Art Of The High Renaissance:

High Renaissance Art in St. Peter's and the Vatican George L. Hersey, 1993-07 Michelangelo Raphael Bramante together these artists created some of the most glorious treasures of the Vatican viewed daily by thousands of tourists But how many visitors understand the way these artworks reflect the passions dreams and struggles of the popes who commissioned them For anyone making an artistic pilgrimage to the High Renaissance splendors of the Vatican George L Hersey's book is the ideal guide Before starting the tour of individual works Hersey describes how the treacherously shifting political and religious alliances of sixteenth century Italy France and Spain played themselves out in the Eternal City He offers vivid accounts of the lives and personalities of four popes each a great patron of art and architecture Julius II Leo X Clement VII and Paul III He also tells of the complicated rebuilding and expanding of St Peter's a project in which Bramante Raphael and Michelangelo all took part Having set the historical scene Hersey then explores the Vatican's magnificent Renaissance art and architecture In separate chapters organized spatially he leads the reader through the Cortile del Belvedere and Vatican Museums with their impressive holdings of statuary and paintings the richly decorated Stanze and Logge of Raphael and Michelangelo's Last Judgment and newly cleaned Sistine Chapel ceiling A fascinating final chapter entitled The Tragedy of the Tomb recounts the vicissitudes of Michelangelo's projected funeral monument to Julius II Hersey is never content to simply identify the subject of a painting or sculpture He gives us the story behind the works telling us what their particular themes signified at the time for the artist the papacy and the Church He also indicates how the art was received by contemporaries and viewed by later generations Generously illustrated and complete with a useful chronology High Renaissance Art in St Peter's and the Vatican is a valuable reference for any traveler to Rome or lover of Italian art who has yearned for a single volume work more informative and stimulating than ordinary guidebooks At the same time Hersey's many anecdotes and intriguing comparisons with works outside the Vatican will provide new insights even for specialists

Moral Essays on the High Renaissance Joseph Manca, 2001-08-21 Moral Essays on the High Renaissance consist of critical essays on the art and thought of major figures of sixteenth century Italian Renaissance art Looking at these artists from an ethical point of view these provocative essays set out to discover and describe the moral basis of High Renaissance art Important areas of focus include the paintings and sculpture of Michelangelo the artistic style and sense of the life of Raphael and the ethical approach of the Cinquecento biographer Giorgio Vasari Consideration is given also to the worldly graceful art of Leonardo da Vinci and the painterly hedonism of the Venetians The volume concludes with a semi autobiographical essay that restates the underlying moral principles behind the earlier chapters The book is well illustrated with numerous black and white reproductions of important works of High Renaissance art and architecture The High Renaissance and Mannerism Linda Murray, 1977 Linda Murray examines the manifold achievements of Italian artists but also identifies the strongly individual forms taken by the Renaissance and Mannerism in Northern Europe and in Spain in the work of painters as varied as Durer Bruegel and El Greco Rethinking the High Renaissance Jill Burke, 2017-07-05 The perception that the early sixteenth century saw a culmination of the Renaissance classical revival only to degrade into mannerism shortly after Raphael's death in 1520 has been extremely tenacious but many scholars agree that this tidy narrative is deeply problematic Exploring how we can reconceptualize the High Renaissance in a way that reflects how we research and teach today this volume complicates and deepens our understanding of artistic change Focusing on Rome the paradigmatic centre of the High Renaissance narrative each essay presents a case study of a particular aspect of the culture of the city in the early sixteenth century including new analyses of Raphael's stanze Michelangelo's Sistine Ceiling and the architectural designs of Bramante The contributors question notions of periodization reconsider the Renaissance relationship with classical antiquity and ultimately reconfigure our understanding of high Renaissance style World of Art Series

High Renaissance and Mannerism Linda Murray, 1985-02 The principal elements of High Renaissance art first formulated by Leonardo da Vinci in the 1490s came to their true flowering in the brilliant achievements of Bramante Raphael and Michelangelo in Rome of Michelangelo in Florence and Giorgione and Titian in Venice Art of the High Renaissance Ariane Ruskin Batterberry, 1970 A survey illustrated by representative works of the major developments in art and architecture during the latter half of the 15th and the first half of the 16th centuries History of Italian Renaissance

