Art, Space and the City Malcolm Miles, 1997 This book sees public art outside the normal confines of art criticism and place it within broader contexts of public space and gender Using different perspectives it explores both the aesthetic and political aspects of the medium Art and the City Sarah Schrank, 2009 Art and the City explores the contentious relationship between civic politics and visual culture in Los Angeles Struggles between civic leaders and modernist artists to define civic identity and control public space highlight the significance of the arts as a site of political contest in the twentieth century Art City (New York) Art City (New York), Urban Art and the City Argyro Loukaki, 2020-09-13 This book offers original interdisciplinary insights into cities as a diachronic creation of urban art It engages in a sequence of historical perspectives to examine urban space as an object of apparent quasi cycles and processes of constitution exaltation imitation contestation and redemption through art Urban art transforms the city into a human made sublime which is explored in the context of the Eastern Mediterranean The book probes this process primarily through the example of Athens and Byzantine Constantinople but also Jerusalem Cyprus and regional cities revealing how urban space unavoidably encompasses a spatial and temporal palimpsest which is constantly emerging It presents new ideas for both the theorization and sensuous conception of artistic reality architecture and planning attributes These extend from archaic classical and Byzantine urban splendour to current urban decline as constitution and attack on the sublime and back Urban processes of contestation and redemption respond recently to the new imperialism of debt and the positivist technocratic understandings and demands of Euro governments and neoliberal institutions while still evoking older forms of spatial power Offering fresh notions on art architecture space antiquity post modernity and politics of the region this book will appeal to scholars and students of geography urban studies art restoration and film theory architecture landscape design planning anthropology sociology and history Transformations Elizabeth Grierson, 2017 Transformations explores the interactions between people and their urban surroundings through site specific art and creative practices tracing the ways people shape their cities This collection also investigates the politics and democratization of space through an examination of art education justice and the role of the citizen in the city The Artist & the City Art Gallery of New South Wales, 1983 Art and the City Jason Luger, 2018-08-14 Artistic practices have long been disturbing the relationships between art and space They have challenged the boundaries of performer spectator of public private introduced intervention and installation ephemerality and performance and constantly sought out new modes of distressing expectations about what is construed as art But when we expand the world in which we look at art how does this change our understanding of critical artistic practice This book presents a global perspective on the relationship between art and the city International and leading scholars and artists themselves present critical theory and practice of contemporary art as a politicised force It extends thinking on contemporary arts practices in the urban and political context of protest and social resilience and offers the prism of a critical artscape in which to view the urgent interaction of arts and the urban politic The global appeal of the book is established through the general topic as well as the specific chapters which are geographically socially politically and professionally varied Contributing authors come from many different institutional and anti institutional perspectives from across the world This will be valuable reading for those interested in cultural geography urban geography and urban culture as well as contemporary art theorists practitioners and policymakers The Forest and the City Cecil C. Konijnendijk, 2018-03-12 Amsterdamse Bos Bois de Boulogne Epping Forest Hong Kong s country parks Stanley Park throughout history cities across the world have developed close relationships with nearby woodland areas In some cases cities have even developed and in some cases are promoting a distinct forest identity This book introduces the rich heritage of these city forests as cultural landscapes and shows that cities and forests can be mutually beneficial Essential reading for students and researchers interested in urban sustainability and urban forestry this book also has much wider appeal For with city forests playing an increasingly important role in local government sustainability programs it provides an important reference for those involved in urban planning and decision making public affairs and administration and even public health From providers of livelihoods to healthy recreational environments and from places of inspiration and learning to a source of conflict the book presents examples of city forests from around the world These cases clearly illustrate how the social and cultural development of towns and forests has often gone hand in hand They also reveal how better understanding of city forests as distinct cultural and social phenomena can help to strengthen synergies both between cities and forests and between urban society and nature Modern Civic Art, Or, the City Made Beautiful Charles Mulford Robinson, 1903 Art & the City John Stathatos, 1996 With the link between the city and civilization in mind this text describes the varied views of the metropolis from the classical Greek city state to London under Margaret Thatcher and outlines the virtues and vices of the city compared with those of the surrounding countryside It presents a contrasting array of contemporary views of the city by artists architects and writers who through image and text offer their own dreams of urbanity in an attempt to define the magnetic attraction that is the city Annual Report National Endowment for the Arts, 1978 Reports for 1980 include also the Annual report of the National Council on the Arts Art, Space and the City Malcolm Miles, 2005-08-16 Public art the making management and mediation of art outside its conventional location in museums and galleries and the livable city a concept involving user centred strategies for urban planning and design are both socially produced but have emerged from different fields and tend to be discussed in isolation This book applies a range of critical perspectives which have emerged from different disciplines art criticism urban design urban sociology geography and critical theory to examine the practice of art for urban public spaces seeing public art from positions outside those of the art world to ask how it might contribute to possible urban futures Exploring the diversity of urban politics the functions of public space and its relation to the structures of power the roles of professionals and users in the construction of the city the gendering of space and the ways in which space and citizen are represented the book explains how these issues are as relevant to architecture urban design and urban planning as they are to public art Drawing on a wealth of images from across the UK and Europe and the USA in particular the author questions the effectiveness of public art in achieving more convivial urban environments whilst retaining the idea that imagining possible futures is as much part of a democratic society as using public space The Art Lover's Pocket Guide Henry P.
