Unfinished Places: The Politics of (Re)making Cairo's Old Quarters Gehan Selim, 2016-11-10 The Emerging Politics of Re making Cairo's Old Quarters examines postcolonial planning practices that aimed to modernise Cairo's urban spaces The author examines the expanding field of postcolonial urbanism by linking the state's political ideologies and systems of governance with methods of spatial representations that aimed to transform the urban realm in Cairo Adopting an interdisciplinary approach the study draws on planning history and politics to develop a distinctive account of postcolonial planning in Cairo following Egypt's 1952 revolution The book widely connects the ideological role of a different type of politicised urbanism practised during the days of Nasser Sadat and Mubarak and the overarching policies institutions and attitudes involved in the visions for re building a new nation in Egypt By examining the notion of remaking urban spaces the study interprets the ambitions and powers of state policies for improving the spatial qualities of Cairo's old districts since the early 20th century These acts are situated in their spatial political and historical contexts of Cairo's heterogeneous old quarters and urban spaces particularly the remaking of one of the city's older quarters named Bulaq Abul Ela established during the Ottoman rule in the thirteenth century It therefore writes in a chronological sequence a narrative through time and space connecting various layers of historical and contemporary political phases for remaking Bulaq The endeavor is to explain this process from a spatial perspective in terms of the implications and consequences not only on places but also on the people's everyday practices By deeply investigating the problems and consequences the strengths and weaknesses and the state's reliability to achieve the remaking objectives the book reveals evidence that shifting forms of governance had anchored planning practices into a narrow path of creativity and responsive planning

Architecture's Disability Problem Wanda Katja Liebermann, 2024-06-21 Architecture's Disability Problem explores the intersection of architecture and disability in the United States from the perspective of professional practice This book uncovers why despite the profound effect of the Americans with Disabilities Act on the architectural profession there has been so little interest in design for disability in mainstream architecture To counter this the book investigates alternative approaches to designing with disability through three case studies These showcase both buildings and how design processes driven by disabled people shape design and professional roles Combining historical research formal and discourse analysis and interviews with people who design construct use buildings and advocate for access the book develops a social understanding of how the buildings work at functional affective and symbolic levels Architecture's Disability Problem is aimed at three primary readers practicing architects architectural scholars and members of disability scholar activist communities Grounded in detailed design studies the author hopes to unearth the social meaning making of architecture related to disability Ultimately the book makes an argument for a focus on disability in its own right as well as on the body in place of the dominance of formal object oriented approaches This book presents and argues for a fundamental shift in the way architectural education policy and practice views and engages with disability It will be key reading for students researchers practitioners and policy makers Museum Making Suzanne Macleod, Laura Hourston Hanks, Jonathan Hale, 2012-03-15 Over recent decades many museums galleries and historic sites around the world have enjoyed an unprecedented level of large scale investment in their capital infrastructure in building refurbishments and new gallery displays This period has also seen the creation of countless new purpose built museums and galleries suggesting a fundamental re evaluation of the processes of designing and shaping of museums Museum Making Narratives Architectures Exhibitions examines this re making by exploring the inherently spatial character of narrative in the museum and its potential to connect on the deepest levels with human perception and imagination Through this uniting theme the chapters explore the power of narratives as structured experiences unfolding in space and time as well as the use of theatre film and other technologies of storytelling by contemporary museum makers to generate meaningful and it is argued here highly effective and affective museum spaces Contributions by an internationally diverse group of museum and heritage professionals exhibition designers architects and artists with academics from a range of disciplines including museum studies theatre studies architecture design and history cut across traditional boundaries including the historical and the contemporary and together explore the various roles and functions of narrative as a mechanism for the creation of engaging and meaningful interpretive environments Global Design History Glenn Adamson, Giorgio Riello, Sarah Teasley, 2011-03-15 This book gathers together a number of leading design historians whose research points the way forward aiming to address and promote changes to design history The Genesis of Roman Architecture John North Hopkins, 2016-02-09 This groundbreaking study traces the development of Roman architecture and its sculpture from the earliest days to the middle of the 5th century BCE Existing narratives cast the Greeks as the progenitors of classical art and architecture or rely on historical sources dating centuries after the fact to establish the Roman context Author John North Hopkins however allows the material and visual record to play the primary role in telling the story of Rome s origins synthesizing important new evidence from recent excavations Hopkins s detailed account of urban growth and artistic political and social exchange establishes strong parallels with communities across the Mediterranean From the late 7th century Romans looked to increasingly distant lands for shifts in artistic production By the end of the archaic period they were building temples that would outstrip the monumentality of even those on the Greek mainland The book s extensive illustrations feature new reconstructions allowing readers a rare visual exploration of this fragmentary evidence The Ambiguous Figure of the Neighbor in Jewish, Christian, and Islamic Texts and Receptions Marianne Bjelland Kartzow, 2021-09-12 This book examines an undertheorized topic in the study of religion and sacred texts the figure of the

