Archaeology James F. Osborne, 2014-10-24 Interdisciplinary study of monumental art and architecture in human history Monumentality is a human phenomenon that has occurred in nearly all times and places Because of its ubiquity monumentality is something that has been studied by a large number of disciplines and individuals Approaching Monumentality in Archaeology explores the phenomenon of monumental art and architecture from humankind s most ancient past to recent history and does so using an interdisciplinary approach that incorporates the research of anthropological archaeologists art historians classicists and sociologists working in a wide variety of historical and cultural contexts The volume seeks to define what is meant by the terms monument and monumentality and to understand the social and political significance of monument building as it has manifested around the world By advocating for a relational approach to the topic that seeks to find monumentality in the ongoing relationship between object and person this book offers the opportunity to begin the process of uniting these varied interests into a unified discourse The Routledge Companion to Christian Ethics

D. Stephen Long, Rebekah L. Miles, 2023-01-01 The Routledge Companion to Christian Ethics brings together two different but related disciplines the first is contemplative or theoretical asking what are the beliefs or doctrines that characterize Christianity whilst the second is practical asking what are the ethical practices that attend its teachings The movement between the theoretical and practical aspects is not however one way as doctrine and life are mutually informing In this comprehensive volume leading scholars address key topics problems and debates in this hotly debated topic within a truly global context Comprising over 35 chapters by a team of international contributors the handbook is divided into three parts based on the three persons of the Trinity God the Father God the Son and God the Holy Spirit Within these sections cutting edge issues are examined including God and genetics War peace and violence White supremacy Creation and sexuality Digital ethics Transgender studies Climate change Immigration and refugees Adopting a practical approach that must consider new concerns that have arisen with recent social political and cultural shifts The Routledge Companion to Christian Ethics is essential reading for students and researchers in Christian ethics religious ethics and Christianity studies The handbook will also be very useful for those in related fields such as ethics and philosophy The Oxford Handbook of Religious Space Jeanne Halgren Kilde, 2022 Introduction Thinking about religious space an introduction to approaches Jeanne Halgren Kilde Conceptualizing space and place genealogies of change in the study of religion Juan E Campo Hermeneutics of space sacred space Michael J Crosbie Urbanism and religious space Paul Fran ois Tremlett Shared space or mixed Robert M Hayden Decommissioning and reuse of liturgical architectures historical processes and temporal dimensions Andrea Longhi The impermanence of religious space three approaches to change in the American religiouscape Jeanne Halgren Kilde Planetary identities globalization climate change and meaning making practices Whitney A Bauman Whose place is it Layers of community and meaning in the land of Shinto and power spots Caleb Carter Religious place space in premodern China Wei Cheng Lin National treasures vs alien species religious spaces raccoons and national identity in contemporary Japan Barbara R Ambros Visualizing Himalayan Buddhist sacred sites in 3D VR pedagogy and partnership Lauren Leve and Bradley Erickson Form and function in the ancient synagogue evidence from the second to seventh centuries in Palestine and the diaspora Marilyn J Chiat A little bit of evil Masjid Kufa in Early Twelver Shi ism Najam Haider Mediated spaces of collective ritual sacred selfies at the Hajj Nadia Caidi and Mariam Karim In visible priorities epigraphic power and identity at a Jordanian state mosque David Simonowitz Exploration of religious spaces in Western Africa combining approaches to understand spaces Daniel Dei Religious spaces as tourist sites in Ghana Alice Matilda Nsiah Sacred space in 19th century Cape Town mosque city landscape and a radical empiricism of the spatial Ozayr Saloojee Mapping the spiritual Baptist universe black Atlantic cosmography and the spatiality of spirit in Trinidad and Tobago Brendan Jamal

