The First Fleet Piano: Volume One Geoffrey Lancaster, 2015-11-03 During the late eighteenth century a musical cultural phenomenon swept the globe The English square piano invented in the early 1760s by an entrepreneurial German guitar maker in London not only became an indispensable part of social life but also inspired the creation of an expressive and scintillating repertoire Square pianos reinforced music as life's counterpoint and were played by royalty by musicians of the highest calibre and by aspiring amateurs alike On Sunday 13 May 1787 a square piano departed from Portsmouth on board the Sirius the flagship of the First Fleet bound for Botany Bay Who made the First Fleet piano and when was it made Who owned it Who played it and who listened What music did the instrument sound out and within what contexts was its voice heard What became of the First Fleet piano after its arrival on antipodean soil and who played a part in the instrument's subsequent history Two extant instruments contend for the title First Fleet piano which of these made the epic journey to Botany Bay in 1787-88 The First Fleet Piano A Musician's View answers these questions and provides tantalising glimpses of social and cultural life both in Georgian England and in the early colony at Sydney Cove The First Fleet piano is placed within the musical and social contexts for which it was created and narratives of the individuals whose lives have been touched by the instrument are woven together into an account of the First Fleet piano's conjunction with the forces of history View The First Fleet Piano Volume Two Appendices Note Volume 1 and 2 are sold as a set 180 for both and cannot be purchased separately

A Guide to Maps of Australia in Books Published 1780-1830 Dorothy Francis Prescott,1996 Australian Artists in the Contemporary Museum Jennifer Barrett,Jacqueline Millner,2016-12-05 This unique book proposes a re reading of the relationship between artists and the contemporary museum In Australia in particular the museum has played a significant role in the colonial project and this has generally been considered as the predominant mode of artists engagement with such institutions and collections Australian Artists in the Contemporary Museum expands the post colonial frame of reference used to interpret this work to demonstrate the broader implications of the relationship between artists and the museum and thus to offer an alternative way of understanding recent contemporary practices The authors central argument is that artists engagement with the museum has shifted from politically motivated critique taking place in museums of fine art towards interventions taking place in non art museums that focus on the creation of knowledge more broadly Such interventions assume a number of forms including the artist acting as curator art works that highlight the use of taxonomic modes of display and categorization and the re consideration of the aesthetics of collections to suggest different ways of interpreting objects and their history Central to these interventions is the challenge to better connect the museum and its public The book will be essential reading for scholars professionals and students in the fields of contemporary art and museum studies art history and in the museum sector These include artists curators museum and gallery professionals postgraduate researchers art historians designers and design scholars art and museum educators and students of visual art art history and museum studies This project has been assisted by the Australian government through the Australia Council for the Arts its arts funding and advisory body Australian Mammal Society ,1990-06 Sydney's Aboriginal Past Val Attenbrow,2010 This second edition of Sydney s Aboriginal Past draws on the latest historical archaeological geological environmental and linguistic research as well as oral evidence of present day Aboriginal people to reveal the diversity of Aboriginal life in the Sydney region before during and for the first thirty years of British settlement The Seaforth Bibliography Eugene Rasor,2009-04-17 This remarkable work is a comprehensive historiographical and bibliographical survey of the most important scholarly and printed materials about the naval and maritime history of England and Great Britain from the earliest times to 1815 More than 4 000 popular standard and official histories important articles in journals and periodicals anthologies conference symposium and seminar papers guides documents and doctoral theses are covered so that the emphasis is the broadest possible But the work is far far more than a listing The works are all evaluated assessed and analysed and then integrated into an historical narrative that makes the book a hugely useful reference work for student scholar and enthusiast alike It is divided into twenty one chapters which cover resource centres significant naval writers pre eminent and general histories the chronological periods from Julius Caesar through the Vikings Tudors and Stuarts to Nelson and Bligh major naval personalities warships piracy strategy and tactics exploration discovery and navigation archaeology and even naval fiction Quite simply no one with an interest and enthusiasm for naval history can afford to be without this book at their side The Creation of the British Atlantic World Elizabeth Mancke, Carole Shammas, 2015-10-15 Was the British Atlantic shaped more by imperial rivalries or by the actions of subnational groups with a variety of economic social and religious agendas The Creation of the British Atlantic World analyzes the interrelationship between these competing explanations for the development of the British Atlantic by examining migration patterns on both the macro and micro level It also scrutinizes the roles played by trade religion ethnicity and class in linking Atlantic borders and the increasingly complicated legal intellectual and emotional relationship between the British sovereign and colonial charterholders Contributors include Joyce E Chaplin John E Crowley David Barry Gaspar April Lee Hatfield James Horn Ray A Kea Elizabeth Mancke Philip D Morgan William M Offutt Robert Olwell Carole Shammas Wolfgang Splitter Mark L Thompson Karin Wulf Avihu Zakai Dreamtime Superhighway Jo McDonald, 2008-08-01 DREAMTIME SUPERHIGHWAY presents a thorough and original contextualization of the rock art and archaeology of the Sydney Basin By combining excavation results with rock art analysis it demonstrates that a true archaeology of rock art can provide insights into rock art image making in people s social and cultural lives Based on a PhD dissertation this monograph is a significantly revised and updated study which draws forcefully on rich and new data from extensive recent research much of it by McDonald herself McDonald has developed a model that suggests that visual culture such as rock artmaking and its images and forms could be understood as a system of communication as a way of signaling group identifying behaviour For the archaeologist of art the anthropologist of art and those of us who try to think about past worlds this monograph is a must read Natural Curiosity Louise Anemaat, 2014-04-01 Parrots and lorikeets swoop down vivid bright and colourful Black swans glide through the air Owls stare out from pages wide eyed A sense of awe swept through natural history circles in eighteenth century London when the first ships returned from Sydney with their cargo of exotic animals birds and plants and striking watercolour illustrations The sudden emergence in 2011 of a large number of these watercolour illustrations has revealed much about the early years of the colony In Natural Curiosity Louise Anemaat uncovers never before published works from the artists of the First Fleet including convicts turned watercolourists Thomas Watling and John Doody and the anonymous Port Jackson Painter She unravels the complex network of natural history collectors who spanned the globe eagerly acquiring copying and exchanging these artworks from New South Wales Surgeon General John White to passionate British collector Aylmer Bourke Lambert

