Globalizing Roman Culture Richard Hingley, 2005-02-08 Richard Hingley here asks the questions What is Romanization Was Rome the first global culture Romanization has been represented as a simple progression from barbarism to civilization Roman forms in architecture coinage language and literature came to dominate the world from Britain to Syria Hingley argues for a more complex and nuanced view in which Roman models provided the means for provincial elites to articulate their own concerns Inhabitants of the Roman provinces were able to develop identities they never knew they had until Rome gave them the language to express them Hingley draws together the threads of diverse and separate study in one sophisticated theoretical framework that spans the whole Roman Empire Students of Rome and those with an interest in classical cultural studies will find this an invaluable mine of information The Art of Ceramics Howard Coutts, 2001-01-01 The great age of European ceramic design began around 1500 and ended in the early 19th century with the introduction of large scale production of ceramics In this illustrated history with nearly 300 color and black and white photos and reproductions curator Howard Coutts considers the main stylistic trends Renaissance Mannerism Oriental Rococo and Neoclassicism as they were represented in such products as Italian Majolica Dutch Delftware Meissen and Sèvres porcelain Staffordshire and Wedgwood pottery He pays close attention to changes in eating habits over the period particularly the layout of a formal dinner and discusses the development of ceramics as room decoration the transmission of images via prints marketing of ceramics and other luxury goods and the intellectual background to Neoclassicism Atlantic Europe in the First Millennium BC Thomas Hugh Moore, Xosê-Lois Armada, 2011 This volume of 33 papers on the Atlantic region of Western Europe in the first millennium BC reflects a diverse range of theoretical approaches techniques and methodologies across current research and is an opportunity to compare approaches to the first millennium BC from different national and theoretical perspectives Archaeology, History, Philosophy and Heritage Christine Williamson, Penny Crook, 2025-04-15 This festschrift volume celebrates Tim Murray's significant and wide ranging contribution to archaeological thought and practice It includes 27 papers by Tim Murray's colleagues research collaborators and students former and current Together these comprise a substantive and reflective contribution to Archaeology History Philosophy and Cultural Heritage in Australia Oceania China India the United Kingdom Northern Europe and North America The collected papers in this volume tie together Murray's research into the history or historiography of archaeological thought and his commitment to understanding the material culture of the past to write history They provide a cross section of philosophical enquiries and substantive research from epistemological studies of shared lexicons and important debates in the history of archaeological thought to the minutiae of material culture studies Several papers explicitly and implicitly explore one of Murray's great interests the role of heritage preservation in our exploration of the past including dedicated tertiary training programs for Indigenous Australians to manage research and protect their own Country The book is divided into four parts

History Archaeology Philosophy and Heritage offering an interdisciplinary approach to the study of the past This volume would be of interest to archaeologists historians philosophers of archaeology and heritage scholars Familiar Past?

Sarah Tarlow,Susie West,2002-01-08 The Familiar Past surveys material culture from 1500 to the present day Fourteen case studies grouped under related topics include discussion of issues such as the origins of modernity in urban contexts the historical anthropology of food the social and spatial construction of country houses the social history of a workhouse site changes in memorial forms and inscriptions the archaeological treatment of gardens The Familiar Past has been structured as a teaching text and will be useful to students of history and archaeology From Antiquary to Archaeologist Heather

