Taking Shape Martina Droth,Penelope Curtis,2009 This exhibition challenges the reasons why sculpture is usually considered alone in the gallery and the decorative arts are considered as part of a period setting It suggests that by breaking away from these conventional categories we can see how sculpture is also part of a spatial conversation and how furniture and fittings can be appreciated as unique works With five original essays and forty complete catalogue entries this publication both documents an exhibition and goes beyond it opening our eyes to the fluidity of formal language in the long eighteenth century and to the ways in which objects can change according to whether they are seen together or apart as mobile or fixed as two or three dimensional as ideal or as functional Book Jacket Roll of Honor, 1866 The Arts of Logistics Michael Shane Boyle, 2024-09-10 We live in a world where nothing is untouched by supply chains art included In this major contribution to the study of contemporary culture and supply chains Michael Shane Boyle has assembled a global inventory of aesthetics since the 1950s that reveals logistics to be a pervasive means of artistic production The Arts of Logistics provides a new map of supply chain capitalism scrutinizing how artists retool technologies designed for circulating commodities What emerges is a magisterial account of the logistics revolution that foregrounds the role played by art in the long downturn of global capitalism With chapters on art produced from technologies including ships barrels containers and drones Boyle narrates the long history of art's connection to logistics beginning in the transatlantic slave trade and continuing today in Silicon Valley's dreams of automation The global reach of the artists considered reflects the geographies of supply chain capitalism itself In taking stock of how performance sculpture and popular culture are entangled in trade and racialized labor regimes Boyle profiles influential work by artists such as Christo and Allan Kaprow alongside that of contemporary figures including Cai Guo Qiang and Selina Thompson This incisive study demonstrates that art and logistics are linked by the infrastructures and violence that keep supply chains moving Western Decorative Arts: Volume 1 National Gallery of Art (U.S.), Rudolf Distelberger, 1993 This volume is one of several that examines the National Gallery of Art's distinguished collection of decorative arts The second volume will be published in 1996 The group treated here is composed primarily of works acquired from the Widener Collection and amplified by holdings acquired from the Kress family Included are more than eighty Medieval Renaissance and later historic objects in a wide variety of media encompassing metalwork stained glass enamels ceramics and jewels Among the highlights are a Limoges reliquary chasse a Mosan lion aquamanile thirty eight pieces in a remarkable cohesive group of Italian maiolica three of the very rare pottery objects known as Saint Porchaire and the centerpiece of the collection the Suger chalice an ancient sardonyx cup to which the Abbot Suger added a bejewelled golden setting in the twelfth century Like other volumes in the Systematic Catalogue of the National Gallery of Art Collections Western Decorative Arts includes a thoroughly researched entry for each object together with an artist biography up to date bibliography and a technical analysis
