Buddhist Himalaya, 1997 Trans-Himalayan Buddhism Suchandana Chatterjee, 2019-12-19 The ambit of Buddhist studies reflects not only the spiritual and philosophical domain of Buddhism but also a symbiotic relationship between the monastic establishment and protectors of cultural tradition a trend that one sees in the context of Buddhist revivalist projects in Mongolia and Buryatia The presence of a Buddhist order in the political realm has revived intellectual debates about the relationship between spiritual and temporal authority The interface between South Asian and South East Buddhism on the one hand and Central Asian Buddhism on the other is also delicately balanced in Buddhist cultural discourse The relevance of Buddhism in a globalized world has also given a new direction to the realm of Buddhist studies This book takes into account the competing discourses of preservation and revival of Buddhism in the trans Himalayan sector It not only deals with the cultural ethos that Buddhism represents in this region but also the diverse Buddhist traditions that are strongly entrenched despite colonial intervention Juxtaposed to the aesthetic variant is the extremely sensitive response of the Buddhist communities in India and Asiatic Russia centred round the issue of displacement It is this issue of duality of common traditions and fractured identities that has been dealt with in the present volume Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka Great Game in the Buddhist Himalayas Phunchok Stobdan, 2019-10-21 There is a new great game being played in the Buddhist Himalayas between India China and Tibet which makes for a crucial third player Together they are leveraging their influence with the Buddhist communities to create strategic dominance with varying degrees of success China's Buddhist diplomacy has focused on Nepal and Bhutan and the Indian Himalayan regions of Ladakh Arunachal Pradesh and Sikkim which have sizeable Buddhist populations and are vulnerable to this influence The crisis in Doklam brought into focus what will be one of the most difficult issues to unfold in the Himalayas in future India's insufficient ability to deal with China only through the prism of military power If Xi Jinping who is known to be working towards a resolution of the Tibet question succeeds and the Dalai Lama does indeed return to Tibet how will it impact Indian interests in the Buddhist Himalayas If the Tibet issue remains unresolved how will India and China deal with and leverage the sectarian strife that is likely to intensify in a post Dalai Lama world The Great Game in the Buddhist Himalayas includes several unknown insights into the India China India Tibet and China Tibet relationships It reads like a geopolitical thriller taking the reader through the intricacies of reincarnation politics competing spheres of sacred influence and monastic and sectarian allegiances that will keep the Himalayas on edge for years to come

The Sacred Image: C. G. Jung and the Western Embrace of Tibetan Buddhism Judson Davis, 2015-05-19 The Swiss psychiatrist Carl Gustav Jung made a number of revolutionary contributions to modern Western psychology and his pioneering work was greatly enhanced through his contact with Eastern religions especially Tibetan Buddhism In these esoteric traditions Jung discovered a holistic approach and a deep affinity for nature and in the yogic and tantric disciplines he encountered a complex symbolic world that resonated with him deeply Jung was particularly drawn to the highly articulated and intricate symbolism of Tibetan Tantra which provided considerable support for his seminal theories on the universal archetypes and the collective unconscious His cross cultural and interdisciplinary engagement with Indo Tibetan spirituality later proved instrumental in establishing the basis of the modern East West dialogue in which the religions of the East and in particular Buddhism have become a central focus Jung is also widely acknowledged as the father of transpersonal psychology which in seeking to integrate the wisdom traditions of East and West stands at the forefront of contemporary studies in human consciousness and mysticism

Contested Lands: India, China and the Boundary Dispute Maroof Raza, A COMPREHENSIVE AND INTERESTINGLY TOLD HISTORY OF THE INDO CHINA BOUNDARY DISPUTE The India China border dispute predates Independence going back a century and a half As complex as the issue is it pivots on two key questions Who does Aksai Chin belong to Will China accept the McMahon Line which separates India's northeastern front regions as the international border between the two countries The dispute over Aksai Chin can be traced back to the military expeditions of General Zorawar Singh of the Sikh Empire into north Baltistan and Tibet in 1841-42 and the Treaty of Chushul of 1842 The McMahon Line on the other hand came into being after a long drawn out boundary conference in Simla in 1913-14 India and China have had a chequered past the month long military confrontation in 1962 and several instances of incursions including the recent troop confrontation in May 2020 bear testimony to this The fact that the Dalai Lama and his followers found refuge in India has only complicated equations further In Contested Lands Maroof Raza dives deep into the history of this long standing territorial dispute going right to the root of the problem to understand why the two Asian neighbours have never managed to move beyond talks and towards a resolution Clear sighted measured and rigorously researched this is a necessary addition to the literature on India China relations

