varied responses to encounters will certainly have effects on the archaeological record. The primary focus of the volume is the effects and processes involved in intra and inter societal encounters. The collection hence fills a theoretical and methodological gap in the study of the encounter in archaeology. There is a need for elaborating aspects of postcolonial theory in order to develop new ways of approaching the archaeological record. The articles of this volume include examples from various regions and time periods. They range from Scandinavian Stone Age through Buddhist social practices of the first millennium AD, Maya warfare and ideology to Aboriginal European encounters in 20th century Australia.

Per Cornell PhD Ass Prof is currently lecturer at the Department of archaeology, University of Gothenburg. Cornell has been involved in extensive field work in Latin America and current research topics include settlement archaeology, formation processes and social theory. Among his recent books are Local Regional Global co-edited with Per Stenborg (Gotarc 2004).