Sebire,2009-03-26 Frederick Corbin Lukis antiquarian and polymath lived in Guernsey in the Channel Islands from 1788 1871 This book is the result of many years research on his archive held at Guernsey Museum and draws heavily on the material therein highlighting it to both the general reader and the academic world It includes an initial look at the history of antiquarianism and the development of archaeology as a discipline with particular reference to the nineteenth century The development of archaeological study in Guernsey and the development of the museum service are documented alongside a biography of Lukis s life in the context in which he grew up The book includes several illustrations from the museum collections and although the content is based on research it is suitable for readers with an interest in the history of archaeology museum collections and antiquarianism This is widely recognized as a growing area of interest in heritage studies Colchester, Fortress of the War God David Radford,Adrian Gascoyne,2013-07-19 This volume is a critical assessment of the current state of archaeological knowledge of the settlement originally called Camulodunon and now known as Colchester The town has been the subject of antiquarian interest since the late 16th century and the first modern archaeological excavations occurred in 1845 close to Colchester Castle the towns most prominent historic site The earliest significant human occupation recorded from Colchester dates to the late Neolithic but it was only towards the end of the 1st century BC that an oppidum was established in the area This was superseded initially by a Roman legionary fortress and then the colonia of Camulodunum on a hilltop bounded on the north and east by the river Colne There is little evidence for continuing occupation here in the early post Roman period but in 917 the town was re established as a burgh and gradually grew in importance After the Norman Conquest a castle was built on the foundations of the ruined Roman Temple of Claudius and a priory and an abbey were established just to the south of the walled town Although the town as elsewhere was affected by the Dissolution of the Monasteries and the English Civil War it remained essentially medieval in character until the 18th century During the 19th century this process of change was accelerated by the arrival of the railway industrialisation and the establishment of the military garrison Since the 1960s Colchester has been subject to recurring phases of re development the most recent having ended only in 2007 which have had a significant impact on the historic environment Fortunately the town is one of the best studied in the country The Roman House in Britain Dominic

Perring,2002-06 Recent studies have tended to seek explanations for the peculiarities of Romano British architecture in local tradition but this book shows how Britain embraced and elaborated Hellenistic ideas and spatial forms Roman houses were built to sustain power and Roman architecture gained currency in Britain because of its relevance to new political structures erected in the wake of conquest Historical Archaeology Pedro Paulo A. Funari,Martin Hall,Sian Jones,2013-03-07

Historical Archaeology demonstrates the potential of adopting a flexible encompassing definition of historical archaeology which involves the study of all societies with documentary evidence It encourages research that goes beyond the boundaries between prehistory and history Ranging in subject matter from Roman Britain and Classical Greece to colonial Africa Brazil and the United States the contributors present a much broader range of perspectives than is currently the trend Robert Willis (1800-1875) and the Foundation of Architectural History Alexandrina Buchanan,2013 The first full scale biography of Robert Willis the founding father of architectural history WINNER of the Cambridge Association for Local History book award 2016 Robert Willis was the archetypal nineteenth century polymath Officially as Jacksonian Professor of Natural and Experimental Philosophy at the University of Cambridge he specialized in the study of mechanism which he also taught at the Royal School of Mines in London In the field of science he was an experimentalist inventor and educational innovator Meanwhile in his spare time he pursued his passion pioneering the serious study of architectural history Initially his work was aimed at architects his role in providing an intellectual underpinning to the contemporary Gothic Revival was acknowledged by the award of the gold medal of the Royal Institute of British Architects in 1862 However his main contribution was more historical Starting with Canterbury in 1844 over the course of his career he investigated almost every English cathedral and developed an approach combining documentary and archaeological research which remains in use today His studies culminated in the monumental Architectural History of the University of Cambridge still the definitive account of its subject In this fascinating and lavishly illustrated intellectual biography drawn from extensive archival and architectural research the author sheds new light on the interconnections between Willis s varied fields of interest and his fundamental role in the creation of a discipline ALEXANDRINA BUCHANAN is both an architectural historian and an archivist her introduction to archives came through cataloguing the papers of Robert Willis at the Cambridge University Library She is now Lecturer in Archive Studies at the University of Liverpool Land, Sea and Home John Hines,Alan Lane,Mark Redknap,2024-11-15 The twenty eight papers in this volume explore the practical life domestic settings landscapes and seascapes of the Viking world Their geographical horizons stretch from Iceland to Russia with particular emphasis on new discoveries in the Scandinavian homelands and in Britain and Ireland With a rich combination of disciplinary perspectives new interpretations are presented of evidence for buildings and technology navigation trade and military organization the ideology of place and cultural interactions and comparisons between Viking and native groups Together these reveal the multivalent importance of settlement archaeology and history for an understanding of the pivotal phase

