Buena Memoriagood Memory:

Cruel Modernity Jean Franco,2013-05-29 In Cruel Modernity Jean Franco examines the conditions under which extreme cruelty became the instrument of armies governments rebels and rogue groups in Latin America She seeks to understand how extreme cruelty came to be practiced in many parts of the continent over the last eighty years and how its causes differ from the conditions that brought about the Holocaust which is generally the atrocity against which the horror of others is measured In Latin America torturers and the perpetrators of atrocity were not only trained in cruelty but often provided their own rationales for engaging in it When draining the sea to eliminate the support for rebel groups gave license to eliminate entire families the rape torture and slaughter of women dramatized festering misogyny and long standing racial discrimination accounted for high death tolls in Peru and Guatemala In the drug wars cruelty has become routine as tortured bodies serve as messages directed to rival gangs Franco draws on human rights documents memoirs testimonials novels and films as well as photographs and art works to explore not only cruel acts but the discriminatory thinking that made them possible their long term effects the precariousness of memory and the pathos of survival The Art of Post-Dictatorship Vikki Bell,2014-06-20 Since the end of the last dictatorship in 1983 Argentina s visual artists and art activists have been central to campaigns to demand the criminal prosecution of those initially granted amnesty and to a variety of commemorative projects In The Art of Post Dictatorship Ethics and Aesthetics in Transitional Argentina Vikki Bell examines this involvement and intervention She argues that the problematics that arise within the aesthetic realm cannot be understood solely through an art historical approach instead they must be understood as a constitutive part of a broader collective endeavour In this sense the art of post dictatorship is not something that belongs to art or the artists themselves but is about how the subjectivities and imaginations of new generations are constituted and entwined with questions of response ethics and justice It concerns how people align themselves between the past and the future This book will be an invaluable resource for those studying the law politics art and sociology of contemporary Argentina as well as those concerned more widely with transitional justice and the politics of memory The Routledge Hispanic Studies Companion to Twentieth and Twenty-First Century Spain Eduardo Ledesma,Luisa Elena Delgado,2025-03-11 The Routledge Hispanic Studies Companion to Twentieth and Twenty First Century Spain charts the key ideas practices and imaginings that characterize Spain s cultural historical social and political history in the contemporary period The volume brings together internationally acknowledged scholars from around the globe and from diverse disciplines from cinema and sociology to sociolinguistics politics and history as well as various other cultural studies approaches It offers an integrated multi disciplinary volume that provides a more complete and nuanced multi perspective assessment of modern and contemporary Spanish culture with a special emphasis on recent decades This interdisciplinary and thematically organized Companion includes essays on literature and art history politics religion economics linguistics and visual culture and covers an extensive period of time with a focus on key events The volume explores cutting edge areas and engages with current debates controversies and questions in the field of Hispanic studies Offering a nuanced multi disciplinary assessment of modern and contemporary Spanish culture through a dichotomic organizing principle The Routledge Hispanic Studies Companion to Twentieth and Twenty First Century Spain is an expansive resource which will be of interest to students and scholars of Hispanic studies and those with a particular interest in Spanish history politics and culture

Questioning Traumatic Heritage Ihab Saloul,Patrizia Violi,Anna Lorusso,Cristina Demaria,2025-10-01 This book takes as its object of investigation an array of traumatic heritage sites and spaces of memory including museums former detention camps and sites of commemoration in Europe Argentina and Colombia to investigate how various traumatic pasts can be preserved and transmitted through space and which kind of actions might be taken both to improve knowledge of the past and to serve as an opening to a discussion of current social issues

An Introduction to Visual Culture Nicholas Mirzoeff,2023-07-19 In the fully rewritten third edition of this classic text Nicholas Mirzoeff introduces visual culture as visual activism or activating the visible In this view visual culture is a practice a way of doing making and seeing The 12 new chapters begin with five foundational concepts including Indigenous ways of seeing visual activism in the wake of slavery and unfixing the gaze The second section outlines three currently successful tactics of visual activism removal of statues and monuments restitution of cultural property and practices of repair and reparations The final section addresses catastrophe and trauma from Palestine s Nakba to the climate disaster and the intersections of plague and war Each section also includes new in depth case studies called Visualizations ranging from oil painting to Kongo power figures and the mediated practice of taking a knee Engaging with questions of racializing colonialism and undoing gender throughout this edition maps the activist turn in the field since 2014 and sets directions for its future expansion This is a key text in visual culture studies and an essential resource for research and teaching in the field

