Goethe's to Thomas Mann's and this reflection serves as the dramatic metaphor for a review of the relationship of Progress to Nihilism in modern civilization. Starting with an exposition of the key Faustian thinkers Marx, Nietzsche, Wittgenstein, and Heidegger, the book proceeds by examining the dominant modern ideas on Man, Time, and Nihilism with reference to Foucault, Derrida, and Althusser. It focuses on Language, which is a key preoccupation of all these thinkers but has not yet been taken far enough to afford a basis for the explanation of fundamental changes in civilization. Language in its creative and destructive functions as constituting both the conscious and unconscious of a culture is reconceived so as to account for the hidden link between Progress and Nihilism. The author then explores sociologically the dominant aspects of Progress in terms of the ideas of Weber, Adorno, and Marcuse on Technology, Subjectivity, and Activism. Finally, an extensive literary study of the three main Fausts concludes with a coda on the future of music. In The Beginning Was the Deed, is lucid and direct, tinged with wry humor. Redner represents Man in the nuclear age and reflects on that representation seeking to comprehend our era, draw ethical and political conclusions, and explore action as a response to the threat of annihilation. The New Yorker Harold Wallace Ross, Katharine Sergeant Angell White, 1980-02 Samuel Richardson's Published Commentary on Clarissa, 1747-1765 Vol 1 Florian Stuber, Margaret Anne Doody, 2024-10-28 This three volume set brings together all that Samuel Richardson himself published on the composition, printing, and interpretation of Clarissa. The various short works reveal Richardson's reactions to the concerns and issues raised by contemporary readers. Territorial Ambitions and the Gardens of Versailles Chandra Mukerji, 1997-09-25 In seventeenth century France, land took on new importance for the practice of politics and rituals of court life. In her major new book, Chandra Mukerji highlights the connections between the two seemingly disparate activities of engineering and garden design. She shows how at Versailles, in particular, the royal park showcased French skills in using nature and art to design a distinctively French landscape and create a naturalized political territoriality. She challenges the association of state power with social and legal structures alone and demonstrates the importance for Louis XIV and his state of a controlled physical site, a demarcated French territory within the wider European geo-political continent.