within the Middle Ages that was the Viking Period Making Sense of an Historic Landscape Stephen Rippon, 2012-07-12 This volume explores how the archaeologist or historian can understand variations in landscapes Making use of a wide range of sources and techniques including archaeological material documentary sources and maps Rippon illustrates how local and regional variations in the historic landscape can be understood Meeting Places: Scientific Congresses and Urban Identity in Victorian Britain Louise Miskell, 2016-04-22 The promotion of knowledge was a major preoccupation of the Victorian era and beginning in 1831 with the establishment of the British Association for the Advancement of Science a number of national bodies were founded which used annual week long meetings held each year in a different town or city as their main tool of knowledge dissemination Historians have long recognised the power of cultural capital in the competitive climate of the mid Victorian years as towns raced to equip themselves with libraries newspapers Lit and Phil societies and reading rooms but the staging of the great annual knowledge festivals of the period have not previously been considered in this context The four national associations studied are the British Association for the Advancement of Science BAAS the National Association for the Promotion of Social Science NAPSS the Royal Archaeological Institute RAI and the Royal Agricultural Society of England RASE who held annual meetings in 62 different provincial towns and cities from 1831 to 1884 In this book it is contended that these meetings were as important as royal visits and major civic ceremonies in providing towns with an opportunity to promote their own status and identity By deploying a wealth of primary source material much of which has not been previously utilised by urban historians this book offers a new and genuinely Britain wide perspective on a period when comparison and competition with neighbouring places was a constant preoccupation of town leaders

Medieval Archaeology Chris Gerrard, 2003-10-04 Chris Gerrard looks at the people and excavations that have been important in medieval archaeology and the core theory and methodology used creating an essential text for all medieval archaeologists Cultural Transition in the Chilterns and Essex Region, 350 AD to 650 AD John T. Baker, 2006 This comparison of the archaeological evidence from the fourth to seventh centuries AD in the Chilterns and Essex regions focuses on the considerable body of place name data from the area The counties of Hertfordshire Middlesex Essex and parts of Buckinghamshire Bedfordshire and Cambridgeshire are included Histories of Egyptology William Carruthers, 2014-07-11 Histories of Egyptology are increasingly of interest to Egyptologists archaeologists historians and others Yet particularly as Egypt undergoes a contested process of political redefinition how do we write these histories and what or who are they for This volume addresses a variety of important themes the historical involvement of Egyptology with the political sphere the manner in which the discipline stakes out its professional territory the ways in which practitioners represent Egyptological knowledge and the relationship of this knowledge to the public sphere Histories of Egyptology provides the basis to understand how Egyptologists constructed their discipline Yet the volume also demonstrates how they construct ancient Egypt and how that construction interacts with much wider concerns of society and of the making of the modern world The Quoit Brooch Style and Anglo-Saxon Settlement Seiichi Suzuki, 2000 The quoit brooch style a decorative style of animal and geometric motifs is unique to southern England in the 5th century AD with the greatest concentration of such items occurring in Kent The author defines the style through an analysis of its design organization and by comparing it with near contemporary styles in England and on the continent he identifies those features which make it unique Antiquity, 1996 Includes section Reviews Coinage and Identity in the Roman Provinces Christopher Howgego, Volker Heuchert, Andrew Burnett, 2005-05-05 Coins were the most deliberate of all symbols of public communal identities yet the Roman historian will look in vain for any good introduction to or systematic treatment of the subject Sixteen leading international scholars have sought to address this need by producing this authoritative collection of essays which ranges over the whole Roman world from Britain to Egypt from 200 BC to AD 300 The subject is approached through surveys of the broad geographical and chronological structure of the evidence through chapters which focus on ways of expressing identity and through regional studies which place the numismatic evidence in local context Worlds of Arthur Guy Halsall, 2013-02-14 The story of King Arthur probably the most famous and certainly the most legendary of medieval kings

The Top Books of the Year Building On The Past Papers Celebrating The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous compelling novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have captivated audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Building On The Past Papers Celebrating : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papan, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and thrilling novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
