Mould, Missy Loewe, 2015-02-18 Here lyes Buried the Body of MARTHA PERONNEAU Departed This Life December Ye 14th 1746 Aged 13 Years Such an inscription was typical of 18th century grave markers in Charleston South Carolina Many epitaphs went on to reveal much more about the deceased personality religious beliefs career accomplishments and social position Attention to social matters was a natural part of life in Charleston where descendants of the city's 17th century British founders sought to recreate the class conscious culture of aristocratic England The merging of this culture with influences from French Huguenots German Lutherans Scottish Presbyterians and Spanish Jews led to funeral practices unique in the American colonies Focusing on pieces created between 1695 and 1802 this volume offers a detailed examination of the tombstones and grave markers from 18th century Charleston It discusses not only the general trends and the symbolism of the period's gravestone art such as skulls portraits ascending souls and stylized vegetation but also examines specific instances of these popular motifs Tombstones from Charleston's oldest and most significant churches including the Circular Congregational Church St Philip's Anglican Church the French Huguenot Church and the First Scots Presbyterian Church are explored in detail The work looks at how Charleston gravestones differed from funerary art elsewhere in the American colonies and reveals them to be some of the earliest examples of American sculpture A guide to colonial gravestone symbols and a glossary of relevant Latin terms are also included South Carolina Walter B. Edgar, 1998 This is a chronicle of South Carolina describing in human terms 475 years of recorded history in the Palmetto State Recounting the period from the first Spanish exploration to the end of the Civil War the author charts South Carolina's rising national and international importance The Politics of Taste in Antebellum Charleston Maurie D. McInnis, 2015-12-01 At the close of the American Revolution Charleston South Carolina was the wealthiest city in the new nation with the highest per capita wealth among whites and the largest number of enslaved residents Maurie D McInnis explores the social political and material culture of the city to learn how and at what human cost Charleston came to be regarded as one of the most refined cities in antebellum America While other cities embraced a culture of democracy and egalitarianism wealthy Charlestonians cherished English notions of aristocracy and refinement defending slavery as a social good and encouraging the growth of southern nationalism Members of the city's merchant planter class held tight to the belief that the clothes they wore the manners they adopted and the ways they designed house lots and laid out city streets helped secure their place in social hierarchies of class and race This pursuit of refinement McInnis demonstrates was bound up with their determined efforts to control the city's African American majority She then examines slave dress mobility work spaces and leisure activities to understand how Charleston slaves negotiated their lives among the whites they served The textures of lives lived in houses yards streets and public spaces come into dramatic focus in this lavishly illustrated portrait of antebellum Charleston McInnis's innovative history of the city combines the aspirations of its would be nobility the labors of the African slaves who built and tended the town and the ambitions of its architects painters writers and civic promoters

South Carolina Women Marjorie Julian Spruill, 2010-01-25 The biographical essays in this volume provide new insights into the various ways that South Carolina women asserted themselves in their state and illuminate the tension between tradition and change that defined the South from the Civil War through the Progressive Era As old rules including gender conventions that severely constrained southern women were dramatically bent if not broken these women carved out new roles for themselves and others The volume begins with a profile of Laura Towne and Ellen Murray who founded the Penn School on St Helena Island for former slaves Subsequent essays look at such women as the five Rollin sisters members of a prominent black family who became passionate advocates for women's rights during Reconstruction writer Josephine Pinckney who helped preserve African American spirituals and explored conflicts between the New and Old South in her essays and novels and Dr Matilda Evans the first African American woman licensed to practice medicine in the state Intractable racial attitudes often caused women to follow separate but parallel paths as with Louisa B Poppenheim and Marion B Wilkinson Poppenheim who was white and Wilkinson who was black were both driving forces in the women's club movement Both saw clubs as a way not only to help women and children but also to showcase these positive changes to the wider nation Yet the two women worked separately as did the white and black state federations of women's clubs Often mixing deference with daring these women helped shape their society through such avenues as education religion politics community organizing history the arts science and medicine Women in the mid and late twentieth century would build on their accomplishments , The History of Methodism in South Carolina Albert Micajah Shipp, 1883 Colonial South Carolina Robert M. Weir, 2023-02-24 A standard source on one of the most enigmatic colonies in North America In this modern and complete history Robert Weir explicates the apparent paradoxes that defined colonial South Carolina In doing so he offers provocative observations about its ascension to the pinnacle of mid eighteenth century prosperity escalating racial tension struggles for political control and push toward revolution Art in the Lives of South Carolinians David Moltke-Hansen, 1978 Medieval Art in America Elizabeth Bradford Smith, 1996 This catalogue was published in 1996 to accompany an innovative exhibition Medieval Art in America Patterns of Collecting 1800-1940 organized by the Frick Art

Museum and the Palmer Museum of Art With works of art borrowed from numerous prominent institutions including the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Art Institute of Chicago the exhibition focused not on the objects themselves but rather on the motivations and methods that led collectors to bring medieval art to America The catalogue for the 1996 exhibition now newly available to the public enables readers to revisit the pioneering display of objects ranging from ivory statues to stained glass With an illustrated catalogue of the 75 objects in the show and essays on well known collectors and collections of medieval art this volume is an indispensable reference for the study of both American collecting and medieval art Book of the Artists, American artist life, comprising biographical and critical sketches, etc Henry Theodore TUCKERMAN,1867