Agency in Transnational Memory Politics Jenny Wüstenberg,Aline Sierp,2020-07-01 The dynamics of transnational memory play a central role in modern politics from postsocialist efforts at transitional justice to the global legacies of colonialism Yet the relatively young subfield of transnational memory studies remains underdeveloped and fractured across numerous disciplines even as nascent boundary crossing theories on topics such as multi vocal traveling or entangled remembrance suggest new ways of negotiating difficult political questions This volume brings together theoretical and practical considerations to provide transnational memory scholars with an interdisciplinary investigation into agency the who and the how of cross border commemoration that motivates activists and fascinates observers

The Art of Transition
Francine Masiello, 2001-09-21 Addresses the problems defined by practitioners of literary and visual culture in the post dictatorship years in Chile and Argentina

Missing Jenny Edkins, 2011-09-06 Stories of the missing offer profound insights into the tension between how political systems see us and how we see each other The search for people who go missing as a result of war political violence genocide or natural disaster reveals how forms of governance that objectify the person are challenged Contemporary political systems treat persons instrumentally as objects to be administered rather than as singular beings the apparatus of government recognizes categories not people In contrast relatives of the missing demand that authorities focus on a particular person families and friends are looking for someone who to them is unique and irreplaceable In Missing Jenny Edkins highlights stories from a range of circumstances that shed light on this critical tension the aftermath of World War II when millions in Europe were displaced the period following the fall of the World Trade Center towers in Manhattan in 2001 and the bombings in London in 2005 searches for military personnel missing in action the thousands of political disappearances in Latin America and in more quotidian circumstances where people walk out on their families and disappear of their own volition When someone goes missing we often find that we didn't know them as well as we thought there is a sense in which we are missing even to our nearest and dearest and even when we are present not absent In this thought provoking book Edkins investigates what this more profound missingness might mean in political terms Viewing Photography in Post-Dictatorship Latin America David Rojinsky,2022-11-30 This book examines the archival aesthetic of mourning and memory developed by Latin American artists and photographers between 1997-2016 Particular attention is paid to how photographs of the assassinated or disappeared political dissident of the 1970s and 1980s as found in family albums and in official archives were not only reimagined as conduits for private mourning but also became allegories of social trauma and the struggle against socio-political amnesia Memorials art installations photo essays street projections and documentary films are all considered as media for the reframing of these archival images from the era of the Cold War dictatorships in Argentina Chile Guatemala and Uruguay While the turn of the millennium was supposedly marked by the end of history and with the advent of digital technologies by the end of photography these works served to interrupt and hence belie the dominant narrative on both counts Indeed the book's overarching contention is that the viewer's affective identification with distant suffering when engaging these artworks is equally interrupted instead the viewer is invited to apprehend memorial images as emblems of national and international histories of ideological struggle Acts of Repair Natasha Zaretsky,2020-12-18 Acts of Repair explores how ordinary people grapple with political violence in Argentina a nation home to survivors of multiple genocides and periods of violence including the Holocaust the political repression of the 1976-1983 dictatorship and the 1994 AMIA bombing Despite efforts for accountability the terrain of justice has been uneven and in many cases impunity remains How can citizens respond to such ongoing trauma Within frameworks of transitional justice what does this tell us about the possibility of recovery and repair Turning to the lived experience of survivors and family members of victims of genocide and violence Natasha Zaretsky argues for the ongoing significance of cultural memory as a response to trauma and injustice as revealed through testimonies and public protests Even if such repair may be inevitably liminal and incomplete their acts seeking such repair also yield spaces for transformation and agency critical to personal and political recovery Mapping Memory Angela May Carlson-Lombardi,2002 Citizens of Memory Silvia R. Tandeciarz,2017-11-10 Citizens of Memory explores efforts at recollection in post-dictatorship Argentina and the hopes for futures they set in motion The material visual narrative and pedagogical interventions it analyzes address the dark years of state repression 1976-1983 while engaging ongoing debates about how this traumatic past should be transmitted to future generations Two theoretical principles structure the book's approach to cultural recall the first follows from an understanding of memory as a social construct that is always as much about the past as it is of the present the second from the observation that what distinguishes memory from history is affect These principles guide the study of iconic sites of memory in the city of Buenos Aires photographic essays about the missing and the dictatorship's legacies of violence documentary films by children of the disappeared that challenge hegemonic representations of seventies militancy a novel of exile that moves recollection across national boundaries and a human rights education program focused on memory Understanding recollection as a practice that lends coherence to disparate forces energies and affects the book approaches these spatial visual and scripted registers as impassioned narratives that catalyze a new attentiveness within those they hail It suggests moreover that by inciting deep reflection and an active engagement with the legacies of state violence interventions like these can help advance the cause of transitional justice and contribute to the development of new political subjectivities invested in the construction of less violent futures

