Introduction to Buddhism His Holiness the 14th Dalai Lama, 2018-01-01 Engaging in bringing destruction to others is like breaking your own legs No one benefits Although your legs and hands are different in shape and have separate functions they belong to the same body The hands have to remove the pain of the legs If the countries of the east have a problem the western countries should extend help If there is a problem in the western countries the eastern countries should render assistance Both sides will benefit in the end Helping others is in fact helping yourself because your future is completely dependent on others Take for instance your Ladakhi society If your community is happy then every individual is happy If the community faces difficulties then every family and every person faces hard times If your family is in a good state then all of its members are happy Take a family of ten people If some of the family members become ill then the rest of the family members are beset with worry although their own bodies are perfectly healthy Being concerned only about your own physical and mental suffering and not about others is wrong If you possess intelligence you should know that even if the suffering of others is not directly causing you harm at present it might in the future Therefore people should realize that the happiness of others results in their own contentment Intelligence grows even greater with education However enhancing your intelligence by acquiring additional learning should make you more aware that your long term future happiness depends on society on your fellow human beings and on the environment An Introduction to Buddhism Peter Harvey,2013

Religions and Dialogue Wolfram Weiße, Katajun Amirpur, Anna Körs, Dörthe Vieregge, 2014

Responding to plurality is a demanding task Nonetheless it is one of the challenges that European countries are facing today Over the past decades the social and religious make up of Central Europe has changed and this has led to resentment and fears of mass immigration social disintegration and the emergence of parallel societies However we also find empirical proof that prejudice is lowest where there is direct contact Therefore there appears to be an increasing need for more dialogue in order to make the stranger less strange the unknown known the other no longer entirely other This is equally true in academic research There is a definite need yet research on questions of interreligious dialogue remains in its infancy throughout the various disciplines engaged in it The project Religion and Dialogue in Modern Societies ReDi that started at the Academy of World Religions at the Hamburg University in 2011 seeks to contribute to remedying this deficit Like the ReDi Project this book looks at dialogue from different perspectives It includes both theoretical and empirical approaches as well as a variety of theological viewpoints on a theology of plurality and dialogue from the perspective of different religions
