Humans have long turned to gardens both real and imaginary for sanctuary from the frenzy and tumult that surrounds them Those gardens may be as far away from everyday reality as Gilgamesh s garden of the gods or as near as our own backyard but in their very conception and the marks they bear of human care and cultivation gardens stand as restorative nourishing necessary havens With Gardens Robert Pogue Harrison graces readers with a thoughtful wide ranging examination of the many ways gardens evoke the human condition Moving from the gardens of ancient philosophers to the gardens of homeless people in contemporary New York he shows how again and again the garden has served as a check against the destruction and losses of history The ancients explains Harrison viewed gardens as both a model and a location for the laborious self cultivation and self improvement that are essential to serenity and enlightenment an association that has continued throughout the ages The Bible and Qur an Plato s Academy and Epicurus s Garden School Zen rock and Islamic carpet gardens Boccaccio Rihaku Capek Cao Xueqin Italo Calvino Ariosto Michel Tournier and Hannah Arendt all come into play as this work explores the ways in which the concept and reality of the garden has informed human thinking about mortality order and power Alive with the echoes and arguments of Western thought Gardens is a fitting continuation of the intellectual journeys of Harrison s earlier classics Forests and The Dominion of the Dead Voltaire famously urged us to cultivate our gardens with this compelling volume Robert Pogue Harrison reminds us of the nature of that responsibility and its enduring importance to humanity