neighbor By analyzing and comparing this figure in Jewish Christian and Islamic texts and receptions the chapters explore a conceptual shift from Children of Abraham to Ambiguous Neighbors Through a variety of case studies using diverse methods and material chapters explore the neighbor in these neighboring texts and traditions The figure of the neighbor seems like an innocent topic at the surface It is an everyday phenomenon that everyone have knowledge about and experiences with Still analytically it has a rich and innovative potential Recent interdisciplinary research employs this figure to address issues of cultural diversity gender migration ethnic relationships war and peace environmental challenges and urbanization The neighbor represents the borderline between insider and outsider friend and enemy us and them This ambiguous status makes the neighbor particularly interesting as an entry point into issues of cultural complexity self definition and identity This volume brings all the intersections of religion ethnicity gender and socio cultural diversity into the same neighborhood paying attention to sacred texts receptions and contemporary communities The Ambiguous Figure of the Neighbor in Jewish Christian and Islamic Texts and Receptions offers a fascinating study of the intersections between Jewish Christian and Islamic text and will be of interest to anyone working on these traditions The Green Braid Kim Tanzer,Rafael Longoria,2007-04-11 This volume presents the discipline s best thinking on sustainability in written drawn and built form drawing on over fifteen years of peer reviewed essays and national design awards published by the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture ACSA Providing a primer on sustainability useful to teachers and students alike the selected essays address a broad range of issues Combined with design projects that highlight issues holistically they promote an understanding of the principles of sustainability and further the integration of sustainable methods into architectural projects Using essays that alternately revise and clarify twentieth century architectural thinking The Green Braid places sustainability at the centre of excellent architectural design No other volume addresses sustainability within the context of architectural history theory pedagogy and design making this book an ideal source for architects in framing their practices and therefore their architectural production in a sustainable manner Contested Spaces: Abortion Clinics, Women's Shelters and Hospitals Lori A. Brown,2016-05-13

In this book Lori Brown examines the relationship between space defined physically legally and legislatively and how these factors directly impact the spaces of abortion It analyzes how various political entities shape the physical landscapes of inclusion and exclusion to reproductive healthcare access and questions what architecture s responsibilities are in respect to this spatial conflict Employing writing drawing and mapping methodologies this interdisciplinary project explores restrictions and legislatures which directly influence abortion policy in the US Mexico and Canada It questions how these legal rulings produce spatial complexities and why architecture isn t more culturally and spatially engaged with these spaces In Mexico where abortion is fully legal only in Mexico City during the first trimester women must travel vast distances and undergo extreme conditions in order to access the procedure Conservative state governments continue to make abortion a severely punishable crime In Canada there are nowhere near the cultural and religious stigmas to abortion as in the US and Mexico Completely legal and without restrictions Canada offers an important contrast to the ongoing abortion issues within the US and Mexico Researching the spatial implications of such a politicized space this book expands beyond a study of abortion clinic and includes other spaces such as women s shelters and hospitals that require multiple levels of secured spaces in order to discuss the spatial ramifications of access and security within spaces that are highly personal private and sometimes secret or even hidden In questioning what architecture s responsibility is in these spatial conflicts the book looks at how what architecture does can be used to reconsider the spaces and security around such contested places and ultimately suggests what design s potential impact might be In doing so it shows how architecture s role might be redefined within social and spatial practices Vision and Society John Clammer,2014-03-26 The sociology of art is now an established sub discipline of sociology But little work has been done to explore the implications not of society on art but of art on the nature and principles of sociology itself Vision and Society explores the ways in which art here mainly understood as visual art structures in fundamental ways the constitution of society the relations between societies and the ways in which society and culture should be theorized Building initially on an unfulfilled project by the French sociologist of art Nathalie Heinich to derive a sociology from art this book pushes this idea in unconventional directions Rethinking the relationships between the study of art and the study of sociology and anthropology this book explores how this rethinking might impact sociological theory in general and certain aspects of it in particular especially the study of social movements social change the urban the constitution of space and the ways in which human social relationships are mediated and expressed Totality, Charisma, Authority Mihai Murariu,2016-10-24 This interdisciplinary endeavour portrays the central features of militant movements which hold totality as an important part of their doctrinal core Revisiting the importance of modernity utopianism eschatology charisma psychology and the history of ideas Mihai Murariu pursues a reconstruction of the historical requirements for the emergence of such movements Making a central use of the concept of totalitarianism the work establishes a conceptual bridge from antiquity to the contemporary period whilst also arguing for the suitability of the term in comparison to totalitarianism or political religion The author also proposes a distinct taxonomy for structural elements variants and development phases which may be encountered in totalist movements Ways of Residing in Transformation Sten Gromark,Mervi Ilmonen,Katrin Paadam,Eli Støa,2017-05-15 Profound transformations in residential practices are emerging in Europe as well as throughout the urban world They can be observed in the unfolding diversity of residential architecture and spatially restructured cities The complexity of urban and societal processes behind these changes requires new research approaches in order to fully grasp the significant changes in citizens lifestyles their residential preferences capacities and future opportunities for implementing resilient residential practices The international case studies in this book examine why ways of residing have changed as well as the meaning and the significance of the social economic political cultural and symbolic contexts The volume brings together an interdisciplinary range of perspectives to reflect specifically upon the dynamic exchange between evolving ways of residing and professional practices in the fields of architecture and design planning policy making facilities management property and market In doing so it provides a resourceful basis for further inquiries seeking an understanding of ways of residing in transformation as a reflection of diversifying residential cultures This book will offer insights of interest to academics policy makers and professionals as well as students of urban studies sociology architecture housing planning business and economics engineering and facilities management