Convicts and the Arts Professor Max Howell, Dr Lingyu Xie, 2013-11-01 There are a considerable number of books on the art of the convicts so Convicts Art has been covered reasonably well but art is only once facet of the arts that has been examined to any extent This book concerns itself with Convicts the Arts This book then endeavors to look at the convicts contribution to the arts and demonstrates without doubt that the convicts made a significantly broader contribution to the culture of Australia than previously thought There is a common misconception that all convicts were immediately institutionalised in a cell and convict culture was solely a prison culture It needs reinforcing that when the First Fleet arrived there were no prisons in Australia no cells where they could put the convicts The early governors and principal authorities quite logically endeavoured to use whatever skills the convicts had So artists generally forgers were placed with those who were interested in recording a visual history of this new land Among the convicts were bricklayers house painters jewelers silversmiths goldsmiths and so on and some of them made significant contributions to the emerging society Some of these contributions will be developed herein This work endeavors to examine the convicts contribution to the arts in Australia in areas like the writing of novels poetry autobiographies sculpture theatre music architecture jewelry the press decorative arts and pottery

The Natural History of Sydney Daniel Lunney,Pat Hutchings,Dieter Hochuli,2009-09-01 On 3 November 2007 the Royal Zoological Society of NSW held its annual forum with the topic being The natural history of Sydney It has remained as the title of this book The program contained the following introduction as the theme of the forum and it has remained as the theme for this book Sydney has a unique natural history providing a home for iconic animals and plants while remaining a global city It captured the imagination of prominent naturalists and inspired visits and collecting trips to the infant colony of New South Wales in the late 1790s and early to late 1800s From these collections flowed great descriptive works detailing the new and unusual animals and plants of the antipodes Gould Owen Huxley Peron Banks and many others recounted new and evocative flora and fauna Many collecting trips for the great museums and institutions in Europe began in Sydney Sydney still continues to engage naturalists and those grappling with the current drama of climate change and conservation The Royal Zoological Society of New South Wales founded in Sydney in 1879 is a product of the grand 19th century tradition of natural history with a particular emphasis on animal life Sydney is also home to some of Australia's oldest and finest institutions such as the Australian Museum the University of Sydney and the Royal Botanic Gardens Throughout Sydney there are places where the natural habitat has not been supplanted by urban growth and the interest in Sydney's endemic flora and fauna remains strong This forum draws on a magnificent interdisciplinary vision while continuing to employ all the modern tools in the investigation and communication of Sydney's natural history It reflects a resurgence in local history and pursues the natural history of our harbour side city in a modern framework The day of the forum was a captivating display of the diversity of the fauna of Sydney both native and introduced and its varied habitats and of the diverse ways of appreciating natural history including the history of natural history Also on display was the depth of scholarship lying behind each of the presentations The subject clearly has a profound hold on many professional biologists historians and those keen to conserve their local area but if the day is any guide there are vastly more people living in or visiting Sydney who have more than a passing interest in this topic The subject matter ranged from the history of institutions engaged in natural history through animal groups as diverse as reptiles and cicadas to ideas on how to see Sydney as a natural setting Other papers dealt with the use by Aboriginal people of the native biota in terms of fishing and being displayed in rock paintings before the arrival of the colonists There is little doubt that this theme could run to 10 volumes not just this one but the diversity of ideas skills and organisms displayed in this one book will serve as a guide to what lies beyond these pages A considerable effort was made by each author to present their material as both interesting and accurate The material is built on lifetimes of sustained effort to study record and communicate findings and ideas It is also built on the lifetime work of our predecessors who laboured to find and record the natural