Defeating Cancer Gabor Somlyai, 2002-06 I was only sixteen when my family and I were pulled away from our home and country My name is Alicja Moskaluk Edwards I was born and raised in Poland and now am 77 years old For the last 17 years I have been writing a story or rather memoirs of my family's imprisonment in the Soviet Union during World War II in Stalin's bloody era We were forcibly taken from our home in the eastern part of Poland to the Asiatic state of Kazakhstan where we were condemned to slave labor in the year of 1940 Over the three agonizing years we faced mistreatment and degradation sickness hunger and death till our release from bondage and fight to freedom across the Caspian Sea to Iran where I met my husband an American Army lieutenant My story was originally meant to answer many questions posed by my family and friends but somehow the explanation of what happened to me and the other forgotten war victims grew into enlarged vignettes of nonfiction events and history unknown or forgotten by the rest of the world I say unknown or forgotten because I have yet to hear or read about any of the atrocities inflicted on Polish survivors imprisoned in Soviet Russia during World War II could I be the only one alive

Deuterium Depletion Gábor Somlyai, 2022-04-28 This book cites the most recent scientific findings to provide a radically different approach to the formation and background of cancer and also lays down the scientific foundations for a new effective methodology for curing cancer. The author began his research in the early 1990s while investigating the role that deuterium heavy hydrogen plays in regulating biological and physiological processes. A number of leading universities and research institutes worldwide have joined the groundbreaking research. The book examines the most common conventional treatment methods in oncology and introduces the most effective combinations of treatments while providing detailed instructions on using deuterium depletion. Also discussed are deuterium depletion's mechanism of action, the most important factors affecting effectiveness, and the main considerations when using the method. The method's therapeutic potential is demonstrated through sixteen types of cancer results from clinical trials and specific case studies. One crucially important chapter describes how to use deuterium depletion to foster a healthy lifestyle. The last chapter contains recommendations for use, providing a helpful guide for health-conscious individuals or those struggling with the disease. This book strives to keep a balance between being easy to read or speaking in laymen's terms while providing a professional introduction of the research and clinical application to researchers and doctors. It discusses the treatment method based on deuterium depletion, which offers a tool for curing cancer and other chronic diseases while also being more efficient and milder than any other oncotherapy up to now.
