Buddhism In Ceylon Under The Christian P:

Buddhism and Ethnic Conflict in Sri Lanka Patrick Grant, 2009-01-05 Patrick Grant explores the relationship between Buddhism and violent ethnic conflict in modern Sri Lanka using the concept of regressive inversion. Regressive inversion occurs when universal teaching such as that of the Buddha is redeployed to supercharge passions associated with the kinds of group loyalty that the universal teaching itself intends to transcend. The book begins with an account of the main teachings of Theravada Buddhism and looks at how these inform or fail to inform modern interpreters. Grant considers the writings of three key figures: Anagarika Dharmapala, Walpola Rahula, and J. R. Jayewardene, who addressed Buddhism and politics in the years leading up to Sri Lanka's political independence from Britain and subsequently in postcolonial Sri Lanka. This book makes the Sri Lankan conflict accessible to readers interested in the modern global phenomenon of ethnic violence involving religion and also illuminates similar conflicts around the world.

State of Buddhism in Ceylon (Srilankā) as Depicted in the Pali Chronicles Sandhya Bhattacharya, 2003 This book is an attempt to trace the history of Buddhism in Sri Lanka as depicted in the Pali language chronicles which date from the 4th century BC onwards. Buddhism and Christianity in Dialogue Perry Schmidt-Leukel, 2005 This book is written for a general as well as a more specialist readership. The Buddhist Revival in Sri Lanka George Doherty Bond, 1992-01-01 In 1956 Theravada Buddhists in Sri Lanka and throughout Southeast Asia celebrated the 2500th anniversary of the Buddha's entry into Nirvana and of the establishment of the Buddhist tradition. This book examines this revival of Theravada Buddhism among the laity of Sri Lanka, analysing its origins and its growth up to the present day. Within the spectrum of reinterpretations that have comprised the revival, the book focuses on four important types or patterns of reinterpretation and response. It examines the rational reformism of the early Protestant Buddhists led by Anagarika Dharmapala and the conservative neotraditionalism of the Jayanti period. Particular attention is given to two of the most recent and dynamic reforms: the insight meditation movement, breaking with tradition, has opened the path of meditation to lay people, enabling them to seek Nirvana without renouncing the world. The Sarvodaya Shramadana movement has addressed the social context, reinterpreting the Buddhist heritage to derive authentic forms of Buddhist social development. Comprising this series of interpretations and options for lay Buddhists, the Buddhist revival represents a new gradual path to Nirvana.

The British Discovery of Buddhism Philip C. Almond, 1988-08-26 This is the first book to examine the British discovery of Buddhism during the Victorian period. It was only during the nineteenth century that Buddhism became in the western mind a religious tradition separate from Hinduism. As a result, Buddha emerged from a realm of myth and was addressed as a historical figure. Almond's exploration of British interpretations of Buddhism and of its founder is

The Concept of Self in Hinduism, Buddhism, and Christianity and Its Implication for Interfaith Relations Kiseong Shin, 2017-05-05 This is the first comparative study of the self and no self in Hinduism Buddhism and Christianity In spite of doctrinal differences within these three belief systems they agree that human beings are in a predicament from which they need to be liberated Indian religions including Hinduism and Buddhism share the belief that human nature is inherently perfectible while the epistemological and psychological limitation of the human being is integral to Christian belief Regarding the immortality of the human being Hinduism and Christianity traditionally and generally agree that human beings as atman or soul possess intrinsic immortality On the contrary Buddhism teaches the doctrine of no self anatta Further in their quest to analyze the human predicament and attempt a way out of it they employ different concepts such as sin and salvation in Christianity attachment tanka and enlightenment nirvana in Buddhism and ignorance avidya and liberation moksha in Hinduism This volume seeks to show that that behind these concepts are deep concerns related to human existence and its relationship with the whole creation These