School Photos in Liquid Time Marianne Hirsch, Leo Spitzer, 2019-12-30 From clandestine images of Jewish children isolated in Nazi ghettos and Japanese American children incarcerated in camps to images of Native children removed to North American boarding schools classroom photographs of schoolchildren are pervasive even in repressive historical and political contexts School Photos in Liquid Time offers a closer look at this genre of vernacular photography tracing how photography advances ideologies of social assimilation as well as those of hierarchy and exclusion In Marianne Hirsch and Leo Spitzer's deft analysis school photographs reveal connections between the histories of persecuted subjects in different national and imperial centers Exploring what this ubiquitous and mundane but understudied genre tells us about domination as well as resistance the authors examine school photos as documents of social life and agents of transformation They place them in dialogue with works by contemporary artists who reframe remediate and elucidate them Ambitious yet accessible School Photos in Liquid Time presents school photography as a new access point into institutions of power revealing the capacity of past and present actors to disrupt and reinvent them

Historical Dialogue and the Prevention of Mass Atrocities Elazar Barkan, Constantin Goschler, James Waller, 2020-04-06 This book brings together a diverse range of international voices from academia policymaking and civil society to address the failure to connect historical dialogue with atrocity prevention discourse and provide insight into how conflict histories and historical memory act as dynamic forces actively facilitating or deterring current and future conflict Established on a variety of international case studies combining theoretical and practical points of view the book envisions an integrated understanding of how historical dialogue can inform policy education and the practice of atrocity prevention In doing so it provides a vital basis for the development of preventive policies sensitive to the importance of conflict histories and for further academic study on the topic It will be of interest to all scholars and students of history psychology peace studies international relations and political science

Photography in Argentina Idurre Alonso, Judith Keller, 2017-09-15 From its independence in 1810 until the economic crisis of 2001 Argentina has been seen in the national and international collective imaginary as a modern country with a powerful economic system a massive European immigrant population an especially strong middle class and an almost nonexistent indigenous culture In some ways the early history of Argentina strongly resembles that of the United States with its march to the prairies and frontier ideology the image of the cowboy as a national symbol equivalent to the Argentine gaucho the importance of the immigrant population and the advanced and liberal ideas of the founding fathers But did Argentine history truly follow a linear path toward modernization How did photography help shape or deconstruct notions associated with Argentina Photography in Argentina examines the complexities of this country's history stressing the heterogeneity of its realities and especially the power of constructed photographic images that is the practice of altering reality for artistic expression an important vein in Argentine photography Influential specialists from Argentina have contributed essays on various topics such as the shaping of national myths the adaptation of gesture as related to the disappeared during the dictatorship period the role of contemporary photography in the context of recent sociopolitical events and the reinterpreting of traditional notions of documentary photography in Argentina and the rest of Latin America

Vulnerability in Resistance Judith Butler, Zeynep Gambetti, Leticia Sabsay, 2016-10-13 Vulnerability and resistance have often been seen as opposites with the assumption that vulnerability requires protection and the strengthening of paternalistic power at the expense of collective resistance Focusing on political movements and cultural practices in different global locations including Turkey Palestine France and the former Yugoslavia the contributors to Vulnerability in Resistance articulate an understanding of the role of vulnerability in practices of resistance They consider how vulnerability is constructed invoked and mobilized within neoliberal discourse the politics of war resistance to authoritarian and securitarian power in LGBTIQI struggles and in the resistance to occupation and colonial violence The essays offer a feminist account of political agency by exploring occupy movements and street politics informal groups at checkpoints and barricades practices of self-defense hunger strikes transgressive enactments of solidarity and mourning infrastructural mobilizations and aesthetic and erotic interventions into public space that mobilize memory and expose forms of power Pointing to possible strategies for a feminist politics of transversal engagements and suggesting a politics of bodily resistance that does not disavow forms of vulnerability the contributors develop a new conception of embodiment and sociality within fields of contemporary power Contributors Meltem Ahiska Athena Athanasiou Sarah Bracke Judith Butler Elsa Dorlin Ba ak Ert r Zeynep Gambetti Rema Hammami Marianne Hirsch Elena Loizidou Leticia Sabsay N khet Sirman Elena Tzelepis
