Whittaker, Focusing on a program Homebuilders that has attracted national attention this book develops implications for family centered curricula in such areas as social policy direct practice program design management practice research theory and prevention

Programs and Interventions for Maltreated Children and Families at Risk Allen Rubin, 2011-10-14 Evidence based interventions are increasingly being required by third party payers and an evidence based orientation has come to define ethical practice This compendium of short how to chapters focuses on the programs and interventions to prevent child maltreatment that have the best scientific evidence supporting their effectiveness Interventions and programs discussed include Cognitive Behavioral Therapy EMDR Multisystemic Therapy Coping Cat and many more Busy practitioners will appreciate this book s implementation of evidence based practices by providing the practical and what now rather than using the typical academic approach Delivering Home-based Services Susan F. Allen, Elizabeth M. Tracy, 2009 Service providers are increasingly called upon to serve clients at home a setting even a seasoned professional can find difficult to negotiate From monitoring the health of older populations to managing paroled offenders preventing child abuse and reunifying families home based services require models that ensure positive outcomes and address the ethical dilemmas that might arise in such sensitive contexts The contributors to this volume are national experts in diverse fields of social work practice policy and research Treating the home as an ecological setting that guides human development and family interaction they present rationales for and overviews of evidence based models across an array of populations and fields of practice Part 1 provides historical background and contemporary applications for home based services highlighting ethical administrative and supervision issues and summarizing the social policies that shape service delivery Part 2 addresses home based practice in such fields as child and adult mental health school social work and hospice care detailing the particular population being treated the policy and agency context theories and empirical data and practice guidelines Part 3 the editors present a unifying framework and suggest future directions for home based social work Joint Care of Parents and Infants in Perinatal Psychiatry Anne-Laure Sutter-Dallay, Nine M-C Glangeaud-Freudenthal, Antoine Guedeney, Anita Riecher-Rössler, 2015-10-19 This book addresses key issues in perinatal mental health and discusses the different types of psychiatric care that may be appropriate for pregnant women parents and infants with emphasis on the need for joint care The wide range of preventive measures mainly applicable in primary care and the various potential curative interventions are examined in detail with coverage of ambulatory care day care and the role of mother and baby units The importance of working in networks and joint decision making strategies is explained In addition an overview of maternal perinatal psychopathology is provided and other relevant aspects are fully discussed including the establishment of parent infant interactions and the impacts of parental psychiatric illness on parenting skills and infant development The book will be invaluable for adult and child psychiatrists psychologists psychotherapists midwives nurses and all others involved in the provision of perinatal psychiatric care

Home-based Services for Troubled Children Ira M. Schwartz, Philip AuClaire, 1995-01-01 There is mounting interest in services to strengthen families and if possible to keep them together preventing unnecessary and costly out of home placements Unfortunately although these programs are proliferating throughout the country many are developing without the benefit of existing historical conceptual and scholarly data information needed to make sound fiscal policy and programmatic decisions This book fills this critical void with a systematic examination of home based services for abused neglected delinquent and emotionally disturbed children and their families With the most authoritative research on the topic to date this book will be of interest to practitioners policymakers and child advocates

Encyclopedia of Social Work, 1965 Handbook of Drug Abuse Prevention Zili Sloboda, William J. Bukoski, 2007-08-06 There are a number of reasons why this book is important First there is no one source that summarizes what we know about the prevention of substance abuse from the research field so the book serves as a repository of accumulated knowledge on prevention theory intervention design and development and prevention research methodology Second as an evolving field prevention science has only begun to assert itself in both the arenas of practice and policy The formation of the Society for Prevention Research in 1991 was the first recognition that a science of prevention existed and required a separate forum to present the rapidly growing content of the field for discussion and review Finally there is a need to establish a baseline a reference point against which progress in the field of prevention science can be assessed This book serves all of these purposes The idea for this book grew from the observation in the early 1990s that after decades of attempts to develop effective interventions to prevent drug use among children and adolescents in the United States that we were finally having success particularly in addressing the initiation of use These successes are the result of research that has provided a better understanding of the factors and processes associated with the onset of substance use

Home-based Services for Children and Families National Clearinghouse for Home-Based Services to Children, 1979 Home-visiting Strategies Terry Eisenberg Carrilio, 2007 A step by step handbook for in home case management from a veteran caregiver

Encyclopedia of Adolescence Roger J.R. Levesque, 2011-09-05 The Encyclopedia of Adolescence breaks new ground as an important central resource for the study of adolescence Comprehensive in breath and textbook in depth the Encyclopedia of Adolescence with entries presented in easy to access A to Z format serves as a reference repository of knowledge in the field as well as a frequently updated conduit of new knowledge long before such information trickles down from research to standard textbooks By making full use of Springer's print and online flexibility the Encyclopedia is at the forefront of efforts to advance the field by pushing and creating new boundaries and areas of study that further our understanding of adolescents and their place in society Substantively the Encyclopedia draws from four major areas of research relating to adolescence The first broad area includes research relating to Self Identity and Development in Adolescence This area covers research relating to identity from early adolescence through emerging adulthood basic aspects of development e g biological cognitive social and foundational developmental theories In addition this area focuses on various types of identity gender sexual civic moral political racial spiritual religious and so forth The second broad area centers on Adolescents Social and Personal Relationships This area of research examines the nature and influence of a variety of important relationships including family peer friends sexual and romantic as well as significant nonparental adults The third area examines Adolescents in Social Institutions This area of research centers on the influence and nature of important institutions that serve as the socializing contexts for adolescents These major institutions include schools religious groups justice systems medical fields cultural contexts media legal systems economic structures and youth organizations Adolescent Mental Health constitutes the last major area of research This broad area of research focuses on the wide variety of human thoughts actions and behaviors relating to mental health from psychopathology to thriving Major topic examples include deviance violence crime pathology DSM normalcy risk victimization disabilities flow and positive youth development
