Art In The Cold War:

Art in the Cold War Christine Lindey, 1990 This provocative and well researched book addresses situations and questions of the post WWII world that have long needed attention Christine Lindey remedies the dearth of information available on the nature of modern Russian art about which all but a few dedicated professionals have only perfunctory or vaguely formulated ideas Choice Hot Art, Cold War - Southern and Eastern European Writing on American Art 1945-1990 Claudia

Hopkins, Iain Boyd Whyte, 2020 Hot Art Cold War Southern and Eastern European Writing on American Art 1945 1990 is one of two text anthologies that trace the reception of American art in Europe during the Cold War era through primary sources Translated into English for the first time from sixteen languages and introduced by scholarly essays the texts in this volume offer a representative selection of the diverse responses to American art in Portugal Italy Spain Greece Yugoslavia Romania Bulgaria Soviet Union including the Baltic States Czechoslovakia Poland Hungary and East Germany GDR There was no single European discourse as attitudes to American art were determined by a wide range of ideological political social cultural and artistic positions that varied considerably across the European nations This volume and its companion Hot Art Cold War Northern and Western European Writing on American Art 1945 1990 offer the reader a unique opportunity to compare how European art writers introduced and explained contemporary American art to their many and varied audiences Whilst many are fluent in one or two foreign languages few are able to read all twenty five languages represented in the two volumes These ground breaking publications significantly enrich the fields of American art studies and European art criticism

Music, Art and Diplomacy: East-West Cultural Interactions and the Cold War Simo Mikkonen, Pekka

Suutari, 2017-05-15 Music Art and Diplomacy shows how a vibrant field of cultural exchange between East and West was taking place during the Cold War which contrasts with the orthodox understanding of two divided and antithetical blocs The series of case studies on cultural exchanges focusing on the decades following the Second World War cover episodes involving art classical music theatre dance and film Despite the fluctuating fortunes of diplomatic relations between East and West there was a continuous circulation of cultural producers and products Contributors explore the interaction of arts and politics the role of the arts in diplomacy and the part the arts played in the development of the Cold War Art has always shunned political borders wavering between the guidance of individual and governmental patrons and borderless expression While this volume provides insight into how political players tried to harness the arts to serve their own political purposes at the same time it is clear that the arts and artists exploited the Cold War framework to reach their own individual and professional objectives Utilizing archives available only since the collapse of the Soviet Union the volume provides a valuable socio cultural approach to understanding the Cold War and cultural diplomacy Hot Art, Cold War - Western and

Northern European Writing on American Art 1945-1990 Claudia Hopkins, Iain Boyd Whyte, 2020-09-17 Hot Art Cold War

Northern and Western European Writing on American Art 1945 1990 is one of two text anthologies that trace the reception of American art in Europe during the Cold War era through primary sources. With the exception of those originally published in English, the majority of these texts are translated into English for the first time from eight languages and are introduced by scholarly essays. They offer a representative selection of the diverse responses to American art in Great Britain, Ireland, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, West Germany, FRG, Austria, Switzerland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, and Finland. There was no single European discourse as attitudes to American art were determined by a wide range of ideological, political, social, cultural, and artistic positions that varied considerably across the European nations. This volume and its companion, Hot Art Cold War Southern and Eastern European Writing on American Art 1945 1990, offer the reader a unique opportunity to compare how European art writers introduced and explained contemporary American art to their many and varied audiences. Whilst many are fluent in one or two foreign languages, few are able to read all twenty-five languages represented in the two volumes. These ground-breaking publications significantly enrich the fields of American art studies and European art criticism. This book, together with its companion volume, Hot Art Cold War Southern and Eastern European Writing on American Art 1945 1990, is a joint initiative of the Terra Foundation for American Art and the editors of the journal Art in Translation at the University of Edinburgh. The journal, launched in 2009, publishes English language translations of the most significant texts on art and visual cultures, presently only available in their source language. It is committed to widening the perspectives of art history, making it more pluralist in terms of its authors' viewpoints and subject matter.

Entangled East and West Simo Mikkonen, Giles Scott-Smith, Jari Parkkinen, 2018-12-17. Despite increasing scholarship on the cultural Cold War, focus has been persistently fixed on superpowers and their actions, missing the important role played by individuals and organizations all over Europe during the Cold War years. This volume focuses on cultural diplomacy and artistic interaction between Eastern and Western Europe after 1945. It aims at providing an essentially European point of view on the cultural Cold War, providing fresh insight into little-known connections and cooperation in different artistic fields. Chapters of the volume address photography and architecture, popular as well as classical music, theatre, and film, and fine arts. By examining different actors ranging from individuals to organizations such as universities, the volume brings new perspective on the mechanisms and workings of the cultural Cold War. Finally, the volume estimates the pertinence of the Cold War and its influence in post-1991 world. The volume offers an overview on the role culture played in international politics as well as its role in the Cold War more generally through interesting examples and case studies.