Art Frederick Hartt, David G. Wilkins, 2011 For survey courses in Italian Renaissance art A broad survey of art and architecture in Italy between c 1250 and 1600 this book approaches the works from the point of view of the artist as individual creator and as an expression of the city within which the artist was working History of Italian Renaissance Art Seventh Edition brings you an updated understanding of this pivotal period as it incorporates new research and current art historical thinking while also maintaining the integrity of the story that Frederick Hartt first told so enthusiastically many years ago Choosing to retain Frederick Hartt's traditional framework David Wilkins incisive revisions keep the book fresh and up to date A Renaissance Likeness Loren Partridge, Randolph Starn, 2022-08-19 This title is part of UC Press's

The Oxford History of Western Art Martin Kemp, 2000 The Oxford History of Western Art is the new authority on the development of visual culture in the West over the last 2700 years from the classical period to the end of the twentieth century OHWA is an innovative and challenging reappraisal of how the history of art can be presented and understood None of the currently available general histories of art offers the wealth of perspectives and cross media references of this book Through a carefully devised modular structure readers are given insights not only into how and why works of art were created but also how works in different media relate to each other across time Here uniquely is not the simple linear story of art but a rich series of stories told from varying viewpoints The founding principle of the book has been to use carefully selected groupings of pictures to give readers a sense of the visual texture of the various periods and episodes covered The 167 illustration groups supported by explanatory text and picture captions create a sequence of visual tours not merely a procession of individually great works viewed in isolation but juxtapositions of significant images that powerfully convey a sense of the visual environments in which works of art need to be viewed in order to be understood and appreciated The aim throughout has been to make the shape and nature of these visual presentations a stimulating and rewarding experience allowing readers to become active participants in the process of interpretation and synthesis Another key feature of the narrative is the re definition of traditional period boundaries Rather than relying on conventional labels such as Medieval Renaissance Baroque etc five major phases of significant historical change are established that unlock longer and more meaningful continuities The art of classical antiquity from c 600 BC to the fall of Rome in AD 410 The establishment of visual culture in Europe from 410 to 1527 the sack of papal Rome European visual regimes from 1527 to 1770 The era of revolutions 1770 to 1914 Modernism and after 1914 to 2000 This new framework shows how the major religious and secular functions of art have been forged sustained transformed revived and revolutionized over the ages how the institutions of Church and State have consistently aspired to make art in their own image and how the rise of art history itself has come to provide the dominant conceptual framework within which artists create patrons patronize collectors collect galleries exhibit dealers deal and art historians write The text has been written by a team of 50 specialist authors working under the direction of Professor Martin Kemp one of the UK's most distinguished art historians Whilst bringing their own expertise and vision to their sections each author was also asked to relate their text to a number of unifying themes and issues including written evidence physical contexts patronage viewing and reception techniques gender and racial issues centres and peripheries media and condition the notion of art and current presentations Though the coverage of topics focuses on European notions of art and their transplantation and transformation in North America space is also given to cross fertilizations with other traditions including the art of Latin America the Soviet Union India Africa and Afro Caribbean Australia and Canada Professor Kemp and his team similarly deal generously with the applied arts and reproductive media such as photography and prints The result is a vibrant vigorous and revolutionary account of Western art serving both as an inspirational introduction for the general reader and an authoritative source of reference and guidance for students

The Culture of the High Renaissance Ingrid D. Rowland, 1998-11-13 Between 1480 and 1520 a concentration of talented artists including Melozzo da Forl Bramante Pinturicchio Raphael and Michelangelo arrived in Rome and produced some of the most enduring works of art ever created This period now called the High Renaissance is generally considered to be one of the high points of Western civilisation How did it come about and what were the forces that converged to spark such an explosion of creative activity In this study Ingrid Rowland examines the culture society and intellectual norms that generated the High

Renaissance This interdisciplinary 2001 study assesses the intellectual paradigm shift that occurred at the turn of the fifteenth century It also finds and explains the connections between ideas people and the art works they created by looking at economics art contemporary understanding of classical antiquity and social conventions
