and sharecropping in particular functioned to maintain rigid caste divisions along racial lines In the new introduction to this edition Jennifer Jensen Wallach situates this germinal study within the field of social anthropology and against the backdrop of similar community studies of the era She also details the subsequent careers of this distinguished team of researchers

Deep South Allison Davis, Burleigh B. Gardner, Mary R. Gardner, 2022-08-03 Deep South was originally published in 1941 documenting in startling detail the nuances character and lived realities of racism in a southern town Allison Davis and his co authors Burleigh and Mary Gardner all went undercover not revealing their scholarly project or even their association with one another Their analysis notably revealed the importance of caste and class to both Black and White worldviews and it anatomized how those are constructed reified and reinforced Deep South is freshly relevant today to those interested in the concept of caste and how it continues to inform the many flavors of American inequality

Gardner Allison Davis, 1941 Deep South Allison Davis, Burleigh B. Gardner, Mary R. Gardner, 1969 Poverty Knowledge Alice O'Connor, 2024-11-01 Progressive era poverty warriors cast poverty in America as a problem of unemployment low wages labor exploitation and political disfranchisement In the 1990s policy specialists made dependency the issue and crafted incentives to get people off welfare Poverty Knowledge gives the first comprehensive historical account of the thinking behind these very different views of the poverty problem in a century spanning inquiry into the politics institutions ideologies and social science that shaped poverty research and policy Alice O Connor chronicles a transformation in the study of poverty from a reform minded inquiry into the political economy of industrial capitalism to a detached highly technical analysis of the demographic and behavioral characteristics of the poor Along the way she uncovers the origins of several controversial concepts including the culture of poverty and the underclass She shows how such notions emerged not only from trends within the social sciences but from the central preoccupations of twentieth century American liberalism economic growth the Cold War against communism the changing fortunes of the welfare state and the enduring racial divide The book details important changes in the politics and organization as well as the substance of poverty knowledge Tracing the genesis of a still thriving poverty research industry from its roots in the War on Poverty it demonstrates how research agendas were subsequently influenced by an emerging obsession with welfare reform Over the course of the twentieth century O Connor shows the study of poverty became more about altering individual behavior and less about addressing structural inequality The consequences of this steady narrowing of focus came to the fore in the 1990s when the nation s leading poverty experts helped to end welfare as we know it O Connor shows just how far they had traveled from their field s original aims Deep South Allison Davis,Burleigh B. Gardner,Mary R. Gardner,1949 The Crisis ,1942-06 The Crisis founded by W E B Du Bois as the official publication of the NAACP is a journal of civil rights history politics and culture and seeks to educate and challenge its readers about issues that continue to plague African Americans and other communities of color For nearly 100 years The Crisis has been the magazine of opinion and thought leaders decision makers peacemakers and justice seekers It has chronicled informed educated entertained and in many instances set the economic political and social agenda for our nation and its multi ethnic citizens Deep South Allison Davis,1965 Class, Race and Gold Frederick A Johnstone,2022-10-05 Originally published in 1976 this book is a sociological and historical study of class and race relations in a crucial sector of South Africa the gold mining industry during and following the First World War The author develops a Marxist structuralist explanation of the system of racial discrimination and then goes in to examine the significant historical events of this formative period notably those surrounding the strike and uprising of the white workers in 1922 The book explains a system of racial domination essentially in terms of the class positions and problems of the dominating groups and examines historical developments concerning race in terms of class African-American Pioneers in Anthropology Ira E. Harrison,Faye V. Harrison,Faye Venetia Harrison,1999 This pathbreaking collection of intellectual biographies is the first to probe the careers of thirteen early African American anthropologists detailing both their achievements and their struggle with the latent and sometimes blatant racism of the times Invaluable to historians of anthropology this collection will also be useful to readers interested in African American studies and biography The lives and work of Caroline Bond Day Zora Neale

Hurston Louis Eugene King Laurence Foster W Montague Cobb Katherine Dunham Ellen Irene Diggs Allison Davis St Clair Drake Arthur Huff Fauset William S Willis Jr Hubert Barnes Ross Elliot Skinner      Bibliographies and Literature of Agriculture ,1978      Northern Ireland Frank Wright,1988 The author examines the tragic conflict in Northern Ireland in relation to other social conflicts both past and present that have similar characteristics      The Georgia of the North Hettie V. Williams,2024-07-12 The Georgia of the North is a compelling narrative about the little known struggles that African American women and their community faced when they arrived in the Garden State by way of the Great Migration to 1954 as they laid the foundations of the American civil rights movement in the North in the process      Mosques in the Metropolis Elisabeth Becker,2021-09-20 Mosques in the Metropolis a dual site ethnographic study of two of Europe s largest mosques one a conservative Islamist community in London and the other a progressive Muslim community in Berlin The contrasting sites allow sociologist Elisabeth Becker to provide a complex picture of Islam in Europe at a particularly fraught time She spent over thirty months studying the mosques through immersion and interviews and provides an analysis that goes deep into European Muslim communities Individual Muslim voices come through loud and clear for example the young mother of three in London trying to reconcile her conservative religious views with her desire to leave her husband as do the historical and structural forces at play Ultimately Becker insists that caste is a crucial lens through which to view Islam in Europe and through this lens she critiques what she perceives as failing European pluralism To amplify her point Becker brings Jewish history and twentieth century Jewish thought into the conversation directly drawing on the ways in which Bauman and Arendt utilized the concept of caste to describe Jewish life and marginality What is at stake here is nothing less than the fundamental values of freedom equality and individual rights ostensibly the bedrock of European identity      The American Class Structure in an Age of Growing Inequality Dennis Gilbert,2008 Why is social inequality in America increasing This text answers this question through a discussion of nine key variables and the best historical and contemporary empirical studies of class inequality in American society providing students with a broad overview of social inequality in America      Deep Souths J. William Harris,2003-03-17 Finalist for the Pulitzer Prize in HistoryCo winner of the James A Rawley Prize from the Organization of American HistoriansWinner of the Theodore Saloutos Memorial Book Prize from the Agricultural History Society Deep Souths tells the stories of three southern regions from Reconstruction to World War II the Mississippi Yazoo Delta the eastern Piedmont of Georgia and the Georgia Sea Islands and Atlantic coast Though these regions initially shared the histories and populations we associate with the idea of a Deep South all had economies based on slave plantation labor in 1860 their histories diverged sharply during the three generations after Reconstruction With research gathered from oral histories census reports and a wide variety of other sources Harris traces these regional changes in cumulative stories of individuals across the social spectrum Deep Souths presents a comparative and ground level view of history that challenges the idea that the lower South was either uniform or static in the era of segregation By the end of the New Deal era changes in these regions had prepared the way for the civil rights movement and the end of segregation