Revolution in the Church: Challenging the Religious System with a Call for Radical Change ,2002 The Oxford History of the Renaissance Gordon Campbell,2023-05-11 Histories you can trust The Renaissance is one of the most celebrated periods in European history But when did it begin When did it end And what did it include Traditionally regarded as a revival of classical art and learning centred upon fifteenth century Italy views of the Renaissance have changed considerably in recent decades The glories of Florence and the art of Raphael and Michelangelo remain an important element of the Renaissance story but they are now only a part of a much wider story which looks beyond an exclusive focus on high culture beyond the Italian peninsula and beyond the fifteenth century The Oxford History of the Renaissance tells the cultural history of this broader and longer Renaissance from seminal figures such as Dante and Giotto in thirteenth century Italy to the waning of Spain s golden age in the 1630s and the closure of the English theatres in 1642 the date generally taken to mark the end of the English literary Renaissance Geographically the story ranges from Spanish America to Renaissance Europe s encounter with the Ottomans and far beyond to the more distant cultures of China and Japan And thematically under Gordon Campbell s expert editorial guidance the volume covers the whole gamut of Renaissance civilization with chapters on humanism and the classical tradition war and the state religion art and architecture the performing arts literature craft and technology science and medicine and travel and cultural exchange Earthing the Cosmic Christ of Ephesians, Volume 1 John P. Keenan,2021-07-28 This is the introductory volume of a multivolume verse by verse interfaith rereading of the New Testament letter to the Ephesians It looks to the Tiantai Buddhist master Zhiyi and his threefold truth to enhance our appreciation of nascent trinitarian themes in Ephesians And it draws upon a broad array of scientific theological and philosophical thinkers in aid of rejecting the epistle s ancient geocentric cosmology and its accommodations to the misogynistic patriarchal and slaveholding norms of its first century surroundings As a whole the work constitutes a twenty first century apologetic for doctrinal humility and for theologizing within a global theological commons The American Architect and Building News ,1895 The Archaeology of Byzantine Anatolia Philipp Niewöhner,2017 This book accounts for the tumultuous period of the fifth to eleventh centuries from the Fall of Rome and the collapse of the Western Roman Empire through the breakup of the Eastern Roman Empire and loss of pan Mediterranean rule until the Turks arrived and seized Anatolia The volume is divided into a dozen syntheses that each addresses an issue of intrigue for the archaeology of Anatolia and two dozen case studies on single sites that exemplify its richness Anatolia was the only major part of the Roman Empire that did not fall in late antiquity it remained steadfast under Roman rule through the eleventh century Its personal history stands to elucidate both the emphatic impact of Roman administration in the wake of pan Mediterranean collapse Thanks to Byzantine archaeology we now know that urban decline did not set in before the fifth century after Anatolia had already be thoroughly Christianized in the course of the fourth century we know now that urban decline as it occurred from the fifth century onwards was paired with rural prosperity and an increase in the number size and quality of rural settlements and in rural population that this ruralization was halted during the seventh to ninth centuries when Anatolia was invaded first by the Persians and then by the Arabs and the population appears to have sought shelter behind new urban fortifications and in large cathedrals Further it elucidates that once the Arab threat had ended in the ninth century this ruralization set in once more and most cities seem to have been abandoned or reduced to villages during the ensuing time of seeming tranquility whilst the countryside experienced renewed prosperity that this trend was reversed yet again when the Seljuk Turks appeared on the scene in the eleventh century devastated the countryside and led to a revival and refortification of the former cities This dynamic historical thread traced across its extremes through the lens of Byzantine archaeology speaks not only to the torrid narrative of Byzantine Anatolia but to the enigmatic medievalization

Yeavinger Brian Hope-Taylor,2014-07-15 This volume originally published in 1977 and long out of print but still in demand describes the excavation of a site near Wooler in Northumberland which is identified with the place called Ad Gefrin by the Venerable Bede There Edwin of Northumbria had a northern palace and there Paulinus his Roman missionary achieved mass conversions Excavation showed that the roots of Ad Gefrin stretched further back in time The site was used as a cremation cemetery from about 2000 BC Put under the plough at or after the time that a British oppidum was established on an overlooking hill it was still receiving cremations during the Roman Iron Age Then or slightly later the first element of the future township was established a palisaded enclosure rebuilt repeatedly finally by Edwin himself By the sixth century a little mortuary enclosure or shrine its inhumations clustered round the focus of the prehistoric cremation cemetery had been replaced by what appears to have been a pagan temple That preserved as part of Edwin s township was closely followed by a wooden theatre for formal assemblies which outlived Edwin The series of royal halls so closely studied here then began Edwin s was the greatest but it was neither the first nor the last Techniques of excavation were evolved specially to allow the precise recovery of the details of vanished wooden structures The author showed that archaeological enquiries into historical periods must both in questions and answers also serve the needs of students of written evidence There has been much scholarly reinterpretation of the original results but the volume stands as a record of that work

The Earliest Christian Meeting Places Edward Adams,2013-10-24 Edward Adams challenges a strong consensus in New Testament and Early Christian studies that the early Christians met almost exclusively in houses This assumption has been foundational for research on the social formation of the early churches the origins and early development of church architecture and early Christian worship Recent years have witnessed increased scholarly interest in the early house church Adams re examines the New Testament and other literary data as well as archaeological and comparative evidence showing that explicit evidence for assembling in houses is not nearly as extensive as is usually thought He also shows that there is literary and archaeological evidence for meeting in non house settings Adams makes the case that during the first two centuries the alleged period of the house church it is plausible to imagine the early Christians gathering in a range of venues rather than almost entirely in private houses His thesis has wide ranging implications

Sidewalks in the Kingdom (The Christian Practice of Everyday Life) Eric O. Jacobsen,2003-05-01 Christians often talk about claiming our cities for Christ and the need to address urban concerns But according to Eric Jacobsen this discussion has remained far too abstract Sidewalks in the Kingdom challenges Christians to gain an informed vision for the physical layout and structure of the city Jacobsen emphasizes the need to preserve the nourishing characteristics of traditional city life including shared public spaces thriving neighborhoods and a well supported local economy He explains how urban settings create unexpected and natural opportunities to initiate friendship and share faith in Christ Helpful features include a glossary a bibliography and a description of New Urbanism Pastors city dwellers and those interested in urban ministry and development will be encouraged by Sidewalks in the Kingdom