Buddhism and the Dynamics of Transculturality Birgit Kellner, 2019-10-08 For over 2500 years Buddhism was implicated in processes of cultural interaction that in turn shaped Buddhist doctrines practices and institutions While the cultural plurality of Buddhism has often been remarked upon the transcultural processes that constitute this plurality and their long term effects have scarcely been studied as a topic in their own right The contributions to this volume present detailed case studies ranging across different time periods regions and disciplines and they address methodological challenges as well as theoretical problems In addition to casting a spotlight on topics as diverse as the role of trade contacts in the early spread of Buddhism the hybrid nature of religious practices in Japan or Indo Tibetan relations in Tibetan polemical literature the individual papers jointly raise the question as to whether there might be something distinct about how Buddhism steers and influences forms of cultural exchange and is in turn shaped by modalities of cultural interaction throughout Asian as well as global history The volume is intended to demonstrate the need for investigating transcultural dynamics more closely in the study of Buddhism and to suggest new avenues for Buddhist Studies

Plunging Through the Clouds David K. Reynolds, 1993-01-01 Constructive Living brings together two psychotherapies Morita and Naikan and their associated lifeways Both therapies were developed in this century but their roots extend back hundreds of years in East Asian history Morita was a professor of psychiatry at Jikei University School of Medicine in Tokyo Yoshimoto was a successful businessman who retired to become a lay priest in Nara Morita's method has its origins in Zen Buddhist psychology and Yoshimoto's Naikan has its origins in Jodo Shinshu Buddhist psychology Neither of these systems requires that one believe in Buddhism or have faith in anything other than one's experience They work as well for Christians and Moslems and Jews as for Buddhists Both are built on the naturalistic observations of humans and careful introspection of their founders Constructive Living isn't mystical or oriental but practical and human Peace and Conflict in Ladakh

Fernanda Pirie, 2007 This anthropological study of Ladakh analyses the means by which small communities create spaces of order amidst the heterogeneous forces of modernity In doing so it also filling a conspicuous gap in the secondary literature on Tibetan law The History of Bhutan Karma Phuntsho, 2014-08-15 In 2008 Bhutan triumphantly took the stage as the world's youngest democracy But despite its growing prominence and rising scholarly interest in the country Bhutan remains one of the least studied and least well known places on the planet Karma Phuntsho's The History of Bhutan is the first book to offer a comprehensive history of Bhutan in English. Along with a detailed social and political analysis it offers substantive discussions of Bhutan's geography and culture; the result is the clearest, richest account of this nation and its history ever published for general readers. A 2015 Choice Magazine Outstanding Academic Title Award Winner. Boundaries and Borderlands Alka Acharya, 2022-07-21. The Simla Convention of 1914 held between Great Britain, China, and Tibet demarcated the border between India and Tibet and gave birth to the McMahon Line. This volume critically examines the legacy of the 1914 Convention and explores its relevance in scholarly discourse about the status of Tibet and Sino-Indian relations more than a hundred years later. The book discusses the significance of the Simla Convention both in terms of the geopolitics of boundaries as well as the people and the liminal borderlands they occupy, encapsulating the culture and diversity of the trans-Himalayan regions. The book explicates how colonial legacies, namely the 1914 Simla Convention, have become virtual straitjackets hardening the positions on the boundaries between India and China. It also looks at the debilitating consequences of the nation-state framework on more substantial investigations of the borderlands. Rich in archival material and drawing from the author's fieldwork in the Himalayan regions, this book analyses muted voices of the inhabitants of the region to bring into focus the larger question of the political, economic, religious, ecological, and social life of the Himalayan peoples, which has enormous implications for both India and China. This volume will be of interest to students of history, international relations, sociology, strategic studies, Asian studies, and anthropology. Heritage Conservation and Research in India Gabriela Krist, Tatjana Bayerová, 2010. 2009 marked the 60th anniversary of the diplomatic relations of the Republic of India and the Republic of Austria. The Conservation Department of the University of Applied Arts Vienna presents this volume largely based on papers reported at the conference Cultural Heritage Counts: Research, Conservation, and Management held in New Delhi in August 2009. The conference was a crucial contribution initiated by the Austrian Cultural Forum New Delhi to celebrate this important jubilee. The successful and intensive cooperation of both countries in the fields of the research and conservation of cultural heritage is reflected in numerous research and conservation projects presented in this book.