Feminist Practices Lori A. Brown, 2016-04-15 Women continue to be extremely under represented in the architectural profession Despite equal numbers of male and female students entering architectural studies there is at least 17 25% attrition of female students and not all remaining become practicing architects In both the academic and the professional fields of architecture positions of power and authority are almost entirely male and as such the profession is defined by a heterosexual Eurasian male perspective This book argues that it is vital for all architectural students and practitioners to be exposed to a diversity of contemporary architectural practices as this might provide a first step into broadening awareness and transforming architectural engagement It considers the relationships between feminist methodologies and the various approaches toward design and their impact upon our understanding and relationship to the built environment In doing so this collection challenges two conventional ideas firstly the definition of architecture and secondly what constitutes a feminist practice This collection of up and coming female architects and designers use a wide range of local and global examples of their work to question different aspects of these two conventional ideas While focusing on feminist perspectives the book offers insights into many different issues concerns and interpretations of architecture proposing through these types of engagement architecture can become more culturally politically and environmentally relevant This next generation of architects claim feminism as their own and through doing so help define what feminism means and how it is evolving in the 21st century

Imperial Islands Joseph R. Hartman, 2021-11-30 When the USS Maine mysteriously exploded in Havana s harbor on February 15 1898 the United States joined local rebel forces to avenge the Maine and liberate Cuba from the Spanish empire Remember the Maine To Hell with Spain So went the popular slogan Little did the Cubans know that the United States was not going to give them freedom in less than a year the American flag replaced the Spanish flag over the various island colonies of Cuba Guam Puerto Rico and the Philippines Spurred by military successes and dreams of an island empire the US annexed Hawai i that same year even establishing island colonies throughout Micronesia and the Antilles With the new governmental orders of creating new art architecture monuments and infrastructure from the United States the island cultures of the Caribbean and Pacific were now caught in a strategic scope of a growing imperial power These spatial and visual objects created a visible confrontation between local indigenous African Asian Spanish and US imperial expressions These material and visual histories often go unacknowledged but serve as uncomplicated proof for the visible confrontation between the US and the new island territories The essays in this volume contribute to an important art historical visual cultural architectural and materialist critique of a growing body of scholarship on the US Empire and the War of 1898 Imperial Islands seeks to reimagine the history and cultural politics of art architecture and visual experience in the US insular context The authors of this volume propose a new direction of visual culture and spatial experience through nuanced terrains for writing envisioning and revising US American Caribbean and Pacific histories These original essays address the role of art and architecture in expressions of state power racialized and gendered representations of the United States and its island colonies and forms of resistance to US cultural presence Featuring interdisciplinary approaches Imperial Islands offers readers a new way of learning the ongoing significance of vision and experience in the US empire today particularly for Caribbean Latinx Pilipinx and Pacific Island communities

