God as Peace-Bestowing Buddha/Christ

An Amplification of Cobb's Contribution to Dialogue between Christianity and Shin Buddhism

Steve Odin

INTRODUCTION

*This essay takes up the notion of transpersonal peace as a theme for East-West comparative philosophy and Buddhist-Christian interfaith dialogue in an age of religious pluralism. There is a special focus on the ideal of Peace in Jōdo Shinshū, or True Pure Land Buddhism, based on the teachings of Shinran Shinōe (1173–1263), in relation to the organismic process theology and process cosmology of Alfred North Whitehead. The kind of pluralism involved here is a version of the deep religious pluralism articulated by process theologians John D. Cobb Jr. and David Ray Griffin, which is rooted in the pluralistic vision of Whitehead's naturalistic process theory, which recognizes at least two ultimates: Creativity and God. These two ultimates function to clarify two major kinds of religious experience—thematic and nonthematic, or devoted to a personal, forgiving God and realization of an impersonal formless reality. From the standpoint of Christian-Buddhist interfaith dialogue, the distinction between the two ultimates of Creativity and God in Whitehead's Christian process theology illuminates both the nonthematic religious experience of sunyata or sudden enlightenment in Zen Buddhism, as realization of formless emptiness, and the thematic religious*

Buddha The Christ An Explanation Of Th:

Buddha and Christ Thundy, 2018-09-24 The infancy narratives of the gospels of Matthew and Luke appear as a magnificent mosaic of allusions not only to the Hebrew Bible but also to Buddhist and Hindu religious traditions Professor Thundy argues that many details of the infancy gospels as well as the rest of the gospels can be clarified by the Buddhist and Hindu scriptures In this sense the gospels are Eastern religious texts Buddha and Christ covers the following topics in order methodology of study priority of Indian texts vis vis Christian gospels parallels of the birth narratives of Buddha and Jesus uniqueness of Indian parallels the Gnostic context of the Christian gospels and contacts between India and the West in antiquity Multicultural studies such as this encourage ecumenism and mutual understanding in East West dialogues as well as reinforcing the view that the gospels should be taken seriously as Eastern religious texts The Buddha-Christ as the Lord of the True Self Fritz Buri, 1997 This translation of a 1982 volume published in Bern Paul Haupt Verlag by a Swiss theologian with a longstanding interest in dialogue between Buddhism and Christianity features an examination of the Kyoto school of Japanese philosophers who attempted to engage with both Christianity and secular Wes Pneumatology and the Christian-Buddhist Dialogue Amos Yong, 2012-07-26 Recent thinking in Christian theology of religions has taken a pneumatological turn which asks how the doctrine of the Holy Spirit can contribute to the interreligious dialogue and to the emerging discourse of comparative theology Pneumatology and the Christian Buddhist Dialogue Does the Spirit Blow through the Middle Way tests the viability of this approach as applied to the Christian Buddhist dialogue Various Christian and Buddhist traditions are compared and contrasted within a pneumatological framework Is the Holy Spirit to be found along the Buddha s middle way Some Christians say yes while others demur The thesis of this volume is that such a pneumatological perspective opens up possibilities for the deepening and transformation of Christian theology in the religiously plural world of the twenty first century Buddhist-Christian Dialogue as Theological Exchange Ernest M. Valea, 2015-04-14 This book is intended to encourage the use of comparative theology in contemporary Buddhist Christian dialogue as a new approach that would truly respect each religious tradition s uniqueness and make dialogue beneficial for all participants interested in a real theological exchange As a result of the impasse reached by the current theologies of religions exclusivism inclusivism and pluralism in formulating a constructive approach in dialogue this volume assesses the thought of the founding fathers of an academic Buddhist Christian dialogue in search of clues that would encourage a comparativist approach These founding fathers are considered to be three important representatives of the Kyoto School Kitaro Nishida Keiji Nishitani and Masao Abe and John Cobb an American process theologian The guiding line for assessing their views of dialogue is the concept of human perfection as it is expressed by the original traditions in Mahayana Buddhism and Orthodox Christianity Following Abe s methodology in dialogue an Orthodox contribution to comparative theology proposes a reciprocal enrichment of traditions not by syncretistic means but by providing a better understanding and even correction of one's own tradition when considering it in the light of the other while using internal resources for making the necessary corrections

