Building A Global Civic Culture Education For An Interdependent World:

Building a Global Civic Culture Elise Boulding, 1990-03-01 Elise Boulding Mary Lee Morrison, 2015-09-15 Elise

Boulding has been among the most influential of social reformers to advocate the integration of peace studies and women's studies. Her ideas inspired a number of works addressing the role of the family in producing social change and discussing women's unique capacity for promoting peace through nurturing and networking. Boulding's additional ideas on transnational networks and their relationship to global understanding are considered seminal contributions to modern peace studies and have earned her the title of matriarch of the 20th century peace movement. This biography is divided into three parts. The first and third deal chronologically with the life of Elise Boulding beginning with her childhood experiences as a Scandinavian immigrant. The 1940 Nazi invasion of Norway significantly influenced her concepts of pacifism and Quaker spiritualism, laying the foundation for her future work as a leader in the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom and her dynamic professional partnership with and marriage to the internationally known Quaker economist and poet Kenneth Boulding. Part Two expounds upon Boulding's philosophy of education, her role as a member of the Religious Society of Friends, her espousal of the conceptual evolution of cultures of peace, and her theoretical work in women's studies and peace research. In recognition of these achievements, Boulding has been the recipient of more than 19 awards and was a 1990 nominee for the Nobel Peace Prize.

Human Rights, Education & Global Responsibilities James Lynch, Celia Modgil, Sohan

Modgil, 2014-07-10 First published in 1992. This is Volume 4 of a series of four on Cultural Diversity and the Schools and focusses on Human Rights, Education and Global Responsibilities. One of the major problems facing societies in almost all parts of the world is the inadequate accommodation of social equity with cultural diversity. The crisis emanating from neglect of this issue can be seen in societies as different and wide apart as the Soviet Union, India, Pakistan, the United States and the United Kingdom. This series seeks to contribute through joint publication and the stimulation of greater discourse to identify the pathways to a less selfish and parochial response to the continuing dilemma of equity and diversity, not solely within the nation state but also internationally.

Person to Person Peacebuilding, Intercultural Communication and English Language Teaching Amy Jo Minett, Sarah E. Dietrich, Didem Ekici, 2022-03-16 This book maps the discursive terrain and potential of person to person peacebuilding as it intersects with and is embedded in intercultural communication. It foregrounds the voices and discourses of participants who came together in the virtual intercultural borderlands of online exchange through a service learning project with a non-profit organization which focused on peace through education in Afghanistan primarily through English language tutoring. By analyzing the voices and perspectives of US-based tutors who are pre-service teachers of English as an Additional Language in equal measure with the voices and perspectives of adult English learners in Afghanistan, the authors examine how intercultural interactants begin to work as peacebuilders. The participants describe the profound transformations they undergo throughout their intercultural tutoring journeys.

transformations which evidence three dimensions of person to person peacebuilding the personal relational and structural Inspired by these voices the book further explores ways teachers and teacher educators of language and intercultural communication can more deliberately leverage the affordance of peacebuilding whether face to face or in the virtual intercultural borderlands of online exchange

Educating Beyond Violent Futures Francis Hutchinson,2005-06-27 As we enter the Twenty First Century it is easy to assume that worsening trends in violence will be a feature of our lives whether in our schools our societies or as a species Educating Beyond Violent Futures challenges assumptions that trends in violence are destiny and raises crucial questions about choice and engagement Drawing upon new research this book is essential reading for those who want to prepare our children for living constructively in the next century Fred Dallmayr Farah Godrej,2017-06-26 Fred Dallmayr s work is innovative in its rethinking of some of the central concepts of modern political philosophy challenging the hegemony of a modern subjectivity at the heart of Western liberalism individualism and rationalism and articulating alternative voices claims and ideas His writings productively confound the logocentrism of Western modernity while providing alternative conceptions of political community that are post individualist post anthropocentric and relational The editor has focused on work in three key areas Critical phenomenology and the study of politics The first selections focus on the philosophical roots of Dallmayr s work in two of the most innovative intellectual trends of the twentieth century phenomenology and critical theory These chapters outline some of the main arguments advanced by practitioners of phenomenology particularly existential phenomenology as well the guiding ideas of critical theory and critical Marxism while tracing Dallmayr s debt to thinkers such as Heidegger Gadamer Habermas Adorno and Merleau Ponty Cross cultural theory These readings illustrate Dallmayr s explorations beyond the confines of Western culture as this phase of his thinking turns toward what is now called cross cultural or comparative political theory In an approach that maintains its linkage with critical phenomenology Dallmayr asserts that Western or European American political theory can no longer claim undisputed hegemony rather it must allow itself to be contested amplified and corrected through a comparison with non Western theoretical traditions and initiatives Cosmopolitanism These selections explore the final phase of Dallmayr s work in which he applies his insights on cross cultural studies to the context of global politics rebutting Samuel Huntington s clash of civilizations thesis and instead arguing for a cosmopolitanism that takes a middle path between both global universalism and restrictive particularism advocating sustained dialogue and respectful mutual learning between countries and civilizations Citizenship Education in Asia and the Pacific W.O. Lee,David L. Grossman,Kerry J. Kennedy,Gregory P. Fairbrother,2013-11-11 It is a great pleasure to present this book edited by a distinguished team at the Hong Kong Institute of Education and with excellent contributors from nine countries in the region and beyond The book is a truly comparative work which significantly advances conceptual understanding The comparisons undertaken are at many levels and with different units for analysis One chapter undertakes comparison in two cities Hong Kong and Guangzhou three chapters make comparisons between two countries South Korea and Singapore Solomon Islands and Vanuatu South Korea and China and five chapters undertake comparisons across the whole region Other on individual countries or in one case on a single school In addition chapters focus several chapters examine the attitudes and roles played by individuals and groups within societies The book is thus an admirable example of the vitality of the field of comparative education in selecting different units for analysis and in examination of issues from diverse angles Within the book moreover readers will find a fascinating array of settings and environments On the one hand for example is Japan with its relatively homogenous culture a population of 126 million and a strong national identity based on language and history On the other hand is Solomon Islands which has a population of just 400 000 scattered over 1 000 islands approximately 90 indigenous languages and major social problems arising from cultural clashes economic forces political dynamics and legacies of colonialism
