Building and Rebuilding Harmony Chuenyan David Lai, Pamela Madoff, 1997 Religion and Ethnicity in Canada Paul Bramadat, David Seljak, 2009-10-10 As the leading book in its field Religion and Ethnicity in Canada has been embraced by scholars teachers students and policy makers as a breakthrough study of Canadian religious ethnic diversity and its impact on multiculturalism A team of established scholars looks at the relationships between religious and ethnic identity in Canada s six largest minority religious communities Hindus Buddhists Sikhs Jews Muslims and practitioners of Chinese religion The chapters also highlight the ethnic diversity extant within these traditions in order to offer a more nuanced appreciation of the variety of lived experiences of members of these communities Together the contributors develop consistent themes throughout the volume among them the changing nature of religious practice and ideas current demographics racism and the role of women Chapters related to the public policy issues of healthcare education and multiculturalism show how new ethnic and religious diversity are challenging and changing Canadian institutions and society Comprehensive and insightful Religion and Ethnicity in Canada makes a unique contribution to the study of world religions in Canada Empire, Nation, and Beyond Frederic E. Wakeman, Joseph Esherick, Wen-Hsin Yeh, Madeleine Zelin, 2006 Preserving an Ethnic Heritage Chuo Li, 2004 Chinese Americans Jonathan H. X. Lee, 2015-11-12 This in depth historical analysis highlights the enormous contributions of Chinese Americans to the professions politics and popular culture of America from the 19th century through the present day While the number of Chinese Americans has grown very rapidly in the last decade this group has long thrived in the United States in spite of racism discrimination and segregation This comprehensive volume takes a global view of the Chinese experience in the Americas While the focus is on Chinese Americans in the United States author Jonathan H X Lee also explores the experiences of Chinese immigrants in Canada Mexico and South America He considers why the Chinese chose to leave their home country where they settled and how the distinctive Chinese American identity was formed This volume is organized into four sections historical overview political and economic life cultural and religious life and literature the arts and popular culture Detailed essays capture the essence of everyday life for this immigrant group as they assimilated established communities and interacted with other ethnic groups Alphabetically arranged entries describe the political social and religious institutions begun by Chinese Americans and explores their roles as business owners activists and philanthropic benefactors for their communities International Books in Print , 1997 British Columbia, the Pacific Province Colin J. B. Wood, 2001 This wide ranging collection of essays focuses on the geography of British Columbia An overview of the province s geographical regions demographic characteristics and cultural variety is followed by a discussion of the physical environment including natural hazards climate vegetation and water resources The central portion addresses the geopolitical history of the Pacific Northwest and covers the geopolitics of hydroelectric power development First Nation s land claims and associated treaty negotiations Attention then shifts to Chinese immigration which has been responsible for creating the province's largest visible minority The final section reviews British Columbia's spatial economy and includes chapters on recreation and tourism land use planning mineral development energy forestry agriculture fisheries and marine conservation

Troubles in the Rainforest Trevor J. Barnes, Roger Hayter, 1997 These essays and documents analyse and prescribe solutions to the recent troubles in BC's forest industry Over the past fifteen years the industry has become the centre of a storm of controversy Environmental protests aboriginal land claims reduced quota of allowable cuts sweeping technological changes multinational involvement and changing global markets have all shaken the once entrenched faith in BC's green gold In Part One the authors look at the forest as a specific physical environment the site of disputes involving environmentalists First Nations Peoples and the government Empirical assessment of BC's forest resource base is followed by discussions on the role of government in setting the agenda for the various resource and land use conflicts dogging the industry Part Two deals with changes within the industry and in the global context The conflicting demands of new market trends and sustainable development are discussed from several points of view Important issues such as the effects of free trade and increased multinational investment the role of research and development and technological change are addressed Part Three melds ideas of sustainable growth and local economic development in single industry communities in BC This timely provocative collection will help us understand the forces of shaping the troubled landscape of British Columbia's forests
