Careers in Music Librarianship III Susannah Cleveland, Joe C. Clark, 2014-01-01 Music librarianship a profession that brings joy and satisfaction to many is subject to constant change that requires in turn continual adaptation from its practitioners so that they become comfortable with new technologies and formats changing standards and fresh approaches Relevant and solid training and education are crucial to success in this field but they alone are insufficient to guarantee placement or promotion Recent economic shifts have created additional instability leaving graduates from programs in librarianship sometimes unemployed and with little feedback about the quality of their experience and education while their employed counterparts likewise have little knowledge of their skills relevance to the current job market Knowledge of training education and current employer expectations for music librarians can help ease such concerns and pave the way for a successful career or career change As with the two previous editions of Careers in Music Librarianship this volume provides career resources and guidance for current and future librarians as well as insights for mentors and educators working with these populations With this volume the contributors provide a selection of readings that can help people in and considering this profession to make realistic informed and strategic decisions about how to succeed in it As the profession changes so must the professionals within it and everyone involved with music librarianship will benefit from the guidance offered in this exciting new book

American Art Pottery Alice Cooney Frelinghuysen, Martin Eidelberg, Adrienne Spinozzi, 2018-09-25 p p1 margin 0 0px 0 0px font 14 0px Verdana At the height of the Arts and Crafts era in Europe and the United States American ceramics were transformed from industrially produced ornamental works to handcrafted art pottery Celebrated ceramists such as George E. Ohr, Hugh C. Robertson and M. Louise McLaughlin and prize winning potteries including Grueby and Rookwood harnessed the potential of the medium to create an astonishing range of dynamic forms and experimental glazes Spanning the period from the 1870s to the 1950s this volume chronicles the history of American art pottery through more than three hundred works in the outstanding collection of Robert A. Ellison Jr In a series of fascinating chapters the authors place these works in the context of turn of the century commerce design and social history Driven to innovate and at times fiercely competitive some ceramists strove to discover and patent new styles and aesthetics while others pursued more utopian aims establishing artist communities that promoted education and handwork as therapy Written by a team of esteemed scholars and copiously illustrated with sumptuous images this book imparts a full understanding of American art pottery while celebrating the legacy of a visionary collector

The New American College Town James Martin, James E. Samels, 2019-11-19 A new perspective on the relationships among colleges universities and the communities with which they are now partnering Colleges and universities have always had interesting relationships with their external communities whether they are cities towns or something in between In many cases they are the main economic driver for their regions State College Pennsylvania or Raleigh North Carolina for example and in others they exist side by side with thriving industries In The New American College Town James Martin James E Samels Associates provide a practical guide for planning a new kind of American college town one that moves beyond the nostalgia tinged stereotype to achieve collaborative objectives What exactly is a college town in America today Examining the broad range of partnerships transforming campuses and the communities around them the book opens by detailing twenty characteristics of new American college towns Subsequent chapters invite presidents provosts planners mayors architects and association directors to share their views on how college town relationships are shaping new generations of students and citizens The book tackles urban and rural institutions as well as community colleges and closes with predictions about what college towns will look like in twenty five years Contributors include presidents from Lehigh Portland State New Jersey City and Connecticut College along with five college town mayors and the current or former executive directors from the International Town Gown Association the Association for the Study of Higher Education and others The book also traces how town gown relations are expanding into innovative areas nationally and internationally moving beyond familiar student life programs and services to hundred million dollar downtown developments The first comprehensive single volume resource designed for leaders on both sides of these conversations The New American College Town includes action plans lessons learned and pitfalls to avoid in developing transformative relationships between colleges and their extended communities Contributors Robert C Andringa Aaron Aska Beth Bagwell Katherine Bergeron Kelly A Cherwin Phillip DiChiara Lorin Ditzler Mauri A Ditzler Kevin E Drumm Erin Flynn Michael Fox Joel Garreau Susan Henderson Andrew W Hibbel Patrick Hyland Jr Jay Kahn James Martin Miguel Martinez Saenz Fred McGrail Kim Nehls Krisan Osterby Tracee Reiser Stuart Rothenberger Kate Rousmaniere James E Samels Rick Seltzer John D Simon Jefferson A Singer Allison Starer Wim Wiewel Eugene L Zdziarski II

The Making of the Modern University Julie A. Reuben, 1996-09-15 Based on extensive research at eight universities Harvard Yale Columbia Johns Hopkins Chicago Stanford Michigan and California at Berkeley Reuben examines the aims of university reformers in the context of nineteenth century ideas about truth She argues that these educators tried to apply new scientific standards to moral education but that their modernization efforts ultimately failed

American Universities Abroad Ted Purinton, Jennifer Skaggs, 2017 Across the globe American style and liberal arts universities are being established From the first the American University of Beirut established in 1866 to the liberal arts institutions being established in Saudi Arabia Ghana and elsewhere in the twenty first century there is a clear sense of the global desire for the American approach to higher education as a way of counteracting traditional more narrowly defined university educations However these universities operate in a distinctive dynamic that must learn to bridge one culture with another and leadership of such institutions must by its nature focus on such complexities and tensions

Throughout the chapters of this book this unique element of these universities will be better understood through the stories and experiences as presented by their presidents provosts and other academic leaders