The Process of Buddhist-Christian Dialogue Paul O Ingram, 2011-09-29 While process philosophers and theologians have written numerous essays on Buddhist Christian dialogue few have sought to expand the current Buddhist Christian dialogue into a trilogy by bringing the natural sciences into the discussion as a third partner This was the topic of Paul O Ingram's previous book Buddhist Christian Dialogue in an Age of Science The thesis of the present work is that Buddhist Christian dialogue in all three of its forms conceptual social engagement and interior are interdependent processes of creative transformation Ingram appropriates the categories of Whitehead's process metaphysics as a means of clarifying how dialogue is now mutually and creatively transforming both Buddhism and Christianity Drawing also on the work of theologian John Hicks and philosopher of science Imre Lakatos Ingram develops an understanding of Buddhist Christian dialogue in the context of a religious pluralism that is both open and dynamic and methodologically rigorous Wide ranging and full of insight The Process of Buddhist Christian Dialogue will be invaluable to scholars and students of comparative religion

Christian Responses to Spiritual Incursions into the 21st Century Church and Society Nikolaos Asproulis, Stuart Devenish, 2020-10-30 This volume provides an account of the surprising in breaking of spiritual life that persists in our culture despite the best efforts of atheist spokespersons and secular theorists Spirituality in its varying forms is irrepressible resisting our attempts to exclude it by continuing to seep through the cracks and leak through the gaps When it is allowed to manifest itself through the Christian faith tradition it has the power to surprise transform and renew everything it touches This volume contains a series of case studies each of which describes the inner functionings and out workings of the spiritual life as a transformative point of contact between God world society and self Each chapter contains high level inquiry drawing on best practice scholarship that is deeply aware of the needs and opportunities that confront 21st century society The

Cosmic Breath Amos Yong, 2012-05-10 The interjection of pneumatology in both theologies of interreligious dialogue and in the theology and science conversation comes together in this volume The resulting Christianity Buddhism science dialogue opens up to new pneumatological perspectives on philosophical cosmology and anthropology in interdisciplinary and global context The Gospel for Buddhists and the Dharma for Christians Donovan Roebert, 2009-01-02 In this book Donovan

Roebert provides a path for Christians and Buddhists who wish to better understand the essential living tenets of their own faith while exploring how these two great religious paths can provide insights of real benefit to adherents of either Without lapsing into syncretism or demanding a departure from orthodoxy this book provides a sound and thorough basis on which Christians and Buddhists and all those seeking greater insight into faiths other than their own can explore the rich possibilities for learning from one another Beyond describing in detail the doctrines and practices of Christianity and Buddhism this book describes the authentic human path of religious development with a strong focus on the problem of self or ego in spiritual growth discussing obstacles to growth and exploring their remedies Brief histories of both religions are provided enabling the reader to understand how diversity is an inevitable consequence of historical development and rather than standing as a problem in religious dialogue is always a means to spiritual enrichment The Gospel for Buddhists and the Dharma for Christians is the fruit of a personal spiritual journey of thirty years It demonstrates that the search for religious freedom becomes richer and more rewarding when a spacious mind engages with rather than flees from religious paths outside of its own tradition Finally it is a plea for sincere friendship across factitious religious divides Notes on Books,

Buddhist-Christian Dialogue Paul O. Ingram,Frederick J. Streng,2007-04-01 The essays in this volume focus on philosophical theological and structural aspects of contemporary Buddhist Christian dialogue in an effort to assess its potential as a source for the renewal and transformation of both traditions Writing from differing assumptions academic disciplines and religious world views the nine Christian and two Buddhist contributors are nevertheless agreed that interreligious dialogue can contribute meaningfully to our understanding of some of the profound issues arising out of modern self consciousness Believing that the human community and its survival are threatened everywhere by secularism they seek to show that the dialogue between Buddhists and Christians can provide not only insights but a conceptual framework for authentic living in the present age of religious pluralism Each writer shares the conclusion that Buddhist Christian encounter is vitally important for a larger understanding of contemporary issues of self identity evil communication and fulfillment