history of Sydney We are indebted to their efforts This book records not only the outcome of a successful day of presentations but more importantly the lifelong scholarship of those authors in each of the specialist fields Not only have the authors been absorbed by documenting the biodiversity they have included studies or intelligent speculation on the factors which have impacted on this diversity since Cook sailed along the NSW coast in 1770 The Macquarie Dictionary e.g. the revised third edition defines natural history as the science or study dealing with all objects in nature and the aggregate of knowledge connected with such knowledge This makes natural history of wide interest to the entire community of Sydney both residents and visitors However we have specialised to the extent that we have focused principally on fauna the RZS being a zoological society Nevertheless plant communities are recognised as part and parcel of the natural history of Sydney as is a sense of the geography of the city with its magnificent harbour sandstone backdrop and spectacular national parks surrounding the city Also of great importance is how others in the past have seen the natural history of what is now called Sydney All these ideas are captured in this book One of the strengths of being a naturalist i e one who is versed in or devoted to natural history especially a zoologist or botanist Macquarie Dictionary is the opportunity to look across the individual disciplines be it a specialist in birds mammals or polychaetes a taxonomist or an ecologist or writer Their advantage is the ability to see the richness of a place such as Sydney Consequently most botanists and zoologists have one or two highly specialised skills but a keen interest in the broader picture and can thus appreciate the importance of for example cave art or fish diversity in the harbour and recognise that the vertebrate fauna of Sydney has changed over the 222 years since European settlement and no doubt the invertebrate fauna has changed although it is less easily assessed Our aim in this book is to draw attention to the natural history of Sydney for scholars as well as those who have the task of looking after a particular area such as within a local government area or a particular taxon such as reptiles or fish and those who have the opportunity to conserve areas taxa or institutions through their employment or legislative responsibilities It is also for teachers and lecturers colleagues in other cities and towns in Australia and those with a keen interest in managing our urban wildlife our cultural heritage or promoting the profound value of our natural heritage within a city landscape It also displays the importance of museum and herbarium collections in documenting the changes since 1770

Aboriginal Sydney Melinda Hinkson, Alana Harris, 2010-10-01 The popular first edition established itself as both authoritative and informative it is both a guide book and an alternative social history told through precincts of significance to the city's Indigenous people The sites within the precincts and their accompanying stories and photographs evoke Sydney's ancient past and allow us all to celebrate the living Aboriginal culture of today Now available as a phone app from iTunes or Google Play <http://bit.ly/16s9zI0>

The Hawkesbury River Paul Boon, 2017-07-01 The Hawkesbury River is the longest coastal river in New South Wales A vital source of water and food it has a long Aboriginal history and was critical for the survival of the early British colony at Sydney

The Hawkesbury's weathered shores, cliffs and fertile plains have inspired generations of artists. It is surrounded by an unparalleled mosaic of national parks including the second oldest national park in Australia, Ku-ring-gai National Park. Although it lies only 35 km north of Sydney, to many today the Hawkesbury is a hidden river, its historical and natural significance not understood or appreciated. Until now, the Hawkesbury has lacked an up-to-date and comprehensive book describing how and when the river formed, how it functions ecologically, how it has influenced humans and their patterns of settlement, and in turn how it has been affected by those settlements and their people. The Hawkesbury River: A Social and Natural History fills this gap. With chapters on the geography, geology, hydrology and ecology of the river, through to discussion of its use by Aboriginal and European people and its role in transport, defence and culture, this highly readable and richly illustrated book paints a picture of a landscape worthy of protection and conservation. It will be of value to those who live, visit or work in the region, those interested in Australian environmental history, and professionals in biology, natural resource management and education.