Dwelling on the Green Line Gabriel Schwake, 2022-03-17 Analyses settlements between Israel and the West Bank the Green Line exploring the influence of geopolitics and geoeconomics on the production of space The Handbook of Contemporary Indigenous Architecture Elizabeth Grant, Kelly Greenop, Albert L. Refiti, Daniel J. Glenn, 2018-06-26 This Handbook provides the first comprehensive international overview of significant contemporary Indigenous architecture practice and discourse showcasing established and emerging Indigenous authors and practitioners from Australia Aotearoa New Zealand the Pacific Islands Canada USA and other countries It captures the breadth and depth of contemporary work in the field establishes the historical and present context of the work and highlights important future directions for research and practice The topics covered include Indigenous placemaking identity cultural regeneration and Indigenous knowledges The book brings together eminent and emerging scholars and practitioners to discuss and compare major projects and design approaches to reflect on the main issues and debates while enhancing theoretical understandings of contemporary Indigenous architecture The book is an indispensable resource for scholars students policy makers and other professionals seeking to understand the ways in which Indigenous people have a built tradition or aspire to translate their cultures into the built environment It is also an essential reference for academics and practitioners working in the field of the built environment who need up to date knowledge of current practices and discourse on Indigenous peoples and their architecture

Assembling the Centre: Architecture for Indigenous Cultures Janet McGaw, Anoma Pieris, 2014-11-13 Metropolitan Indigenous Cultural Centres have become a focal point for making Indigenous histories and contemporary cultures public in settler colonial societies over the past three decades While there are extraordinary success stories there are equally stories that cause concern award winning architecturally designed Indigenous cultural centres that have been abandoned centres that serve the interests of tourists but fail to nourish the cultural interests of Indigenous stakeholders and places for vibrant community gathering that fail to garner the economic and politic support to remain viable Indigenous cultural centres are rarely static They are places of emergence assembled and re assembled along a range of vectors that usually lie beyond the gaze of architecture How might the traditional concerns of architecture site space form function materialities tectonics be reconfigured to express the complex and varied social identities of contemporary Indigenous peoples in colonised nations This book documents a range of Indigenous Cultural Centres across the globe and the processes that led to their development It explores the possibilities for the social and political project of the Cultural Centre that architecture both inhibits and affords Whose idea of architecture counts when designing Indigenous Cultural Centres How does architectural history and contemporary practice territorialise spaces of Indigenous occupation What is architecture for Indigenous cultures and how is it recognised This ambitious and provocative study pursues a new architecture for colonised Indigenous cultures that takes the politics of recognition to its heart It advocates an ethics of mutual engagement as a crucial condition for architectural projects that design across cultural difference The book s structure method and arguments are dialogically assembled around narratives told by Indigenous people of their pursuit of public recognition spatial justice and architectural presence in settler dominated societies Possibilities for decolonising architecture emerge through these accounts

Transforming Author Museums Ulrike Spring,Johan Schimanski,Thea Aarbakke,2021-10-15 Literary museums today must respond to new challenges the traditional image of the author s home museum as a sacred place of literary pilgrimage centered around a national hero has been questioned and literary museums have begun to develop new strategies centered not only on biography but also literary texts imagined spaces different readers historical contexts architectural concepts and artistic interventions As this volume shows the changing of spaces asks how literary museums create new ways of interlinking real and literary spaces texts objects readers and tourists Capernaum Wally V. Cirafesi,2024-10-29 This book is about the history of Jews and Christians and their interaction in Capernaum from the time of Jesus until the Byzantine Islamic transition in Palestine in the seventh century Based on multidisciplinary research into both the literary and archaeological sources the book addresses socio historical questions that have vexed current scholarly and popular understanding of how this small Galilean town developed into an important place for both Jews and Christians in antiquity as well as today The book engages issues such as the following the invention of Capernaum as a modern pilgrimage tourist site under the authority of the Franciscan Custodia Terrae Sanctae the nature of the historical Jesus s relationship to the town whether or not a synagogue stood in Capernaum during the time of Jesus whether or not Jewish followers of Jesus lived in Capernaum during the second and third centuries and how the architecture of the town s domestic and monumental landscapes functioned to shape Jewish and Christian identity individually and interactively These questions are investigated within their local regional and empire wide contexts to construct a picture of the ways in which Jews and Christians lived and related to each other in Capernaum and how their relations were affected by the arrival of Islam in Palestine