Global Art and the Cold War John J. Curley, 2019-01-29. In this readable and highly original book, John J. Curley presents the first synthetic account of global art during the Cold War. Through a careful examination of artworks drawn from America, Europe, Russia, and Asia, he demonstrates the inextricable nature of art and politics in this contentious period. He dismantles the usual narrative of American abstract painting versus figurative Soviet Socialist Realism to reveal a much more nuanced, contradictory, and ambivalent picture of art making in which the objects themselves like spies dissembled housed and managed ideological differences Art of Two Germanys Stephanie Barron, Sabine Eckmann, Eckhart Gillen, 2009-02-01 Visual Representations of the Cold War and Postcolonial Struggles Midori Yamamura, Yu-Chieh Li, 2021-06-24 The essays and artworks gathered in this volume examine the visual manifestations of postcolonial struggles in art in East and Southeast Asia as the world transitioned from the communist capitalist ideological divide into the new global power structure under neoliberalism that started taking shape during the Cold War The contributors to this volume investigate the visual art that emerged in Australia China Cambodia Indonesia Korea Okinawa and the Philippines With their critical views and new approaches the scholars and curators examine how visual art from postcolonial countries deviated from the communist capitalist dichotomy to explore issues of identity environment rapid commercialization of art and independence These foci offer windows into some lesser known aspects of the Cold War including humanistic responses to the neo imperial exploitations of people and resources as capitalism transformed into its most aggressive form Given its unique approach this seminal study will be of great value to scholars of 20th century East Asian and Southeast Asian art history and visual and cultural studies The Battle for Realism James Hyman, 2001 Global Art, the Cold War John J Curley, 2019-01-28 In this readable and highly original book John J Curley presents the first synthetic account of global art during the Cold War Through a careful examination of artworks drawn from America Europe Russia and Asia he demonstrates the inextricable nature of art and politics in this contentious period He dismantles the usual narrative of American abstract painting versus figurative Soviet Socialist Realism to reveal a much more nuanced contradictory and ambivalent picture of art making in which the objects themselves like spies dissembled housed and managed ideological differences Throughout these tumultuous decades artists have sought to express themselves in harrowing circumstances John J Curley provides a lucid summary of the era and unique insights into famous and unknown artists NY Journal of Books In shifting our understanding of Cold War art away from easy binaries communism versus capitalism American Abstraction versus Socialist Realism and towards nuance and complexity Global Art and the Cold War offers an important and timely examination of how art helped shape history in the mid to late twentieth century Lydia Pyne for Hyperallergic With this book John J Curley confirms his reputation as the pre eminent historian of the visual arts during the Cold War Clearly written generously illustrated and imaginatively conceived Global Art and the Cold War extends traditional boundaries of that subject into the also dangerous realms of imagination representation and creative survival Not to be missed Pulitzer Prize winning Cold War Historian John Lewis Gaddis Yale University It is not often that one comes across a book on contemporary or near contemporary art that shifts one's view of what it is how it has developed and that direction those developments are likely to take in future Here however is one such book Edward Lucie-Smith in Artlyst the UK's leading art information website This ambitious study examines how the geopolitical realities of the Cold War shaped late 20th century art Cold War researchers have not entirely Painting, Politics, and the New Front of Cold War Italy Adrian R. Duran, 2016 The first English language monograph on Il Fronte Nuovo delle Arti this study explores the rise and fall of this postwar Italian artists group as a representative instance of the tensions facing Italian painting during the transition out of two decades of Fascism and into the global divisions of the Cold War Adrian Duran argues that the binary structures of the era realism vs abstraction Communism vs democracy conformism vs freedom have monopolized the discourse surrounding the Fronte Nuovo and with it the historiography of Italian painting during this period 1944-50 Beginning with the dialogues that framed the formation of the Fronte Nuovo this book reconsiders artists works correspondence critical writings and manifestos These are married to examinations of specific exhibitions the most important of which are the group's 1947 inaugural exhibition and the 1948 and 1950 Venice Biennali The critical responses to these exhibitions are reconsidered in light of their groundings in the heated political debates of the period In total these diverse sources reveal the vast divide between the internal discourse of the arts generated by the participant artists and their works and the surrounding politics of Cold War Italy Provided by publisher

"Science, Technology, and Utopias" Christine Filippone, 2017-07-05 The rise of proxy wars the Space Race and cybernetics during the Cold War marked science and technology as vital sites of social and political power Women artists historically excluded from these domains responded critically while simultaneously redeploying the products of Technological Society into works that promoted ideals of progress and alternative concepts of human community In this innovative book author Christine Filippone offers the first focused examination of the conceptual use of science and technology by women artists during and just after the women's movement She argues that artists Alice Aycock Agnes Denes Martha Rosler and Carolee Schneemann used science and technology to mount a critique on Cold War American society as they saw it conservative and constricting Motivated by the contemporary American Women's Movement these artists transformed science and technology into new modes of artmaking that transgressed modernist heroic painterly styles and subverted the traditional economic structures of the gallery the museum and the dealer At the same time the artists also embraced these domains of knowledge and practice as expressions of hope for a better future Many found inspiration in the scientific theory of open systems which investigated problems of wholeness dynamic interaction and organization enabling consideration of the porous boundaries between human bodies and their social political and nonhuman environments Filippone also establishes that the theory of open systems not only informed feminist art but also continued to influence women artists practice of reclamation and ecological art through the twenty-first century

Modern Art in Cold War Beirut Sarah Rogers, 2021-06-14 Modern Art in Cold War Beirut Drawing Alliances examines the entangled histories of modern art and international politics during the decades of the 1950s and 1960s Positing the Cold War as a globalized conflict fraught with different political ideologies and intercultural exchanges this study asks how these historical circumstances shaped local debates in Beirut over artistic pedagogy the social role of the artist the aesthetics of form and ultimately the development of a national art Drawing on a range of archival material and taking an interdisciplinary approach Sarah Rogers argues that the genealogies of modern art can never be understood as isolated national histories but rather that they participate in an ever contingent global modernism This book will be of particular interest to scholars in art history Cold War studies and Middle East studies Making Art Work W.
